Falmouth Septemb. 28.

Several ships are lately come in here from the Barbadoes, Virgini, and the neighbouring Plantations.

Plymouth, Septemb. 29. This day put in here by contrary winds the Mary-Rose and Antelope, two of His Majesties Bregats from Lisbonne, having on board them many of the Officers and Soldiers which were lately dismissed from the service of that Crown; they expect a fair wind to convey them to Portsmouth.

Several ships are also arrived here from Barbadoes and Ansego.

Legorn, Septemb. 24. The 16th instant the Duke de Chaulnes in his return from his Ambassy in Rome, arrived at this Port about two hours after the Sun set, but the Gates being shut was not admitted entrance till the next morning, when some dispute arising about the Ceremony of saluting, it was at last agreed, that upon the landing of the Ambassador, his own Gallies should salute him, which they accordingly did with five Guns, which the Castle answered with four.

A French ship lately coming in from Constantinople informs us, that eighteen days since she met with the Popes Gallies and those of Malta riding near Cerigo, from whom the Master was informed, that those with a Squadron of others belonging to the Venetians had put above three thousand fresh men into Candia, with great quantities of Ammunition and other necessaries, which has much encouraged the besieged, and as much disheartened the Turks; inasmuch as 'tis now hoped they will not be able this year to satisfy the expectation and hopes of the Visier.

They farther told him that the Turkish Gallies were at Soto, and the men of War of Barbary retired; that the Venetian Gallies were drawn into the Port of Candia, and that the body of their Fleet was riding near Sancto Todero.

The Dutch Convoy from Smirna sailed the twenty second instant for Cadix on their way homewards. The Korterland Convoy may follow them toward the end of this week.

Lisbonne, Septemb. 26. Here arrived lately four French men of War of considerable force, intending in few days to return again for Rochelle.

Genoua, Sept. 26. The last night arrived here the Prudent Mary, a Merchant Ship, from London, Cadix, and Alicant, at the last of which places she left near a fortnight since the William and Nicholas, with the Daniel and Roger from Lisbon, and one Irish ship bound for Legorn. Two better ships are in view, entering this Port from the Westward, which we suppose likewise to be English.

From Finale we are told of the arrival there of the Admiral Gally of Majorta with 500 Souldiers, which are to be disposed of in the State of Milan.

From Milan they write that the Marquis de Mortara, the New Governour, hath since his publick Entry received the Compliments of all the Principall Persons living within his Government, and is busily employed in taking an exact account of the state of the Country.

'Tis believed he intends to reduce the 3 German Regiments of Foot to a lesser number, and to send into Flanders three Tertia's of Italian foot, which will ease the people under his Government, of a great part of their burthen.

Venice, Septemb. 29. From Smirna we are advised that the Squadrons of the Neapolitan and Sicilian Gallies were very seasonably and happily arrived at Candia, where they landed above a thousand choice and able Soldiers; and that the next day after they put in likewise another Convoy with a considerable number of Soldiers, and a large quantity of Ammunition, with which welcome supplies the besieged were infinitely encouraged, inasmuch as in four days after their arrival, they made a full sally upon the Turks before the Fort St. Andre, where they did considerable execution, and destroyed some of their Works. The Turks then retreating, would have drawn our men to have pursued them over their Mines; but his Art failing them, they in great numbers returned again to the Fight, and with much eagerness pressed upon our men, who counterfeited a flight, drew the Turks upon a Mine which they had prepared for them near the Fort Panigra, where making a stand, they gave fire to the Train and blew up some hundreds of the Enemy, the rest going off in much disorder.

The Turks still continue from their two Posts to ply hard upon the Forts di Sabionera and St. Andre, so wick they had made very near approaches, having lodged themselves in the Ditches of the former, from whence they endeavoured by a Mine to blow up part of the Courtyne; but the effect answered not their expectation, the execution falling upon their own people with but little damage to the Works, which the besieged are repairing with all possible diligence.

On the other side all care is taken by Countermines to prevent the Enemies attempts on the Fort St. Andie, and to beat them off; a Batterie of six Guns is lately raised near the Ravelin de Santo Spirito near adjoining, which are so well plyed, that the Enemy will not long be able to continue their Post on that side.

His Excellency Signior Tadio Morosini, who is to succeed in the Command of the Fleet, went on Saturday last to embark himself, and may depart with the first fair wind with the Convoy under his Command, on which are sent a considerable number of men and a large proportion of Ammunition and other necessaries. The Squadron which about the end of the last month went hence under the Command of General Baraja, departed the 12th instant from Zante with a fair wind, and we believe are before this safely arrived at Candia.

By some private Letters lately received from Zante we have advice, that the Captain Balla waying all occasions of engaging our Armata, had dismissed the men of War of Barbary as being of no farther use to him for the present.

They confirm the news of the entrance of three thousand fresh men into Candia; farther affirming, that the besieged encouraged by their arrival, made a lusty sally upon the Turks lying before the Sabionera, beating them from their Works, and carrying away with them, Six pieces of Canon which were planted on them, which had caused the Visier to withdraw his people above Forty paces back from the Post which they had formerly taken up.

Dantzic, Septemb. 29. Since the Kings resignation of his Crown into the hands of the States, the Arch-Bishop has issued out his Orders for a Convocation to be held on the fifth of November next ensuing at Warsaw, in Order whereunto, the preparatory Land-days are to be held in their respective Provinces the 5th of October. As soon as the King had left the Castle, the Primate, according to custom some assumed the Jurisdiction and Administration of affairs during the Interregnum, and holds his Court within the Castle, where he sits in Council with the Deputies of the States, giving out Orders for the management of all things till the next General Assembly of the States.

Hambourgh, Oct. 2. General Wrangel with the Field-Marshal Horne, the now Governor of the Duchy of Bremen, are still at Staad, taking a View of the Army, where the Queen Christina is entertained by them with much magnificence. 'Tis said the States of Sweden have taken the business of this Queen into consideration, and offered her an Assignment of the Pension allowed her from the Crown of Sweden, either upon the Duchy of Bremen or Pomerania, at her Election; which affair as soon as she shall have settled, she intends again to make a Voyage to Rome, where already preparation is making for her reception.

From Vienna, Letters of the 23 past inform us of the arrival there of a Prince of the house of Gonzague from Mantua, who immediately passed hence to the Imperial Court at Bersdof, where he has had Audience and a Gracious Reception from the Emperor and both the Emperesses.

Their late Letters from Hungary affirm that the Turks have drawn together about five thousand men, and had begun to make Trenches and Fortifications about a Village between Neuhausel and Nouigred, and that a Chiaus was lately arrived at Raab, from whence he was in few days intending to depart on his way for Vienna.

Paris, Octob. 6. His Majesty being somewhat indisposed in his health at Chambourg, intends to depart thence on Munday next, and to return to St. Germain.

From Toulon we are informed, that the 25th past, the Comte de St. Paul put to sea with the Duke de Chateau Thierry, the Duke de Roannez, and above six hundred Officers and Soldiers upon the Syrene, a man of War of 48 Guns commanded by the Chevalier de Beaumont, but that the winds not rightly serving, 'twas believed they could not that day be much advanced on their way.

His Majesty has lately reduced the number of his Secretaries, and made a Regulation in the Offices and Privileges of those whom he retains in his service.

From Switzerland we are advised that the Protestant Cantons have sent some Companies with Ammunition and Provisions to Guarda, to be there in readiness for the assistance of the City of Geneva in case of exigence, which they did upon a report that the Duke of Savoy had demurred upon the ratification of the late Treaty with that City.

A Courier lately arriving from the Sieur Rouille, his Majesties Resident in Switzerland, informs us, that the Cantons have no intention of quitting their Alliance with His Majesty, if he pleases to continue the Articles last agreed on, and to re-establish the pay of the Swisses entertain'd in his service according to the ancient method, giving seven Crowns a month to each Soldier of his Regiment of Guards, and six a piece to those of the other Companies; but that otherwise they shall be forced to recall them.

The last Ordinary brought Letters from Monsieur de St. Andre Montbrun, importing, that the Popes General, Baly Vincenzo Rospigliosi, had landed two thousand of his men taken from his Gallies, with whom he put himself into the Town of Candia, where was also arriv'd the Generalissimo Morosini with the like number of Soldiers drawn out of the Venetian Armaz, with which assistance they hope to be able to frustrate all the attempts of the Turks.

Hague, Octob. 7. The Envoye from the Republick of Venice has received the Ratifications of the Treaty between the said Republick and the Dukes of Lunenburg for the four thousand men which they have agreed to send them for their assistance in the defence of Candia, and accordingly the States have given out Orders for the passing of two thousand four hundred of the Lunenburg forces (which were engaged in) but are now dismissed their service) with all convenient speed to the Texel, the remainder of them to be sent away towards Lunenburg, and have taken care for the prevention of all disorders in their march.

From Mastricht we are informed, that 200 volunteer Horse are marching thence for the Maline under the Command of the Sieur St. de Casvelis, and the Count de Cassel, with whom intend to joyn also the Count de Nassaw with a Troop of 80 Horse.

The Prince of Orange continues yet at Breda, but intends in few days to pass from thence into Guelderland.

The second instant arrived at Musling a ship from the Caribes Islands, informing that there happened in July last a great Earthquake at Martinego and Guadalupe, with so violent a Storm and Hurricane, that several ships over-set and perished by it.

From Cleves we are told, that Major General Spaen has lately received Orders from His Highness the Elector of Brandenburg, to cause all his Cavalry and eight hundred of his Foot to march towards the Frontiers of Brandenburg.

Malines, Oct. 9. The Constable being now entered upon the Government of these Countries, sets himself with much application to understand the state of all things here. He has lately made choice of Sir Mark Ognate to go and complement his Majesty of Great Britain in his Excellencies name, upon his being invested in the Government, and to pay him the respects usual in like occasions; who is accordingly fitting himself for the Voyage.

Bruges, Octob. 10. The second instant the Marquis de Cassel Rodrigo having resigned his Government into the hands of the Constable of Castile, left Malines, and went that night to Ghent, and from thence afterwards to Antwerp, where he as yet continues, intending in few days to depart thence for His land.

Some dispute has lately risen at Antwerp between a Regiment of Spaniards and another of Walloons, which rose to that height, that coming to blows, some persons were killed on both sides.

At Ipres lately happened a contest between the Town and the Soldiery, occasioned by a Captain of Horse, who having upon a small provocation killed his Landlord in his own house, to which fact he had likewise drawn in his own servant, they were both immediately seized and carried before the Civil Magistrate, who proceeded to their condemnation, which was ill relented by the Soldiery, but after some debates, the Magistrate was at last contented to deliver them over to a Council of War, by whose sentence the Captain and his man were shot to death, to the satisfaction of the Town.

Lime, Septemb. 30. Yesterday arrived here several ships from St. Maloes and Morlaix with the Commodities of those parts, informing us that the Plague still continues in Normandy, so that all intercourse is forbidden between that and other Provinces, and that the French were busily employed in increasing the number of their men of War; and that several ships are sitting up at Brest and other Ports, but with what intentions is not said.
