

FOURTH SUPPLEMENT TO The London Gazette.

Of FRIDAY, the 15th. of JUNE, 1917.

Published by Authority.

The Gazette is registered at the General Post Office for transmission by Inland Post as a newspaper. The postage rate to places within the United Kingdom, for each copy, is one halfpenny for the first 6 ozs., and an additional halfpenny for each subsequent 6 ozs. or part thereof. For places abroad the rate is a halfpenny for every 3 ounces, except in the case of Canada, to which the Canadian Magazine Postage rate applies.

MONDAY, 18 JUNE, 1917.

War Office,
18th June, 1917.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to award a Bar to the Distinguished Service Order to:—

Maj. (temp. Lt.-Col.) Austin Claude Girdwood, D.S.O., North'd Fus., attd. Bord. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when he made a daring and invaluable reconnaissance under heavy rifle and machine gun fire. He concentrated his battalion in daylight, and organised a most successful attack over 200 yards of open ground.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 27th September, 1901.)

Maj. (temp. Lt.-Col.) Roland Haig, D.S.O., Rif. Bde., attd. R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his battalion during an attack on the enemy's position. The success of this attack was due to the ability and energy with which he trained his battalion, made his preparations and handled the troops under his command during the battle.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 18th February, 1915.)

Maj. (temp. Lt.-Col.) John Hamilton Hall, D.S.O., Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his battalion. His initiative and good leading and the determined way in which he pressed the attack of his battalion home greatly contributed to the success of the operations. The high moral of his battalion and its fine spirit in attacking qualities are greatly due to his personal efforts.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 26th September, 1915.)

AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCE.

Lt.-Col. Charles Hazel Elliott, D.S.O., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy attack. Although the enemy had penetrated our line and were within 500 yards of Battalion Headquarters, he took up a position with batmen, cooks and signallers and checked the enemy's advance, thus enabling the counter-attacking to come forward and drive the enemy back. His action at a most critical time turned what might have been a defeat into a victory.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 1st January, 1917.)

Temp. Brig.-Gen. John Gellibrand, D.S.O., Infy. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. His Brigade reached its third objective, but was ordered back owing to the division on the right being held up at the first objective. His Brigade repelled several counter-attacks and held on when the Brigade on the right was in difficulties. It was largely owing to his influence and presence in this advanced position that the operations were successful.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 2nd May, 1916.)

Maj. Noel Medway Loutit, D.S.O., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in laying out the jumping off tape under heavy shell and rifle fire. Later, he took forward a machine gun and platoon, and opened a surprise burst of fire into the enemy, thus relieving the pressure at a critical time. He did not leave the line until the whole front was secure.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 4th June, 1917.)

Lt.-Col Iven Giffard MacKay, D.S.O., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. While acting as Brigadier, when the Brigade on the right was broken into by the enemy, the battalion under his orders counter-attacked and assisted to drive out the enemy and restore the position. His action in repelling the counter-attack was of the utmost value, and his prompt action and extreme resolution showed leadership of a high order.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 1st January, 1917.)

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Henry William Murray, V.C., D.S.O., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He gallantly led his company over 1,200 yards of fire-swept ground. Later, he went along the whole frontage, organising the defence, encouraging the men of all units by his cheerfulness and bravery, and always moving to the points of danger. He is not only brave and daring, but a skilful soldier, possessing tactical instinct of the highest order.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 14th November, 1916.)

Col. (temp. Brig.-Gen.) Robert Smith, D.S.O., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and initiative. By his skilful dispositions he met and held a powerful enemy attack, and personally conducting operations under heavy rifle fire, he counter-attacked, retook the lost ground, and pushed the enemy back for two miles at the point of the bayonet.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 1st January, 1917.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the appointments of the undermentioned Officers to be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

Temp. 2nd Lt. Charles Frederick Nelson Ambrose, M.G. Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. After his tank had been badly damaged by shell fire, and all his gunners had become casualties, he continued to keep a brisk fire on the enemy, who were surrounding his tank and attacking it with bombs. His conduct throughout the action displayed the greatest courage.

Capt. (actg. Maj.) John Redmond Barry, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He maintained his position at a very advanced observation post throughout the day, in order to cut wire preparatory to the infantry advancing. Later, he made a reconnaissance and handed in a report which was of the utmost value.

Temp. Capt. the Hon. Arthur Michael Bertie, Rif. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his company. When the attacking company was held up by intense machine gun fire and the situation was becoming critical, he, taking a machine gun with him, advanced to a position where he could engage the enemy machine gun. He subsequently went back alone under the most intense fire and brought up ammunition for his gun. He set a magnificent example to his men.

Capt. William Avery Bishop, Can. Cav., and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. While in a single-seater he attacked three hostile machines, two of which he brought down, although in the meantime he was himself attacked by four other hostile machines. His courage and determination have set a fine example to others.

Lt.-Col. Alfred Burt, D.G.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. His regiment was ordered forward when the situation was most obscure, and by his skilful leading he was able to seize an important position and thus prevent the enemy from counter-attacking. His personal bravery was a fine example to all.

Maj. Hugh Campbell, Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. The ammunition lorries were being heavily shelled when he personally drove two of them which were in flames out of the danger zone. He then organised a party to get the fire under and remove ammunition from the vicinity of the flames. This task was carried out under continuous shell fire, and by his prompt action and gallantry undoubtedly saved many lives and averted a disaster.

*2nd Lt. Robert Chichester Durnford, Hants. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although severely wounded he continued to struggle on, encouraging his men for over a mile, when he was again hit, but he would not allow his wounds to be dressed until the position gained had been consolidated.

Maj. Francis FitzGibbon, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He moved his battery up by daylight over exposed ground under shell fire, and came into action with the most successful results.

Capt. (temp. Lt.-Col.) James Forbes-Robertson, M.C., Bord. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his battalion during an enemy attack. He collected all the men he could find, and, taking up a position on the outskirts of the village, brought the hostile advance to an end by his fire. He undoubtedly saved a very critical situation by his promptness, bravery and example.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Gilbert Ware M. Green, M.C., R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He has set a magnificent example by his gallant conduct in attacking the enemy's aeroplanes when in superior numbers. He brought down three enemy machines within twenty-four hours.

*2nd Lt. Bassett Fardell Horner, Norf. R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He was the first of his regiment to land on the left bank of the river, and displayed great courage and resource in promptly putting out of action single-handed an enemy machine gun which was about to open fire. Later, he gallantly led his company forward in the face of heavy fire and was responsible for the capture of three more machine guns.

Capt. (actg. Lt.-Col.) James Lochhead Jack, Sco. Rif., attd. W. York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He conducted the attack of his battalion with marked skill and foresight and attained all his objectives in the minimum time and with very small loss. He has set a most inspiring example of gallantry to all.

Temp. Lt.-Col. Edward Marlborough Ley, K.R.R.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his battalion. He handled his battalion with the greatest dash and judgment throughout and was largely responsible for the success of the operations. He showed great qualities as a leader.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) John Sherbrooke Coafe Oates, M.C., Notts. & Derby. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed the greatest skill and gallantry while commanding the battalion at a critical period. During the day he repeatedly crossed the open a distance of 500 yards under continual sniping in order to superintend operations, and by his courage and determination succeeded in obtaining complete ascendancy over the enemy.

Maj. (actg. Lt.-Col.) Dulas Bentley Parry, Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He inspired all ranks with the greatest confidence, and thus materially assisted the battalion under his command to carry through a most difficult operation. He displayed great skill and untiring energy in training the battalion beforehand.

*Capt. Charles Robert Senhouse Pitman, M.C., Ind. Army.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a raiding party. In spite of the most difficult conditions he succeeded in landing and reorganising his party. He inflicted much damage on the enemy and brought back a trench mortar. It was owing to his coolness and good leading that the object of the raid was achieved and the whole party withdrawn with but few casualties.

Maj. (actg. Lt.-Col.) George Kendall Priaulx, K.R.R.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his battalion. With the utmost confidence and determination he fought his battalion through the village, overcoming all obstacles and gaining his objectives. He set a magnificent example throughout.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Walter Marlborough Pryor, Hert. R., attd. R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered most valuable service in collecting parties of men who were lost and putting them on to the work of consolidating the position gained. It was largely due to his efforts that a strong position was created, thereby facilitating the dispersing of enemy counter-attacks. This task was accomplished at great personal risk from enemy machine gun fire.

Lt. (actg. Capt.) George William Richmond, R.E. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination while forcing a passage of the river. His coolness and resource were mainly responsible for the successful launching of the pontoons which effected the crossing, and his attitude was an inspiring example to all under his command. He has previously done fine work.

Capt. Theodore Emmanuel Rodocanachi, M.C., Ox. & Bucks. L.I. (Lt., Hamp. R. Spec. Res.).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although wounded he led his company with great gallantry and pressed on to his objective in the face of heavy fire. Although again wounded during the advance he continued to lead on into the hostile position, where he immediately organised the consolidation and continued to command his company until finally incapacitated by a third wound.

*2nd Lt. Robert Tor Russell, I.A.R.O.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in charging the enemy's trench, which was strongly held. He then led a bombing attack and cleared 200 yards of the trench. Later, he maintained his position for four hours, when reinforcements arrived.

*Capt. Claude Innes Shepherd, Ind. Army.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy counter-attack. He rallied men who were without leaders, and by his personal example and leading saved a difficult situation. He was wounded in three places.

Capt. Ernest Stanley Stork, M.B., R.A.M.C., attd. Yeo.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed untiring energy and devotion to duty in evacuating a large number of wounded under heavy fire. He set a magnificent example of courage and determination.

*Temp. 2nd Lt. Cyril George Toogood, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of the first batch of pontoons to cross the river. On landing he so disposed his men and cleared the banks of the enemy that he was able to establish a foothold. In spite of heavy casualties, he held on for over six hours, thereby enabling a bridge to be built.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Alfred Charles Foster Turner, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He attended wounded under heavy fire day and night without rest. He was ever present along the line from the A.D.S. to the most advanced trenches, and on several occasions faced enemy artillery barrages in order that reserves of stretcher-bearers might reach their objectives.

Temp. Capt. (actg. Maj.) William Lambert White, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his battery. He reconnoitred by daylight in front of our infantry outposts, and established an O.P. in a shell-hole 200 yards in front of our outposts, whence he controlled the wire-cutting operations all day. In addition to cutting wire, his battery carried out important bombardment tasks.

Capt. William Ferguson Wood, M.B., R.A.M.C., Spec. Res., attd. Hrs.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Under most trying circumstances and heavy fire he collected and tended the wounded without rest or food. He frequently made dangerous tours looking for wounded men.

AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCE.

Capt. Robert Smith Somerville, M.C., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his company. He showed great skill in the handling of a delicate situation, and his cheerful courage under most trying circumstances inspired his men to the magnificent efforts which they undoubtedly made. He was severely wounded.

Capt. Harrold Eustace Woodman, Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He prepared strong defences in carefully chosen positions, and not only he, but all his officers and men, knew the ground thoroughly as the result of well-organised reconnaissances. At an early stage of the action he counter-attacked a large force of the enemy, and succeeded in holding up their advance until reinforcements arrived. He was largely responsible for saving a critical situation.

* The names marked with an asterisk appeared in the London Gazettes dated either the 17th March, 1917, or 28th April, 1917.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to award a Bar to the Military Cross to the undermentioned Officers:—

Lt. (temp. Capt.) John Percival Bate, M.C., Worc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his company. He led his men in the most gallant manner, and was largely responsible for the success of the operations. He set a fine example of courage and determination.

(M.C. Gazetted 1st January, 1917.)

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Kenneth Edward Brown, M.C., Oxf. & Bucks. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his company in the most gallant manner, and personally made several attempts to cut the enemy's wire. He set a splendid example of courage and determination.

(M.C. Gazetted 20th October, 1916.)

Temp. 2nd Lt. Charles Thornton Cleaver, M.C., Gen. List and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. When flying at a low altitude, on reconnaissance patrol, he was wounded in the arm. He continued flying for some time, gaining most valuable information. On landing he insisted on being taken to Headquarters to impart the results of his reconnaissance.

(M.C. Gazetted 20th October, 1916.)

Temp. Capt. Frank Fisher, M.C., K.R.R.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. As Adjutant he ably carried out his duties under exceptionally arduous conditions. Later, he went forward and took command of two companies at a critical period and led them until he was wounded. He displayed great courage and leadership throughout.

(M.C. Gazetted 3rd March, 1917.)

Temp. Capt. James Arthur Gravett, M.C., N. Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed the utmost gallantry and determination when leading his company. By his behaviour and coolness he kept his men together, and rendered most valuable service at a critical time.

(M.C. Gazetted 26th September, 1916.)

Lt. (actg. Capt.) Henry Wilfred Persse, M.C., R. Fus., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. As second in command he had to take over the front after midnight, a very difficult task under heavy shell fire and the line uncertain. After daylight he made a bold reconnaissance of the whole line. His fearless example and great skill were mainly instrumental in making good the defence of a critical part of the line.

(M.C. Gazetted 14th January, 1916.)

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Charles Ridley Pawsey, M.C., Worc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. After establishing superiority of fire in a very difficult position, he gallantly led the final assault and personally captured two unwounded prisoners.

(M.C. Gazetted 14th January, 1916.)

2nd Lt. Alfred Oliver Pollard, V.C., M.C., H.A.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He carried out a dangerous reconnaissance of the enemy's front line under very heavy fire, and obtained most valuable information. He set a splendid example of courage and determination.

(M.C. Gazetted 26th March, 1917.)

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Victor Owen Robinson, M.C., Notts. & Derby. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. By his skilful dispositions and personal energy he enabled his company to reach their objective with small loss to themselves, at the same time causing heavy casualties to the enemy. His skill and experience were of the greatest assistance.

(M.C. Gazetted 18th November, 1915.)

Capt. Geoffrey Keith Rose, M.C., Oxf. & Bucks. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. When in command of a raid on the enemy's trenches, he displayed the greatest skill and energy. He organised an effective resistance to the enemy counter-attack, and conducted a masterly withdrawal under heavy machine gun and rifle fire.

(M.C. Gazetted 14th January, 1916.)

Temp. Capt. Eric Lancelot Routh, M.C., R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He showed the utmost gallantry and good leadership when commanding his company. Though wounded in three places, he refused to be attended to and ordered his men forward. This fine example inspired his company, who carried out its task with great credit.

(M.C. Gazetted 24th June, 1916.)

Capt. James Alwin Colville Scott, M.C., M.B., R.A.M.C., attd. Durham L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He behaved with great courage and coolness in attending the wounded under heavy shell fire. For two days he worked continuously, with an utter disregard for his own safety. By his efforts he was able to ensure the rapid evacuation of the wounded, and undoubtedly saved many lives.

(M.C. Gazetted 1st January, 1917.)

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Charles Parker Watson, M.C., Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. When in command of a raiding party he performed his duties with great energy and decision, and was largely responsible for the success of the raid.

(M.C. Gazetted 20th October, 1916.)

AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCE.

Lt. Leslie Dadson, M.C., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He took a small party forward and formed a protecting flank, personally directing their fire. Although hard pressed by weight of numbers, he stood his ground and succeeded in driving the enemy back. He showed a fine example of tenacity and pluck.

(M.C. Gazetted in this Gazette.)

Capt. Albert Jacka, V.C., M.C., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He carried out a daring reconnaissance of the enemy's position and obtained most valuable information. Later, he rendered invaluable assistance in guiding troops to their assembly positions.

(M.C. Gazetted 14th November, 1916.)

Capt. Eric William Stutchbury, M.C., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He gallantly led his company forward in the face of very heavy fire, and succeeded in gaining his objective. Later, he superintended the consolidation of his battalion frontage until relieved.

(M.C. Gazetted 14th November, 1916.)

Lt. Frank Wadge, M.C., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He carried out several daring reconnaissances of the enemy's position and obtained most valuable information. Later, during the attack he kept his Battalion Headquarters well informed as to the situation.

(M.C. Gazetted 14th November, 1916.)

CANADIAN FORCE.

Lt. Ralph Willcock, M.C., Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a raiding party. He led his men in the most gallant manner and carried out the task allotted to him with conspicuous success.

(M.C. Gazetted 14th November, 1916.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to confer the Military Cross on the undermentioned Officers and Warrant Officers in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

Temp. Lt. (now actg. Maj.) James Abbey, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He crossed a field under very heavy fire, attended to a man who had been wounded, and finally succeeded in carrying him to a place of safety.

2nd Lt. Matthew Adam, R. Sco. Fus., attd. R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He laid a most important wire and maintained communications in spite of heavy machine-gun and rifle fire, thereby rendering a most valuable service.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Peter Adam, Rif. Bde.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. The vanguard being held up by snipers, he promptly rushed forward with a small party and succeeded in driving them out. His prompt action, which was at the same time most gallant, enabled the objective to be reached without further casualties.

Temp. 2nd Lt. James Frederick Addy, Shrops. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. In spite of being subjected to heavy fire, he succeeded in digging a trench across "No Man's Land" to connect up the captured enemy trenches to our own front line.

*2nd Lt. Frank Addison Adlard, I.A.R.O.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He towed several pontoons which had drifted down stream back to the landing place under very heavy fire. He was severely wounded.

*2nd Lt. James Dykes Aitkenhead, I.A.R.O.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He went forward with a party on to an open beach under heavy fire, and successfully distributed his men to their various boats. He was severely wounded.

2nd Lt. Thomas Telfer Archibald, Arg. & Suth'd Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He commanded the company after they had reached the final objective, and continued with great coolness and ability to direct the defence. The retention of this captured position, which was under continuous heavy shelling, greatly assisted in the success of the operation.

2nd Lt. Vernon Hay Armitage, Notts. & Derby. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He handled his platoon with the utmost coolness and courage under heavy fire. Although he was himself wounded he continued to direct operations, particularly in assisting to rescue some of his men who had become buried by hostile shelling. Throughout he set a fine example.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Clifford Elliston Ashby, Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his company with the utmost gallantry and skill, and by his personal example of courage and coolness largely contributed to the success of the operation.

Temp. Capt. Vincent Edgar Badcock, M.D., R.A.M.C., attd. High. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He has behaved in a most gallant manner on several occasions in attending to wounded under intense shell fire, showing an utter disregard of personal danger, and setting a splendid example to all.

2nd Lt. Harry Lothain Baillieu, R.G.A., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He went forward to the front line under very heavy fire, and sent back most valuable information to his battery.

*2nd Lt. William Sidney Baker, I.A.R.O.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He forced an enemy machine gun team to withdraw. He then collected a Lewis gun team and some bombers, built a block, and drove off two enemy counter-attacks. He set a splendid example to his men.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Horace Munton Baker-Munton, R.F.A., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. While moving one of the guns, the carburetter of the lorry caught fire. The lorry was stopped and the fire got under. At the same time the enemy opened rapid shell fire on that part of the road. In spite of this he refused to go on until the carburetter was sufficiently cool to ensure it not catching fire again. He finally succeeded in getting the gun and detachment into safety.

2nd Lt. Frank Oseland Baron, S. Lan. R., attd. Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. When in command of a patrol he penetrated the enemy front line and brought back valuable information, owing to which a serious obstacle to the advance was greatly diminished.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (actg. Capt.) Thomas William Baron, York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. When in command of the support company, he engaged three strong points held by snipers in strength, and in the face of heavy rifle and shell fire finally succeeded in capturing the posts. He set a fine example throughout a most difficult operation.

2nd Lt. (actg. Capt.) Wilfrid Morris Barrett, Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although wounded in the head, he continued to lead his company with the utmost gallantry until they reached their objective. He then organised the position and continued to superintend for some time.

Temp. Capt. James Harding Barry, R.A.M.C., attd. Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He showed the utmost coolness and bravery in going out under heavy machine-gun fire and assisting to bring in and attend wounded men. Throughout he set a splendid example to all.

Temp. Capt. Bertram Henry Barton, M.D., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He worked continuously under very heavy fire, and succeeded in bringing in many wounded men. His devotion to duty saved many lives.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Robert Appleby Bartram, R. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his platoon with conspicuous ability during a raid, capturing several prisoners who were urgently required. He set a splendid example to his men.

2nd Lt. Reginald Andrew Bateman, Manch. R., attd. R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Throughout the operations his bravery and inspiring leadership under heavy fire were largely responsible for the gaining of the position. He set a splendid example to all.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) John Bazley-White, W. York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. While commanding a patrol, although detected and fired on, he pressed forward, and did not withdraw until he obtained the information he desired.

*Temp. Lt. (temp. Capt.) Harry S. Beaumont, N. Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. When cut off from all help and attacked by overwhelming numbers, he held out for many hours, and eventually succeeded in joining up with another party.

Temp. Lt. Daniel Jamieson Bell, M.G. Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He handled his machine guns with great skill, and was largely responsible for the success of the raid. He has at all times set a splendid example.

*Temp. Lt. Donald John Bell, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. In spite of heavy casualties among his men, he succeeded in launching three pontoons. He set a magnificent example of courage and determination.

2nd Lt. Douglas John Bell, R.F.C., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a long distance bomb raid. Owing to his good leadership and skill a large ammunition dump was destroyed. Later, he single-handedly carried out a difficult mission and succeeded in reaching his objective under extremely adverse weather conditions.

Capt. Sydney James Belsham, Midd'x R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his men with great gallantry to their final objective. He at once consolidated his position under heavy fire, and after establishing his line proceeded to Headquarters to report on the situation. He set a splendid example to all.

Temp. Capt. Oswald Stanhope Benbow-Rowe, Shrops. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He took command of two companies, and gallantly led them to their objective. He set a splendid example of courage and initiative.

2nd Lt. Thomas Norman Benson, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He handled his company with great skill and courage under most critical conditions. He withdrew his men in the face of heavy fire with slight casualties. By his personal bravery and determination he set a fine example to those under him.

Temp. Capt. Eric Biddle, R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He showed great gallantry in supervising the removal of wounded from a heavily shelled area. By his untiring energy and disregard of personal danger he saved many lives.

2nd Lt. Stanley Heathfield Blakey, Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a flank guard. He led his men with great gallantry, and repulsed several enemy attacks. Later, although wounded, he maintained his ground and continued in command in spite of loss of blood until he was satisfied that all danger was past.

2nd Lt. John Bogle, Sco. Rif., attd. K.R.R.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. His swift decisive action and splendid control over his men saved many casualties in getting through the enemy's wire in front of the village. He set a fine example of courage and initiative.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Beauchamp St. John Boulton, Gen. List and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty while on contact patrol. He descended to a height of 400 feet and attacked a large party of the enemy. He subsequently effected a safe landing, in spite of very adverse weather conditions. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

Lt. Martin Bowen, Oxf. & Bucks. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his company in the most gallant manner, and in spite of very difficult conditions succeeded in gaining his objective. He set a fine example to his men.

2nd Lt. Charles Dennis Bowerman, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great skill and initiative in moving his section several times in quick succession to avoid hostile shelling. In one position, which was still being shelled by the enemy, he remained behind and attended a wounded man, remaining with him until he was taken away.

2nd Lt. (actg. Lt.) Arthur Mervyn Bown, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. During hostile shelling the ammunition in the gunpit was set on fire. He went to the pit to extinguish the fire. While thus employed a large number of trench mortar bombs exploded a short distance away, wounding a man in the pit. He removed the man to a dug-out, and returning succeeded in extinguishing the fire, thus saving a large quantity of ammunition.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Frank William Bracecamp, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He reconnoitred a position upon which it was necessary to bring observed fire. He got within two hundred yards of the spot, and in spite of rifle fire and continuous sniping completed his observation.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Frank Brindley, Notts. & Derby. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He covered the retirement of the Battalion to a fresh position with a machine-gun, and was the last man to leave the position. He set a fine example to his men.
