War Office,

17th April, 1918.

With reference to the announcement of the award of the Distinguished Conduct Medal in the Honours Supplement to the London Gazette dated 1st January, 1918, the following are the acts of gallantry for which the decorations have been awarded:—

300474 C.S.M. S. Aberdeen, Dur. L.I. (Durham).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He has taken part in several engagements, and has always set a high standard of coolness and courage to the men of his company.

3/7190 C.S.M. D. Adair, E. Yorks. R. (Durham).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations under a heavy fire. He controlled his men splendidly, personally assisting the stretcher-bearers to attend to the numerous wounded. His work and influence in his company was admirable.

56226 Sjt. A. L. Adams, R.E. (Edinburgh).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action as brigade signal serjeant. By his exceptional tact and fearlessness he has always set a splendid example to all under him, and it was largely owing to his skill and endurance that communications were maintained.

494343 Sjt. J. H. Adams, R.E. (Baislington).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. As section serjeant of his field company he continually showed great gallantry whilst working in exposed positions, and his courageous and successful work in the consolidation of captured positions is worthy of the highest praise.

18203 Sjt. J. R. Adamson, Yorks. R. (East Rainton).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. During the last six months this N.C.O. has done very fine work. After an attack when all the officers of the com-
