PRESENT,

The KING'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by section six of the Forestry Act, 1919, it is enacted as follows:—

“(1) It shall be lawful for His Majesty, by Order in Council, to establish consultative committees for England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales, respectively, for giving to the Commissioners in accordance with the provisions of the Order advice and assistance with respect to the exercise and performance by the Commissioners of their powers and duties under this Act.

“(2) The constitution of each consultative committee shall be such as may be determined by the Order, so, however, that the Order shall provide for the inclusion among the members of the committee of—

(a) a representative, in the case of the English Committee and the Welsh Committee, respectively, of the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries, in the case of the Scottish Committee, of the Board of Agriculture for Scotland, and in the case of the Irish Committee, of the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland;

(b) persons having practical experience of matters relating to forestry, woodcraft, and woodland industries;

(c) representatives of labour;

(d) representatives of county councils and any other local bodies interested in forestry;

(e) representatives of societies existing for the promotion of afforestation;

(f) representatives of woodland owners;”

And whereas by virtue of section one of the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries Act, 1919, it is provided that the above recited (amongst other) sections is to have effect as though a reference to the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries were substituted for a reference to the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries: Now, therefore, His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, in pursuance of the Act, and of all other powers enabling Him in that behalf, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

1.—(1) There shall be established for the purposes set out in the above recited section of the Forestry Act, 1919, a consultative committee for England, a consultative committee for Wales, a consultative committee for Scotland, and a consultative committee for Ireland.

(2) Each committee shall consist of such number of members, not exceeding thirty, as the Commissioners may determine.

(3) The members of each committee shall be appointed by the Commissioners, and shall hold office for three years:

Provided that—

(a) on a casual vacancy occurring in a committee the person appointed to fill the vacancy shall hold office until the time when the person in whose place he is appointed would regularly cease to act; and

(b) a member of committee may be re-appointed on the expiration of his term of office.

(4) There shall be included among the members of the consultative committee for England and of the consultative committee for Wales, respectively, a representative of the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries, among the members of the consultative committee for Scotland a representative of the Board of Agriculture for Scotland, and among the members of the consultative committee for Ireland a representative of the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland; which representative shall in each case be appointed after consultation with the Minister or other head of the Department.

There shall also be included among the members of each committee—

Persons having practical experience of matters relating to forestry, woodcraft, and woodland industries;

Representatives of labour;

Representatives of county councils and any other local bodies interested in forestry;

Representatives of societies existing for the promotion of afforestation; and

Representatives of woodland owners.

(5) The decision of the Commissioners shall be final if any question arises as to whether any person appointed under this Order may properly be regarded as fulfilling any of the conditions aforesaid.

2. The following provisions shall have effect with respect to each committee established under this Order:—

(1) The Commissioners shall appoint a chairman, and, after consultation with the chairman, a vice-chairman of the committee:

(2) The chairman or, in his absence the vice-chairman, or, in the absence of both, one of the members of the committee, to
