TUESDAY, 30 JULY, 1918.

War Office,
30th July, 1918.

His Majesty the KING has been pleased to approve of the award of the Military Medal to the undermentioned Ladies for distinguished services in the Field as recorded:—

Sister Charlotte Lillian Annie Robinson, A.R.R.C., Q.A.I.M.N.S.

For conspicuous devotion to duty and courage when a stationary hospital was struck by four bombs from an enemy aeroplane and one wing was practically cut in two, many patients being buried in the débris. Sister Robinson at very great personal risk went in amongst the ruins to assist in recovering the patients, quite regardless of danger, her one thought being the rescue of the patients. She displayed magnificent coolness and resource.

A./Sister Nellie Galvin, Q.A.I.M.N.S. (R.).

For bravery and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid, when four enemy bombs were dropped on the building occupied by the hospital, causing much damage to the ward in which Sister Galvin was on night duty. She remained in the ward attending to the sick, several of whom were wounded, and carried on her work as if nothing had happened. She displayed the greatest coolness and devotion to duty.

A./Sister Minnie Maude de Guerin, Q.A.I.M.N.S. (R.).

For bravery and devotion to duty during a hostile air raid, when the building occupied by the hospital was hit by four bombs which cut in two the ward in which Sister Guerin was on night duty. Several patients were wounded and buried in the débris of the destroyed building, but she remained on duty in her ward, displaying the greatest coolness and courage in attending to the wounded and helping to rescue the buried.

Sister Louisa Alice Wilkinson, Q.A.I.M.N.S. (R.).

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid, when, although her ward was demolished, she continued to attend to the wounded whilst the raid was still in progress.

Staff Nurse Beatrice Dascombe,
Q.A.I.M.N.S. (R.).

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid, when her ward being destroyed by a bomb and herself wounded, she insisted on remaining at her post and attending to the wounded.

Sister (A./Matron) Lucie Maud Mary Toller, R.R.C., Q.A.I.M.N.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. When the Sisters' quarters were wrecked and nurses wounded, Sister Toller collected the staff and placed them in comparative safety. By her fine example she undoubtedly saved life.

Staff Nurse Annie Marie McGrath,
Q.A.I.M.N.S. (R.).

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid, when in charge of a ward of serious cases. She showed throughout a quiet confidence and set a fine example during a most critical period.

Sister Mary Ellen Davis, Q.A.I.M.N.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. When the Sisters' quarters were wrecked and bombs were falling, she showed a fine example and assisted materially in controlling the situation and attending to the Sisters who were wounded.

Staff Nurse Susan Deverell Munroe,
Q.A.I.M.N.S. (R.).

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid, which wrecked three of her wards. She showed coolness and contempt of danger and a solicitude for her patients which was invaluable.

Staff Nurse Katherine Robertson Lowe,
T.F.N.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty when during an air raid bombs destroyed a large portion of the ward in which she was on night duty, wounding and burying many of the patients. She continued to carry out her duties with great composure, and showed much resourcefulness in looking after the injured.

Miss Muriel Thompson, F.A.N.Y.

Miss Winifred Millicent Elwes, F.A.N.Y.

Miss Elsie Agnes Courtis, F.A.N.Y.

Miss Margaret Davidson, B.R.C.S.
(V.A.D.).

For conspicuous devotion to duty during an hostile air raid. All these lady drivers were out with their cars during the raid, picking up and in every way assisting the wounded and injured, and showed great bravery and coolness, and were an example to all ranks.

They also carried to safety and helped in every way many French civilians.

Miss Winifred Addie Brampton, B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. This lady continued at duty throughout the raid, although the ward in her charge was almost completely wrecked, several patients killed, and she herself was wounded.

Miss Dorothea Mary Lynette Crewdson,
B.R.C.S. (V.A.D.).

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. Although herself wounded, this lady remained at duty and assisted in dressing the wounds of patients.

Commandant Winifred Eleanor Sarah Mount Batten, B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She superintended the work of the convoy, drove an ambulance car herself during the raid, and by her coolness and disregard for her own safety ensured the prompt removal of the wounded to hospital.

Sub-Section Leader Galanthe Mildred Cuthbert, B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She showed exceptional coolness and courage in directing her section.

Section Leader Gertrude Francis Johnston,
B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She directed her section with coolness and courage under very trying circumstances.

Senior Section Leader Juliet Vivien Mellor,
B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She showed exceptional courage and efficiency as senior section leader.

Nurse Mary Gwynnedd Campbell, B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid, when buildings were set on fire. She moved about in full glare, regardless of imminent danger, taking patients to safety, and inspiring confidence in all.

V.A.D. Moyra Cavanagh, St. John's Ambulance Brigade.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. Miss Cavanagh was in charge of four wards, two of which were entirely wrecked. She continued to perform her duty, and in addition was very active in removing the wounded to a place of comparative safety.

Nurse Edith Hounslow, A.R.R.C., St. John's Ambulance Brigade.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. A bomb fell between two of her wards and injured many patients. She behaved with the utmost coolness, and set a fine example, attending wounded under most trying circumstances.

Asst. Matron Mabel Chittock, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She displayed great presence of mind, and instilled courage and confidence throughout a very trying time.

Matron Constance Elizabeth Todd, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She moved freely about the wards during the bombing, encouraging the Sisters and patients, and displayed great bravery and presence of mind throughout.

Sister Kathleen Warner, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She displayed the utmost coolness, and maintained a cheery spirit throughout, showing great bravery.

Sister Jane Bemrose, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She showed disregard of danger, and continued to attend the wounded in her charge during the heavy bombardment.

Sister Molly McGinnis, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She showed great courage, took charge of a ward, and sustained her patients.

Sister Margaret Hendebourck Ballance, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.
