The Stock is an investment authorised by "The Trustee Act, 1893," and Trustees may invest therein notwithstanding that the price may at the time of investment exceed the redemption value of £100 per cent.

THE GOVERNOR AND COMPANY OF THE BANK OF ENGLAND and THE GOVERNOR AND COMPANY OF THE BANK OF IRELAND are authorised to receive applications for the above Loan, which will take the form of Stock or Bonds to Bearer at the option of Subscribers; Stock may be inscribed as "transferable in the Stock Transfer Books," or may be registered as "transferable by Deed."

Applications must be for sums which are multiples of £50, and may be for either (1) "Fully-paid Allotments," or (2) "Instalment Allotments." They will be received at the Bank of England Loans Office, 5 and 6, Lombard Street, London, E.C. 3, and at the Bank of Ireland, Dublin, and may be forwarded either direct, or through the medium of any Banker or Stockbroker in the United Kingdom.

British Government Treasury Bills issued prior to the 1st June, 1919, will be accepted under discount at  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. per annum as from the 21st June, 1919, in lieu of cash in payment for "Fully-paid Allotments," provided that the entire proceeds of the Bills are so applied. "Fully-paid Allotments" made in respect of such Applications will receive on the 1st November, 1919, the dividend payable on that date in respect of "Fully-paid Allotments" applied for on or before the 21st June, 1919.

Stock and Bonds of the undermentioned Issues will be accepted at par as the equivalent of cash in payment, in whole or in part, for "Fully-paid Allotments" of this Issue:—

- £4 10s. per cent. War Loan, 1925-1945.
- £5 per cent. Exchequer Bonds, 1919, 1920, 1921 and 1922.
- £6 per cent. Exchequer Bonds, 1920.
- £4 per cent. National War Bonds, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Series.
- £5 per cent. National War Bonds, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Series.

Where the Stock or Bonds surrendered do not represent the exact sum required to pay for an Allotment (which must be a multiple of £50), the requisite balance must be provided in cash. Interest accrued to the 21st June, 1919, will be paid on holdings surrendered, and the Allotments issued in lieu of such holdings will receive on the 1st November, 1919, the dividend payable on that date in respect of "Fully-paid Allotments" applied for on or before the 21st June, 1919. In the case of the £6 per cent. Exchequer Bonds, 1920, an additional payment will be made representing interest at 1 per cent. from the 21st June, 1919, to the 16th February, 1920, upon the holdings surrendered.

NOTE.—Applications paid for, in whole or in part, by the surrender of Stock inscribed or Bonds registered in the Books of the Bank of Ireland must be forwarded to the Bank of Ireland, Dublin. Stock registered in the Books of the General Post Office, and Bonds issued by the General Post Office, will not be accepted at the Bank of England. They will be accepted at the Post Office under the arrangements set forth in the separate Prospectus issued by H.M. Postmaster-General.

The Principal and Interest of the Loan will be a charge on the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom.

His Majesty's Government undertake to set aside at the close of each half-year a sum equal to  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. on the nominal amount of the Loan originally created. After deducting therefrom the amount required for payment of Interest on the Loan for the half-year, the balance of the sum so set aside will be carried to a Sinking Fund, which will be applied during the succeeding half-year to the purchase of the Loan for cancellation if the price is at or under par; when the price is above par it will be either so applied or otherwise invested under the control of His Majesty's Treasury. Any outstanding balance of the Loan not previously redeemed will be repaid at par on the 1st May, 1990, but His Majesty's Government reserve to themselves the right, on giving three calendar months' notice in the London Gazette, to redeem at par at any time on or after the 1st May, 1960, any outstanding balance of the Loan not previously purchased and cancelled by the operation of the Sinking Fund.

Stock and Bonds of this issue will be accepted by the Commissioners of Inland Revenue as the equivalent of cash on the basis of £80 cash for each £100 Stock or Bonds surrendered, with due adjustment on account of interest, in satisfaction of amounts due on account of Death Duties, provided that the Stock or Bonds surrendered have formed part of the Estate passing on death of the deceased continuously up to the date of death from the date of the original subscription or for a period of not less than six months immediately preceding the date of death. Stock and Bonds so surrendered and outstanding will be held for account of His Majesty's Government until redeemed by the operation of the Sinking Fund or until the final redemption of the Loan; any portion of the Sinking Fund applied in any half-year to the purchase for cancellation of Stock or Bonds so held will bear to the total of the Sinking Fund available a ratio not exceeding that which the Stock and Bonds so held at the commencement of such half-year bore to the total of the Loan then outstanding.

Stock or Bonds of this issue and the interest payable from time to time in respect thereof will be exempt from all British Taxation, present or future, so long as it is shewn in the manner directed by the Treasury that they are in the beneficial ownership of persons who are neither domiciled nor ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

Further, the interest payable from time to time in respect of Stock and Bonds of this Issue will be exempt from British Income Tax, present or future, so long as it is shewn in the manner directed by the Treasury that the Stock or Bonds are in the beneficial ownership of persons not ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, without regard to the question of domicile. Where Bonds are in the beneficial ownership of a person entitled to exemption under these provisions, the relative Coupons will be paid without deduction for Income Tax or other taxes if accompanied by a declaration of ownership in such form as may be required by the Treasury.

The Books of the Loan will be kept at the Bank of England and at the Bank of Ireland.

Stock will be convertible into Bonds to Bearer (in denominations of £50, £100, £200, £500, £1,000, and £5,000) with Coupons attached for the Interest payable half-yearly, and Bonds will be convertible into Stock without payment of any fee. Stock will be transferable in any sums which are multiples of a penny.

Dividend warrants will be forwarded by post. In the case of inscribed and registered holdings of "Fully-paid Allotments," the warrants for the first dividend, payable 1st November, 1919, will be forwarded in all cases to the original Allottees or their Nominees.

"Fully-paid Allotments" will be issued in one or other of the following forms as applicants may direct:—

1. "Certificate of Inscription" of Stock transferable in the Stock Transfer Books;
2. "Register Certificate" of Stock transferable by Deed;
3. "Bond Certificate(s)" exchangeable in due course for Bond(s) to Bearer.

Allotments made in respect of applications paid for, in whole or in part, by the surrender of Stock or Registered Bonds will in all cases be inscribed or registered in the names of the holders in whose names the surrendered holdings stood. Allotments made in respect of applications paid for, in whole or in part, by the surrender of Bearer Bonds will in all cases be made in Bearer form.

Allotment Letters with Coupon attached for the dividend, if any, due 1st November, 1919, will be issued in respect of "Instalment Allotments," and, when paid in full, may be inscribed or registered on or after the 1st September, 1919, or may be exchanged for Bonds to Bearer as soon as these can be prepared.

The Instalments payable in respect of "Instalment Allotments" may be paid in full on or after the 29th July, 1919, under discount at the rate of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. per annum. Where payment in full is made between two instalment dates, discount will be calculated as from the instalment date next succeeding the date of such full payment. In case of default in the payment of any instalment by its proper date, the deposit and any instalments previously paid will be liable to forfeiture. Payments may be made without additional charge at Offices of the undermentioned Banks in the United Kingdom.

A commission of one-eighth per cent. will be allowed to Bankers, Stockbrokers, and Financial Houses on allotments made in respect of applications bearing their Stamp, and paid for wholly in cash and/or by the discounting of Treasury Bills. No commission will be allowed on Allotments paid for, in whole or in part, by the surrender of Stock or Bonds.

- (2) "Instalment Allotments,"

Stock registered in the Books of the General Post Office, and Bonds issued by the General Post Office, will not be accepted at the Bank of England. They will be accepted at the Post Office under the arrangements set forth in the separate Prospectus issued by H.M. Postmaster-General.

The Principal and Interest of the Bonds will be a charge on the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom.

His Majesty's Government undertake to set aside at the close of each half-year a sum equal to 2½ per cent. on the nominal amount of the Bonds originally created. After deducting therefrom the amount required for payment of Interest on the Bonds for the half-year, the balance of the sum so set aside will be carried to a Sinking Fund, which will be applied by means of annual drawings to the redemption of the Bonds at par (including Bonds which have been surrendered to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue for death duties as hereinafter provided), the Bonds to be redeemed in each year being determined by lot and paid off on the 1st September in such year in accordance with regulations made by the Treasury. Bonds surrendered under these provisions will be held for account of His Majesty's Government until drawn for redemption as provided in the preceding paragraph.

Further, the interest payable from time to time in respect of Bonds of this Issue will be exempt from British Income Tax, present or future, so long as it is shewn in the manner directed by the Treasury that the Bonds are in the beneficial ownership of persons not ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, without regard to the question of domicile. Where Bonds are in the beneficial ownership of a person entitled to exemption under these provisions, the relative Coupons will be paid without deduction for Income Tax or other taxes if accompanied by a declaration of ownership in such form as may be required by the Treasury.

Buckingham Palace,

This day had Audience of The KING—

Señor Don Federico R. Vidiella; to present the Letters of Recall of his predecessor, Señor Don Pedro Cosío, and his own Letters of Credence, as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the Republic of Uruguay.

Whitehall, 11th June, 1919.

His Majesty the KING has been pleased to award the Edward Medal to Maruti Vithoba and Krishna Parbati under the following circumstances:—

On the 2nd February, 1918, a masonry tank 9 feet square by 12½ deep at the Simplex Mills in Bombay was being cleaned out by six Hindu workmen by means of buckets lowered through a manhole, when one of the men fell through the manhole into the tank and was at once rendered unconscious by poisonous gas. One of the other men went to his assistance, and immediately lost consciousness. The other four all attempted to rescue the two unconscious men, and were all likewise overcome. Maruti Vithoba then volunteered to rescue the men, and was lowered by a rope; he endeavoured to save one who appeared still living; but, before he could do so, was overpowered by the fumes, and had to be pulled out. Krishna Parbati at once volunteered to make a further attempt, and had nearly completed fastening a rope round one of the victims when he also had to be pulled out in an unconscious state. The six bodies were eventually recovered by the Fire Brigade, who were wearing smoke helmets; one was still living, but died a few minutes after being rescued.

In view of the fact that it was obvious that the gas was highly poisonous and its action extremely rapid, Maruti Vithoba and Krishna Parbati undoubtedly risked their lives in endeavouring to save the lives of others.

Also to John Joseph Nevin and Alfred Horn.

On the 22nd July, 1918, two miners were buried by a fall of ground in the Margaret Iron Ore Mine, Frizington, Cumberland. The fall swept out all the timber and left exposed a dangerous roof, in parts 20 feet high and fully 20 feet wide, from which masses of rock were liable to fall at any moment. As the place could not be made safe by means of timber in any reasonable time, several men took the risk of working under the exposed and dangerous roof in order to release the two imprisoned miners who were buried amongst a mixed mass of timber, stone and iron ore, while others stood on the fall and watched the roof, thereby inspiring confidence amongst the men engaged immediately underneath. The actual danger the rescuers ran was that of being trapped by a fall of ground from what was known to be a dangerous roof. Fortunately no fall took place during the work, which lasted about 1½ hours, or the rescuers could hardly have escaped injury. One of the men rescued succumbed afterwards to his injuries.

Eight men were engaged in the work of rescue. Horn and Nevin specially distinguished themselves.

Also to Michael Fogarty and Frank Duller.

On the 12th July, 1918, Fogarty and another miner named Fred Joga were blasting in the Mount Morgan Mine, Brisbane. Having inserted the charges, Joga lit the fuzes, the last of which, however, did not light properly; Fogarty had already gone to a place of safety, but Joga remained behind attempting to light the last fuze. Fogarty was not aware of this until the first charge exploded. He then at once called to Duller, and both men went back to the face, where, as they knew, two charges were still unexploded, to rescue Joga. They found him about six feet from the face, and just succeeded in dragging him clear when the second charge exploded. Joga, unfortunately, died from the injuries he had received by the explosion of the first charge. Both men undoubtedly risked their lives in the attempt to save Joga's life.

Also to Richard Edward Finch, Manager of the Park Lane Colliery, Wigan.

On the 29th January, 1919, at 4.30 p.m., two men named Shaw and Rimmer were replacing some timber near a self-acting haulage rope. The roof crashed down over their heads, burying both men. Nothing was done to rescue them until Finch arrived at 5 p.m. He shouted, and Shaw answered in a feeble voice. Finch crept over the fallen bars and was able to touch him. By dint of effort he was able to scrape the dirt from Shaw's mouth and saved him from suffocation. He called for volunteers to assist in digging out the men and three men came to his assistance. Stones and dirt continued to fall from the roof, and on several occasions Finch ordered his assistants back; though during the whole time he himself continued his exertions. Shaw was rescued at 5.30 p.m. Finch then endeavoured to rescue Rimmer, but he was found to be dead. His body was recovered at 6.30 p.m. Finch underwent great danger, and took risks no one else was willing to take.

Also to John McCabe, a drawer at the Stanrigg Colliery, Airdrie, aged 17.

On the 9th July, 1918, there was an inrush of moss into the workings. McCabe, with two other drawers and three miners, was at the bottom of number 3 shaft when they were told that the moss had broken in. The two other boys and the three men at once ascended the shaft and escaped. McCabe, however, knowing that there were men at the face who might be cut off, returned for a quarter of a mile and warned the men. He and the men he had warned were ultimately collected and raised by another shaft. When he returned to the face, McCabe did not know where the break had occurred, or whether the moss might not at any moment fill the workings through which he returned, as in fact it soon afterwards did. He faced a grave and unknown danger, which might have been fatal, in order to enable others to escape.

Also to Harry Denny.

On the 27th March, 1919, Joseph Reynolds, a foreman in Messrs. Josiah Guest and Sons' foundry at West Bromwich, while superintending the filling of a series of pig-iron moulds, stumbled and fell on to the still molten metal. No one was near, but Denny, a labourer, hearing his cries, ran up and tried to pull him away by his clothes, but these were burned through and came away in his hands. Denny then thrust his arms into the molten metal under Reynolds, caught him round the body, and lifted him clear. He then ran for assistance. Unfortunately Reynolds was so seriously injured that he died a few days afterwards.

Denny's burns were very severe, and he knowingly risked his life in endeavouring to save Reynolds.

Also to George Hoyle.

On the 27th November, 1918, at about 4.0 p.m., a fire broke out on the third floor of the cotton factory of Nahums' Union Mills Company, Halifax, and at once spread with very great rapidity. Hoyle, who is only 14 years of age, was working in the basement. As soon as he heard of the fire, he took a chemical extinguisher and ran up to the third floor. He then warned the women employed on the upper floors. By this time both staircases were burning, so that retreat by this means was impossible. He at once opened the crane door, and after seeing that the chain was run out to its full length, drew it in, and assisted about 25 women to descend by it. He remained until the last, and then descended himself without injury. Fifteen minutes after the fire broke out, the roof of the factory fell in.

By his coolness and courage Hoyle undoubtedly saved upwards of 20 lives at the risk of his own life.
