Whitehall, April 14, 1916.

The KING was pleased, on Saturday, the 8th instant, at Buckingham Palace, to present to Lieutenant-Commander Arthur Richard Shaw Warden, R.N., the Albert Medal of the First Class, which was conferred upon him by His Majesty for gallantry in saving life, as detailed below:

On the morning of the 26th October, 1915, the Orderly Officer on duty at the Bassin Loubet, Boulogne, was informed that a fire had broken out in the after hold of the S.S. "Maine" Ammunition Ship, in which a quantity of high explosives was stowed, and he at once reported the fact to Lieutenant-Commander Warden, at the Office of the Naval Transport Officer.

In the meantime the ship was abandoned by her officers and crew, and steps were taken by the local fire brigade to rig the shore fire hoses.

Lieutenant-Commander Warden immediately proceeded on board, and on arrival at the after hold found smoke issuing from between the high explosive cases in the centre of the hatch. He went down into the hold, lifted up one of the cases, and called for the fire hose, which was passed to him by Private Edward Gimble, 1st Battalion, Middlesex Regiment, who had followed him on board.

This case, and the one next to it, were alight on their adjacent sides. Lieutenant-Commander Warden played the hose on them and extinguished the fire. Subsequent investigation showed that the fire was in all probability due to the ignition by friction or spontaneous combustion of amorphous phosphorus, which had leaked from boxes containing that substance stowed above the cases containing the high explosives.

There is little doubt that the prompt and gallant action of Lieutenant-Commander Warden prevented an explosion which would have had serious and possibly disastrous results with almost certain loss of life.

The Albert Medal of the Second Class has been awarded to Private Gimble.

To make provision as to the acquisition by the Company, compulsorily or by agreement, of such easements or rights in or over lands as may be necessary or expedient for or in connection with the construction, maintenance or use of the intended railways and works in lieu of purchasing or acquiring such lands or any greater or other estate or interest therein than such easements or rights as aforesaid.

To exempt the Company from the provisions of section 92 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, and to empower them to purchase part only of any house, building or manufactory which may be required for the purposes of the intended Act without being obliged or compellable to purchase any greater part or the whole thereof, and to empower the Company to purchase or acquire compulsorily or by agreement easements or rights in, over or under any lands or any house, building, manufactory or other property without being required to purchase or acquire such lands, house, building, manufactory or other property or any portion thereof.

To empower the Company on such terms and conditions and on payment of such tolls, rates and charges or for such other consideration as may be agreed on or may be settled by arbitration or be provided by the Bill to run over and use with their engines, carriages and wagons and clerks, officers and servants whether in charge of or accompanying any engines or trains or for other purposes and for the purposes of their traffic of every description

To empower the Company and the Great Central Railway Company to enter into and carry into effect agreements with reference to the construction and maintenance of any of the intended works so far as such works may affect the Manchester and Ashton Canal of that Company.

To confirm any such agreement as aforesaid which may already have been or which at any time hereafter may be entered into in relation to any of the matters aforesaid.

To provide (if thought fit) that the railways proposed to be authorized by the Bill shall be private railways, and that such railways and any other works authorized by the Bill and any property acquired by the Company under the powers sought by the Bill shall form part of the undertaking of the Company.

To confer upon the Company all such further or other powers, and to make all such further or other provisions as may be necessary or expedient for more effectually securing the objects of the intended Act.
