STANDARD NAVAL CLOTHS FOR OFFICERS' UNIFORMS.

A Scheme is being promulgated by the Admiralty for ensuring supply of Uniform Garments for Commissioned, Warrant, and Subordinate Officers of the Royal Navy and Royal Marines, and Cadets under training, made from Standard Woollen Cloths designated "Priority N."

The scheme follows very closely that which already exists for the provision of Standard Khaki ("Priority A") cloths for Army Officers, and the leading features of the scheme are as follow:—

The necessary wool for the manufacture of the cloths will be issued to approved manufacturers by the War Department Cloth Office, Bradford, on a priority basis, and appropriate selling prices of the cloths to merchants and outfitters, and from merchants to tailors, will be assigned and regulated by the Admiralty from time to time according to any variations in the issue price of wool, etc.

Similarly, appropriate maximum prices which outfitters and tailors will be allowed to charge for garments made from "Priority N" Cloths will be assigned, and regulated from time to time if and as necessary.

These maximum prices are not to be regarded as Standard prices universally applicable to all outfitters and tailors; and it is expected that many firms (particularly provincial ones) will find it possible to supply garments made from such "Priority N" cloths at prices lower than the maxima. In no circumstances whatever may any higher prices be charged for articles of Uniform made from these particular Priority Cloths.

"Priority N" cloths must not be used for any purpose other than the Uniform Garments specified in Admiralty Form N. 4 A. and made in accordance with the Uniform Regulations.

The manufacture of such uniforms from "free" (uncontrolled) cloth is not prohibited; and the official prices do not apply to uniforms made from such cloths.

These "Priority N" cloths can be identified by the registered device (shown underneath in reduced facsimile) which will be stamped in white paint on the reverse side of the cloth at intervals of every yard.

Bunches of patterns of the selected cloths will be issued on payment to firms authorised to participate in the scheme on application to the Director of Contracts, Admiralty, S.W. 1.

No Manufacturer, Merchant, Outfitter or Tailor, will be permitted to engage in the manufacture, distribution, or conversion of the "Priority N" Cloths until he has made formal application to do so, and has received notification that his name has been duly entered in the official list; and permission to participate in the scheme would be given only on the express understanding that no responsibility whatsoever attaches to the Admiralty in connection with any transactions thereunder.

Forms of application may be obtained from the Director of Contracts, Admiralty, S.W. 1.
