

once went out in front of the leading wave and rallied the sections, which had sustained heavy casualties. Though wounded, he led his men to their objective and continued to direct the fighting until he collapsed. His determination and courage were an inspiration to his men.

Lt. Roy Gordon Garvie, 1st Aust. M.G. Sqd. (EGYPT)

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. While in charge of a section of machine guns his post was surrounded. He quickly shifted his guns so as to fire to the rear as well as the front, and by inflicting heavy losses on the enemy, who had passed and were attacking the second line, materially assisted in holding out until a counter-attack re-established the line.

Lt. Wesley Goninon, 15th Bn., Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during an attack. When his company commander became a casualty he assumed command, and led the company brilliantly, capturing his objective and consolidating under heavy machine-gun and artillery fire. He set an excellent example to all ranks.

Lt. Stanley Edmund Gregory, 1st A.L.H.R. (EGYPT)

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. During an attack by the enemy this officer manœuvred his squadron into a position from which he enfiladed them, causing them to retire with loss. During the retirement he charged with two troops and captured forty-five prisoners, one machine gun, and two automatic rifles. His coolness and quickness were largely responsible for the success of the counter-attack.

Lt. George Warwick Griffin, 23rd Bn., Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. During several days' minor operations he showed a splendid offensive spirit in numerous hand-to-hand encounters with the enemy. In a bombing attack he captured 300 yards of the enemy trench system, but an enemy counter-attack divided his company and the position became critical. He at once led a party against superior numbers of the enemy, drove them back, and restored the situation by his determined action.

Lt. Lindsey James Henderson, 2nd A.L.H.R. (EGYPT)

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. This officer held a post of twelve men which was attacked by the enemy. Though wounded himself, and with his garrison reduced to four men by casualties, and completely surrounded, he held on against great odds, inflicting heavy casualties. Later he joined in a counter-attack, which resulted in the capture of numerous prisoners.

Capt. Lancelot John Hunter, A.A.M.C., attd. 15th Bn., Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. When the battalion was heavily shelled in a bivouac for two hours he attended to the wounded with utter disregard of danger. During an attack he followed closely behind the attacking troops and attended to the wounded under heavy fire. He set a splendid example of self-sacrifice.

Capt. Thomas Ross Jagger, A.A.M.C., attd. 31st Bn., Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He carried on his work under heavy fire during two attacks and attended to the wounded of his own and other units with utter disregard of danger. He set a splendid example of courage and self-sacrifice.

Lt. Arthur Phillip Percival Kemp, 46th Bn., Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and good leadership during an advance. When an enemy strong point offered a determined resistance he took charge of his company, the company commander having been killed, and led them with great determination against the strong point, which he captured with a large number of prisoners. He then led his men forward to the final objective. He set a splendid example of courage and initiative.

Lt. Leslie Norman Larnach, 31st Bn., Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and good leadership. He led his platoon with great skill in an attack, and though wounded continued to advance to the objective. His courage and initiative were a splendid example to his men.

Lt. William Watt Leggatt, 60th Bn., Aust. Infy., attd. Div. Sig. Co., Aust. Engrs.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty as signalling officer during an attack. He continually moved forward under heavy fire, and, keeping in close touch with the fighting, established new stations as the advance progressed. It was entirely due to his energy and courage that the communications were maintained throughout the advance.

Lt. Percy Albert Lisle, 45th Bn., Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and good leadership. He led his platoon with great dash and skill in an attack, and when held up by machine-gun fire he succeeded in capturing the guns and their crews. After the capture of the second objective he led a fighting patrol in a most determined manner and dislodged an enemy post.

Lt. George Melling Livesey, 50th Bn., Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Under heavy machine-gun fire he successfully led a party against an enemy position, capturing three machine guns and fourteen prisoners and killing a number of the enemy. The enemy, with at least 100 men, immediately counter-attacked, and closed round his party. Nevertheless, he held on to his prisoners and guns and fought his way back with them to his lines. He showed marked courage and determined leadership.
