

under heavy machine gun fire. He assumed command of his company, and by his gallantry and example, constantly exposing himself, succeeded in getting the men dug in.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Percy Norman Grubb, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. When commanding his platoon he made a successful attack under heavy fire and very adverse weather conditions. His skill and gallantry largely contributed to the success of the operation.

Temp. Lt. (actg. Capt.) Stanley Ronald Kershaw Gurner, A.C.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his company with great skill and determination in the face of heavy shell fire. By his total disregard to danger he set a splendid example to his men.

2nd Lt. Charles Hackett, Worc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He was largely responsible for repelling a strong enemy counter-attack, and although wounded continued to lead his men in the most gallant manner.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Clarence Peter Halliday, York. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his platoon with great skill in the face of heavy fire, and placed his machine guns to such advantage that he was able to materially check the enemy counter-attack, thereby rendering valuable assistance at a critical period.

Temp. Capt. Cecil Francis Tyssen Haigh, A.O.D.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He collected a party of men and personally assisted in extinguishing a fire which broke out in an ammunition dump. His gallant action undoubtedly avoided a serious catastrophe.

* 2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) John Almeric de Courcy Hamilton, Hants. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He was in charge of the rowing parties of his regiment, and showed the utmost contempt for danger under heavy fire. He set a fine example to his men throughout the day.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Thomas Walter Hardy, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. His unit was employed in preparing a battery of ejectors when an enemy shell hit a wagon containing bombs, many of which exploded. This officer behaved in a very gallant manner under the hostile barrage which followed, and succeeded in removing many of the injured.

*2nd Lt. Frank Oswald Harris, I.A.R.O.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rallied the men of several units under very heavy fire, and materially assisted in repelling an enemy counter-attack. He set a fine example to all ranks.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Douglas Preston Harvey, M.G. Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. When in command of two guns he showed great courage and determination in getting his guns into position under heavy fire. Although wounded, he continued to command his guns with great coolness and ability.

2nd Lt. Harold Stanley Haskins, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during the consolidation of a newly-captured position. He organised working parties sent forward to support operations, and carried out his difficult task with complete success.

2nd Lt. Lewis Aloysius Macdonald Hastings, R.F.A., Spec Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He established and maintained communication under the most intense hostile fire. He set a splendid example of courage and determination.

Lt. (actg. Capt.) Charles Cedric Walter Havell, Suff. R., attd. T.M. By.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He handled his trench mortar guns with the greatest skill throughout the operations. It was mainly due to him that the guns remained in action and were so effective in carrying out their task.

Capt. Richard Frederick Hayward, Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered most valuable service and displayed the utmost skill and determination when commanding a machine-gun company. His personal disregard of danger was a fine example to all.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (actg. Lt.) Arthur Heads, R.F.A., attd. T.M. By.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his battery. He handled his guns with great skill, and was largely responsible for the success of the operations.

2nd Lt. John Galloway Heard, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in charge of a working party. In spite of very heavy hostile fire he kept his party well in hand and succeeded in completing his task.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Archibald Cecil Heaven, Gen. List and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when acting as an observer. On one occasion, when his pilot was wounded, he steered the machine back, and, landing in