

Temp. Lt. Arthur Truman Lowes, Can. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He showed great courage and skill in leading his men forward over the open to reinforce part of the line. Later, he materially assisted in repulsing three enemy attacks.

Capt. Addison Alexander Mackenzie, Can. Mtd. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He carried out a daring reconnaissance of the enemy's wire in daylight. Later, he led his Company with great courage and determination, greatly assisting the bombers by sniping the enemy as they brought up reinforcements.

Lt. Frank Alphonse Ney, Can. Mtd. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led a party of reinforcements over the open under heavy fire, displaying great courage and initiative. Later, he established a block and organised a successful counter-attack.

Lt. Joseph O'Regan, Can. Mtd. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led a successful bombing attack against very superior forces of the enemy, displaying great courage and determination. Later, he established a block and rescued many wounded men.

Lt. George Randolph Pearkes, Can. Mtd Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led a bombing party with great courage and determination, clearing 600 yards of trench and capturing eighteen prisoners. Later, although wounded, he remained at duty until the Battalion was relieved.

Lt. Ernest Alfred Robinson, R. Can. Regt

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He carried out a daring reconnaissance, obtained valuable information, and assisted in rescuing three wounded men under very heavy fire.

Lt. Allen Shortt, Can. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his company was held up, with five men he succeeded in bombing a machine gun and putting it out of action. Later, he returned across "No Man's Land" under heavy fire in daylight to give information on the situation.

Lt. William John Wallace, Can. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He showed great courage in leading three separate bombing attacks on an enemy position. He was wounded.

NEW ZEALAND FORCE.

2nd Lt. Valentine Stocker, N.Z. Fd. Arty.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He remained for two days in the telephone pit of his battery to answer calls under most intense fire. Later, although severely wounded, he remained at his post. He has previously done very fine work.

SOUTH AFRICAN FORCE.

Temp. Capt. Alfred Edward Rann, S. African Hy. Arty.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He showed great courage and skill as observation officer, and sent in most valuable information throughout the operations. He has previously done fine work.

The undermentioned have been awarded a Bar to their Military Cross for subsequent acts of conspicuous gallantry:—

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Arthur Gordon Cade, M.C., Midd^x R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company with great courage and determination, destroying an enemy machine gun and killing the team. He maintained his position for five days under very trying circumstances.

(The award of the Military Cross was published in Lond. Gaz. dated 23rd June 1915.)

Temp. Capt. David Duncan Craig, M.C., M.D., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He tended the wounded throughout the operations with great courage and skill, frequently passing through enemy barrages and going into the open. He set a splendid example.

(The award of the Military Cross was published in Lond. Gaz. dated 23rd June 1915.)

2nd Lt. Harry Gauthern, M.C., R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He carried out a valuable reconnaissance previous to the attack. Later, he led his company with great courage and determination. He was wounded.

(The award of the Military Cross was published in Lond. Gaz. dated 14th Nov. 1916.)

Capt. James Edmund Hibbert, M.C., S. Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. On finding some men belonging to two different infantry regiments held up by an enemy block, he jumped over the block and shot an enemy officer, thereby greatly assisting in the capture of this strong point. He was wounded.

(The award of the Military Cross was published in Lond. Gaz. dated 3rd June 1916.)

Temp. Capt. Ivan Clarkson Maclean, M.C., M.D., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He tended and dressed the wounded continuously throughout the operations under very heavy fire, displaying great courage and determination.

(The award of the Military Cross was published in Lond. Gaz. dated 23rd June 1915.)

Temp. 2nd Lt. Charles Enverdale Park, M.C., R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He, accompanied by a corporal and a party of men, worked for one hour under intense fire