TUESDAY, 22 JUNE, 1920.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 11th day of June, 1920.

PRESENT,

The KING'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by section 3 of the Naval and Marine Pay and Pensions Act, 1865, it is enacted, inter alia, that all pay, wages, pensions, bounty money, grants, or other allowances in the nature thereof, payable in respect of services in Your Majesty's Naval or Marine Forces to a person being or having been an officer, seaman or marine, or to the widow or any relative of a deceased officer, seaman or marine, shall be paid in such manner and subject to such restrictions, conditions and provisions as are from time to time directed by Order in Council:

And whereas under subsection (1) of section 2 of the Ministry of Pensions Act, 1916, it is enacted, inter alia, that there shall be transferred to the Minister of Pensions the powers and duties of the Admiralty with respect to pensions and grants to persons who have served as officers or men, and to their widows, children and other dependants, other than service pensions, so far as such pensions and grants are payable out of moneys provided by Parliament and not provided exclusively for the purpose of Greenwich Hospital, and that His Majesty may, by Order in Council, make such adaptations in the enactments relating to such powers and duties as aforesaid as may be necessary to make them exerciseable by the Minister of Pensions (hereinafter referred to as "the Minister") and his officers:

And whereas provision was made in His Majesty's Order in Council of 14th January, 1919, for pensions to certain seamen and marines disabled by service in consequence of the Great War (hereinafter referred to as "the war"), and to the widows, children and dependants of seamen and marines whose death was due to or occurred during service in the war:

And whereas it has been represented to His Majesty by the Minister that it is desirable to make further provision concerning the pensions of seamen and marines disabled, and of the families and dependants of seamen and marines deceased, whose claims arise in respect of service during the war:

And whereas the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury have signified Their concurrence in these proposals:

Now, therefore, His Majesty, having taken the said proposals into consideration, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof and to sanction the grant of pensions to the aforesaid persons on the scales and subject to the conditions set forth in the Regulations annexed hereto, in substitution for those laid down in His Order in Council of 14th January, 1919, with effect from the 3rd day of September, 1919, and further, to empower the Minister to make or revise grants under previous Orders in respect of any claims which may have arisen between the outbreak of war and the aforesaid 3rd day of September, 1919. Provided always, that if more favourable to the seaman or marine, the pension, allowance or gratuity payable under existing Regulations shall be granted, and no grant to a seaman or marine, or to the family or dependants of a seaman or marine, shall be reassessed to his or their disadvantage.

Almeric FitzRoy.

REGULATIONS FOR PENSIONS OF BRITISH SEAMEN AND MARINES, THEIR WIDOWS, RELATIVES AND DEPENDANTS.

PART I.—SEAMEN AND MARINES.

1.—(1) A seaman or marine discharged as medically unfit for further service or while suffering impairment, such unfitness or impairment being certified as either attributable to or aggravated by naval or military service during the war and not being due to the serious negligence or misconduct of the discharged man, may, if he is disabled in any of the manners set forth in the First Schedule to these Regulations, be granted a pension at the weekly rates therein shown as corresponding to the degree of his disablement. In the case of injuries not shown therein, and in the case of disease, the pension may be assessed at the degree in the Schedule which is held most closely to represent the disablement corresponding to the injury or disease.

(2) Except in those cases where the disablement has reached its final condition, a disablement pension shall be temporary, at the rate appropriate to the temporary disablement, and the grant shall be reviewed from time to time until a permanent assessment can be made or the grant ceases. Where a temporary disablement pension, including renewals, does not run beyond one year a supplementary gratuity of £5 may be granted at the termination of such pension.

(3) In any case where the degree of disablement is assessed at less than 20 per cent.; or where it is considered more in the interests of the seaman or marine, a gratuity or final weekly allowance may be granted in place of any pension. The grant will be subject to such conditions as the Minister may determine, and its total amount will not exceed £200, and will depend on the extent of the disablement and on the other circumstances of the case.

(4) Men in possession of good conduct badges or medals shall receive the same addition to their pension in respect thereof as under existing Regulations. Chief Petty Officers, Petty Officers and Leading Rates of the Royal Navy shall also receive the same additions in respect of petty time as under existing Regulations. Non-Commissioned Officers of the Royal Marines shall receive the additions laid down in the existing Regulations for long-service pensions in respect of service above the rank of private.

A further addition will be made to the pension in respect of service at the following rates:

| | Weekly. s. d. | |
|--|------------------|---|
| Men of 6 years' service and under 12 years | 1 | 0 |
| Men of 12 years' service and under 18 years | 2 | 0 |
| Men of 18 years' service and under 21 years | 3 | 0 |
| Men of 21 years' service and under 25 years | 4 | 0 |
| Men of 25 years' service and over | 5 | 0 |

(4a) Subject to prescribed Instructions a seaman or marine entitled to a service pension may receive a pension at the rates shown in the Schedule to the 1919 Regulations (together with an addition of 20 per cent. thereof) in addition to his service pension.

(5) The disablement pension granted to a seaman or marine who held paid acting rank at the time he was wounded, injured, or removed from duty in consequence of disablement, may be at the rate appropriate to that rank.

1A.—(1) A disabled man pensioned under Article 1 of these Regulations may be granted during the continuance of his pension a weekly allowance in respect of his wife at such proportion of 10s. as corresponds to the degree of disablement at which he is assessed for pension.

(2) In this Article "wife" shall not include a wife whose marriage to the man took place—

- (a) after the man's discharge;
- (b) after the end of the war; or

(c) if during the service of the man, after the receipt of the wound or injury, or after his removal from duty on account of the contraction or aggravation of the disease, for which he receives pension;

nor, subject to the succeeding subsection, a wife who is separated from her husband.

(3) Where a wife is separated from her husband the Minister may, in his discretion, grant to such wife the weekly allowance specified in subsection (1) of this Article.

(4) An allowance as in subsection (1) of this Article, but with 7s. 6d. substituted for 10s., may be granted in respect of a woman living as his wife with the disabled man if she has drawn in respect of him separation allowance as for a wife.

2.—(1) A disabled man pensioned under Article 1 of these Regulations may be granted during the continuance of the pension an allowance for each child under the age of 16 at such proportion of the following weekly rates as corresponds to the degree of disablement at which the man is assessed for pension:—

| Column 1. | Column 2. Where an Allowance is granted under the preceding Article. | Column 3. Where no Allowance is granted under the preceding Article. |
| | s. d. | s. d. |
| For a first child | 7 6 | 10 0 |
| For a second child | 6 0 | 7 6 |
| For each child after the second | 6 0 | 6 0 |

(2) The allowance may (subject to the continuance of the pension) be granted or continued beyond the age of 16 in the case of young persons receiving not more than nominal wages, or of children being educated at secondary schools, technical institutes, or universities, and may be granted or continued between the ages of 16 and 21 in the case of a child incapable through mental or physical infirmity of earning a living, provided the infirmity existed before the child attained the age of 16.

(3) In any case in which, in the opinion of the Minister, it may become necessary to secure the proper care of a child on behalf of whom an allowance is payable, the allowance, instead of being paid to the parent, may be administered under such conditions as the Minister may determine.

(4) In the event of a parent being wholly or partially relieved of the charge of any child by its maintenance in the Army, Navy or Air Force, or in any institution wholly or mainly supported from public funds, the allowance granted on account of that child may be reduced by the extent of that relief.

3.—(1) Any disabled man pensioned under Article 1 of these Regulations whose pre-war earnings (excluding any addition thereto under paragraph (c) and with 5s. substituted for 8s. in paragraph (d) of Article 24 (6) exceeded 25s. a week and who, within one year from 6th December, 1919, or one year after the notification to him of the first award of pension under Article 1, whichever is the later date, shall prove in the prescribed manner the amount of his pre-war earnings, may, at the same time or at any time thereafter make application for an alternative pension, and if he shows that his disablement pension with any allowances granted under Articles 1a and 2, together with the average earnings (if any) of which he remains capable, are less than his proved pre-war earnings he may be granted an alternative pension in lieu of such disablement pension and allowances.

An alternative pension may be granted temporarily or permanently and shall be of an amount which, together with the average earnings (if any) of which the man is judged capable, shall not exceed his pre-war earnings nor 100s. a week; provided that—

(a) in assessing the average earnings (if any) of which a man remains capable, any decrease thereof not due to the disablement for which the man is pensioned shall be disregarded, and the refusal or neglect to undergo any course of treatment or training which in the opinion of the Minister would materially increase the man's earning capacity may be taken into account;

(b) in the case of a man who has lost both arms or both legs or the sight of both eyes the average earnings (if any) of which he may be capable shall not be taken into account; and

(c) where owing to physical incapacity or other cause over which the man had no control he has been unable to prove the amount of his pre-war earnings within the time above specified the Minister may, in his discretion, extend such time.

(2) An alternative pension shall be payable as from the date from which the claim thereto is established.

(3) Where a man pensioned under this Article or in receipt of an allowance on the alternative pension scale is separated from his wife the provisions of Article 1a (3) shall apply, and any allowance granted to the separated wife may be deducted from the man's pension or allowance.

(4) Where, in the opinion of the Minister, it may become necessary to secure the proper care of a child of a man pensioned under this Article or in receipt of an allowance on the alternative pension scale, the Minister may deduct from the alternative pension or any such allowance such sum as he may deem sufficient for the maintenance of such child, and may administer the same under such conditions as he may determine.

4. Half the pension and allowances (if any) awarded under the preceding Articles may be subject to the condition that the disabled man shall undergo medical treatment in an institution or otherwise for any period during which it may be certified that such treatment is necessary in his interests.

Such misconduct of the man as shall render it necessary, in the discretion of the Minister, to discontinue the man's treatment may be deemed to be refusal to undergo treatment.

5.—(1) When a permanent pension has been granted, it shall not be altered on account of any change in the man's earning capacity, whether resulting from training or other cause; neither shall it be subject to review except—

(a) When a man whose pension is assessed under Article 1 of these Regulations claims that there has been a substantial increase in the extent of the disablement due to the original cause.

(b) When a man whose pension is assessed under Article 1 of these Regulations, and who has duly proved his pre-war earnings as provided by Article 3, shows that it would be more advantageous to him to be assessed under that Article.

(c) When a man in receipt of an alternative pension under previous Regulations shows that by reason of the allowances granted under Article 1a of these Regulations it would be more advantageous to him to be assessed under Article 1.

(d) Under the following sub-section or under Articles 24a or 24b.

(2) The Minister may at any time order the review of any pension in any case where—

(a) A pension has, by error in interpretation or fact, been granted to a disabled man in excess of the amount appropriate to the degree of his disablement;

(b) The Minister has reason to believe that a pension has been obtained by any improper means; or

(c) A pension has been granted in error.

5A. A man who, being in receipt of any pension for disability, rejoins the Royal Navy or Marines, or enlists in the Army or joins the Royal Air Force, or is granted a commission, or is recalled to the Naval, Military, or Air Service, during the continuance of the war, shall, whilst he remains in the Naval, Military, or Air Service, be entitled—

(a) if in receipt of a permanent pension, whether disablement or alternative, to receive his appropriate disablement pension, but shall not be entitled to receive any allowances under Articles 1a or 2; and

(b) if in receipt of a temporary pension, whether disablement or alternative, to receive his appropriate disablement pension without allowances under Articles 1a or 2, for the period of the award, at the expiration of which the grant of pension will be reviewed.

6.—(1) In any case where it is certified that a disabled man to whom a pension, gratuity or final weekly allowance has been awarded under the preceding Articles of these Regulations (or, as provided in the Preamble hereto, under previous Regulations) should, in consequence of his disablement, undergo any course of medical treatment in an institution or otherwise, and he is deemed unable in consequence to provide for his own support and that of his family, there may be granted to or in respect of him, in lieu of any pension and allowances, for the purpose of undergoing treatment, for such period and subject to such conditions as the Minister may determine, an allowance as follows:—

(a) If the man lives at home during treatment—

either (i) an allowance equal to the disablement pension for the highest degree of disablement, together with an allowance of 10s. a week for his wife and allowances at the full rate under column 2 or 3, as the case may be, of Article 2 (1) of these Regulations for his children;

or (ii) where the man has duly proved his pre-war earnings as provided by Article 3 of these Regulations, an allowance equal to the maximum pension which would be payable to him under that Article if he were without earning capacity (herein referred to as an allowance on the alternative pension scale); whichever is the greater.

(b) If the man lives in an institution or elsewhere away from home during treatment at the cost, in whole or in part, of public funds—either (i) a weekly allowance of 21s. plus his service pension, or if not entitled to service pension, plus any additions under Article 1 (4) of these Regulations, and for his children the allowances at the full rate as set forth in column 2 in Article 2 (1) of these Regulations, together with a weekly allowance for his wife of 20s., or for a dependant supported by him up to the time when his treatment commences (unless prevented by circumstances beyond his control) such amount not exceeding the amount of ascertained dependence (together with an addition of 20 per cent. thereof) up to 14s. a week, as the Minister may determine; provided that where no allowance is being paid either for a wife or in lieu of an allowance for a wife, or for a dependant living with the children, weekly allowances of 12s. for the first child and 11s. for each subsequent child may be substituted for those in Article 2 (1);

whichever is the greater:

Provided that any allowance under this paragraph to a lunatic seaman or marine may be reduced by the amount which may be granted to a dependant who is not a relative of such seaman or marine;

And provided also that where the man is a lunatic without wife, child, or dependant the total cost of his treatment, his maintenance, any provision for his extra comfort, and any payment made under section 335 of the Lunacy Act, 1890 (herein below referred to as his total cost of treatment), may be paid on behalf of the man in place of any allowance as above stated, but on his recovery and discharge from the institution he shall be granted the difference between the total amount of an allowance calculated under paragraph (a) (1) or (a) (ii) above, whichever is the greater, and his total cost of treatment.

(c) If the man is maintained in an institution during treatment the cost of his treatment not being borne in whole or in part by public funds—either (i) an allowance of an amount equal to the disablement pension for the highest degree of disablement, together with weekly allowances for his children, wife, or dependant as set forth in paragraph (b) (i) above;

or (ii) where the man has duly proved his pre-war earnings as provided by Article 3 of these Regulations, an allowance on the alternative pension scale;

whichever is the greater.

(2) In the application of the preceding sub-section—

(i) Where the man is entitled to a service pension the allowance under paragraphs (a) (1) and (c) (1) equal to the disablement pension shall be calculated under Article 1 (4) (a) of these Regulations;

(ii) If the man is eligible for an allowance under sub-section (4) of Article 1a he may be granted, in lieu of an allowance for a wife, an allowance of 7s. 6d. a week under paragraph (a) or 14s. a week under (b) or (c.)

(iii) Any allowance for a child shall be subject to the provisions of sub-sections (2), (3) and (4) of Article 2, and where an affiliation order has been made with respect to any child the allowance may be reduced to the amount stated in the order.

(3) Any charges, fees, or expenses in respect of the treatment of a disabled man that are not otherwise provided for may be paid under such conditions as the Minister may determine.

(4) In any case where it is certified that a disabled man should, in consequence of his disablement, undergo medical treatment in circumstances which do not render him unable to provide for his own support and that of his family, but require him to absent himself from his work on one or more occasions in a week, there may be granted to him in addition to any pension, gratuity, or final weekly allowance awarded to him under the preceding Articles of these Regulations an allowance not exceeding 16s. a week for the time he is required so to absent himself, the allowance to be subject to such conditions as the Minister may determine.

6a. In addition to any pension awarded under the foregoing Articles there may be granted, under such conditions as the Minister may determine, to or on behalf of a man disabled in the highest degree, an allowance not exceeding 20s. a week in any case where a constant attendant is necessary.

7.—(1) A seaman or marine discharged as medically unfit for further service, such unfitness being neither attributable to nor aggravated by naval or military service, and not being due to the serious negligence or misconduct of the discharged man, may be granted a gratuity or final weekly allowance. The grant will be subject to such conditions as the Minister may determine. In exceptional circumstances it may amount to a sum not exceeding a total of £150, and generally it will depend on the extent to which the man is incapacitated, on the length and character of his service, and on the other circumstances of the case.

(2) Subject to such conditions as he may determine, the Minister may pay any charges, fees, or expenses, not otherwise provided for, in respect of the treatment for the period of the war and 12 months afterwards of any disabled man who comes within the provisions of the preceding subsection, and who is certified to need medical treatment in an institution; provided that such treatment shall be limited to the disability for which the man was discharged.

During such treatment there may be granted to the wife and children of such disabled man, or to a dependant as particularised in subsection (1) (b) of Article 6, allowances in accordance with the provisions of that subsection.

8.—(1) A seaman or marine, other than a seaman or marine demobilised on or after 11th November, 1918, discharged as medically unfit for further service, or while suffering impairment, may be granted a temporary pension of 40s. a week for any period that may elapse between the date of his discharge and the announcement of a decision as to the award of pension or gratuity in his case, together with allowances under Articles 1a and 2 at the full disablement rate from the date of cessation of separation allowance. Arrears of this temporary pension will not be granted for more than a fortnight before an intimation of the discharge is received by the Ministry, or if there has been no such intimation before the date of any application that may be made to the Ministry for an allowance or for a pension.

(2) This temporary pension will be deducted from any pension for the corresponding period, in so far as the pension for that period may be sufficient to meet it, but no deduction on account of the temporary pension exceeding the rate of pension will be made from any subsequent issues of pension, and no deduction will be made from any gratuity or final weekly allowance.

(3) Subject to such conditions as he may determine, the Minister may pay any charges, fees, or expenses that are not otherwise provided for in respect of the medical treatment of any disabled man to whom a temporary pension has been granted under subsection (1) of this Article, and who is certified to need medical treatment in consequence of the disability for which he was discharged.

9. If a man after discharge suffers from a disablement which is certified as either attributable to or aggravated by naval or military service during the war, such disablement not being due to the man's serious negligence or misconduct, he may be granted a disablement pension or a gratuity or final weekly allowance under Article 1 of these Regulations as if he had been discharged as medically unfit for further service upon the date from which his claim was established.

PART II.—WIDOWS AND DEPENDANTS.

10.—(1) Pensions to the widows, children, and dependants of deceased seamen or marines, for which provision is made in the following articles, shall not be claimed as a right, but shall be given as a reward of service, and no pension shall be granted or continued to a widow or dependant who, in the opinion of the Minister is unworthy of a grant from public funds, and it shall be in the power of the Minister to terminate or suspend any pension that may have been granted to such persons, or to provide for its administration under such conditions as he may determine.

(2) Where a widow, or a dependant under Article 20 of these Regulations, is under treatment for physical or mental disability in a poor law or other institution at the cost, either wholly or in part, of the Poor Law Authorities, any pension or allowance which may have been granted to her shall be administered on behalf of herself and her children under such conditions as the Minister may determine.

11. The widow of a seaman or marine who (a) is killed while in the performance of naval or military duty during the war, or (b) dies as a result of wounds or injuries received in the performance of such duty within seven years of receiving such wounds or injuries, or (c) dies of disease, certified as contracted or commencing while on active service during the war, or as having been aggravated by such active service, within seven years of his removal from duty on account of such disease, may, provided the man's death has not been caused by his serious negligence or misconduct, be granted a widow's pension at the following weekly rates:—

| Column 1. Rank of Husband. | Column 2. Widow over 40 years, or with Children eligible for Allowance. | Column 3. Widow not over 40 years and without Children eligible for Allowance. |
| | s. d. | s. d. |
| Marine Warrant Officer, Class I. | 40 0 | 30 0 |

| Chief Petty Officers, Colour and Staff Sergeants of Marines. | 33 4 | 25 0 |
| First-class Petty Officers (O.S.), Petty Officers (N.S.), and Sergeants of Marines. | 31 1 | 23 4 |
| Second-class Petty Officers, Leading Rates and Corporals of Marines. | 28 11 | 21 8 |
| All Naval Ratings below those described above and Marines below Corporal. | 26 8 | 20 0 |

The pension granted to the widow of a seaman or marine who held paid acting rank at the time he was killed or was removed from duty owing to wounds, injuries, or disease from which he subsequently died may be at the rate appropriate to that rank.

12. A widow pensioned under Article 11 of these Regulations may be granted an allowance at the following weekly rates for each child under the age of 16 so long as the child is maintained by her:—

|-------------------------------------|----|----|
| For a first child | 10 | 0 |
| For a second child | 7 | 6 |
| For each child after the second ... | 6 | 0 |

The provisions for the grant or continuance of this allowance beyond the age of 16, for its administration to secure the proper maintenance of the child, and for its reduction to the extent to which the parent is relieved of the charge of the child shall be as set forth in subsections (2), (3), and (4) of Article 2 of these Regulations.

13.—(1) Any widow in receipt of a pension under the second column in Article 11 of these Regulations who makes application and shows that she was married to the seaman or marine before the commencement of the war or before the date of his enlistment, whichever was the later, and that her widow's pension with any children's allowances and any pension under Article 18 in respect of the seaman or marine is, or eventually may be, less than two-thirds of her husband's pre-war earnings, may be granted, in lieu of her widow's pension and any such children's allowances and pension an alternative pension (which shall not exceed two-thirds of such deceased man's pre-war earnings) up to a maximum of 66s. 8d. a week: provided

(a) That application shall be made within one year from 6th December, 1919, or one year after notification to the widow of the award of pension under Article 11, whichever is the later;

(b) that such widow's pension under Article 11 (together with any such children's allowances and pension) shall, if greater than the alternative pension assessed under this sub-section, continue until it becomes less than the alternative pension;

(c) that if a widow to whom an alternative pension has been granted under this sub-section ceases to be eligible for a pension under the second column of Article 11, but would be eligible for a pension under the third column, her alternative pension shall cease to be calculated under this subsection and shall be thenceforth calculated under subsection (2) of this Article; and

(d) that the provision in Article 3 (4) of these Regulations to secure the proper care of a child shall apply in the case of any pension awarded under this subsection.

(2) Any widow in receipt of a pension under the third column in Article 11 who makes application and shows that she was married to the seaman or marine before the commencement of the war or before the date of his enlistment, whichever was the later, and that her widow's pension with any pension under Article 18 in respect of the seaman or marine is, or eventually may be, less than one half of her husband's pre-war earnings, may be granted, in lieu of her widow's pension and any such pension under Article 18, an alternative pension (which shall not exceed one-half of such deceased man's pre-war earnings) up to the maximum of 50s. a week: provided

(a) that application shall be made within one year from 6th December, 1919, or one year after the notification to the widow of the award of pension under Article 11, whichever is the later;

(b) that such widow's pension under Article 11 (together with any pension under Article 18) shall, if greater than the alternative pension assessed under this subsection, continue until it becomes less than the alternative pension; and

(c) when the widow reaches the age of 40 the alternative pension shall be raised from one-half of her husband's pre-war earnings to two-thirds thereof up to a maximum of 66s. 8d. a week.

(3) Any pension under Article 18 of these Regulations shall be deducted from a widow's alternative pension.

14. In addition to any pension and children's allowances awarded under the foregoing three Articles a widow may be granted, under such conditions as the Minister may determine, a gratuity to meet expenses consequent on the death of the seaman or marine not exceeding £5 for herself and £1 on account of each child for whom she may be receiving separation allowance or in respect of whom she is eligible for an allowance under Article 12.

15. The widow of a seaman or marine who, during the war, has died from wounds, injuries or disease, neither attributable to naval or military service nor certified as contracted or commencing while on active service nor as having been aggravated by such service, but not due to the serious negligence or misconduct of the deceased man, may be granted a temporary pension of 15s. a week for the period of the war and for 12 months afterwards.

If the seaman or marine died in the circumstances set forth above whilst in naval or military service, the widow may be granted in addition a gratuity to meet expenses consequent on the man's death not exceeding £5 for herself and £1 on account of each child for whom she may be receiving separation allowance.

16. Any pension granted to the widow of a seaman or marine under Articles 11 or 13 of these Regulations shall cease on her re-marriage, and she may then be given a gratuity equal to one year of her widow's pension calculated under Articles 11 and 14 of the 1919 Regulations, subject to such conditions as to payment as the Minister may determine. Allowances for children under Article 12 of these Regulations may be paid after re-marriage.

17.—(1) The widow of a man who was at the time of his death (not being due to his serious negligence or misconduct) in receipt of a disablement pension or of an alternative pension which, calculated under either Article 1 or 3 of the 1919 Regulations would not have been less than 10s. a week, may be granted a pension of not more than one-half of the deceased man's pension, calculated at the rates set forth in the Schedule to the 1919 Regulations, together with a prescribed addition in respect of his rank, and such pension shall in no case be less than 5s. a week nor at a higher rate than provided for under Article 11 of such Regulations, this grant to be subject to such conditions as the Minister may determine, and to cease on re-marriage.

(2) "Widow" in this Article means a widow—

(a) the circumstances of whose husband's death do not entitle her to a pension under Article 11 of these Regulations; and

(b) who, if her husband had died in the circumstances set forth in Article 11 of these Regulations, would have been eligible for a pension under that Article.

(3) The motherless children of a man whose widow would have been eligible for a pension under this Article may be granted pensions in accordance with the terms and subject to the limitations of Article 18 (1) of the 1919 Regulations, the total of such pensions not to exceed what might have been granted to the widow as pension under sub-section (1) of this Article.

18. The child of a seaman or marine who has died in the circumstances set forth in Article 11 of these Regulations may be awarded a pension not exceeding:—

(1) 12s. a week where the child is or becomes motherless, or has been removed from the control of its mother. In the event of two or more children being maintained by one person in the same household or institution the amount will be reduced to 11s. for each child after the first; and

(2) 8s. a week where an affiliation order was in force on account of a child at the time of the man's death, or, in the case of the child of a woman who was not married to or supported by the man, where there is satisfactory proof that he was its father.

Any pension granted under this Article shall be administered subject to such conditions as the Minister may determine and, as far as they are applicable, the provisions of sub-sections (2) and (4) of Article 2 of these Regulations shall apply to any such pension.

19. The separated wife of any seaman or marine who has died in the circumstances set forth in Article 11 of these Regulations may, provided the marriage took place at a time entitling the widow to a pension and the man contributed to her support, be granted a pension equal to the amount due to her under a separation order or otherwise paid by or in respect of her husband, or both, but not less than 3s. 6d. a week and not exceeding 13s. 9d. a week, and allowances for her children, if maintained by her, as in Article 12 of these Regulations. Allowances for children as in Article 12 may also be granted to the separated wife of a seaman or marine where he did not contribute to her support.

20. Any woman who has lived as his wife with a seaman or marine who has died in the circumstances set forth in Article 11 of these Regulations may, if she had been wholly or substantially dependent on that man, and has been drawing separation allowance as for a wife or was eligible for such allowance, be granted a pension as follows:—

(1) If and for so long as she has any children of the seaman or marine in her charge, 12s. a week and allowances for children as in Article 12 of these Regulations.

(2) If she has no children of the seaman or marine, or has ceased to have them in her charge (otherwise than from their being removed from her control on account of her misconduct), 12s. a week for the period of the war and 12 months afterwards, or for 12 months after ceasing to have any child of the deceased man in her charge, whichever be the later date, and for any subsequent period during which, from infirmity or age, she is wholly or partly incapable of supporting herself.

21.—(1) The parent (or parents) of a seaman or marine who has died in the circumstances set forth in Article 11 of these Regulations may be granted a pension under the following conditions:—

(a) If dependent on the man, a pension equal to the amount of pre-war dependence (together with an addition of 20 per cent. thereof), or 4s. 2d. a week, whichever is the greater, but not exceeding 18s. a week, or a pension under (c) if more beneficial; or

(b) If at any time either or both of the parents is or are wholly or partly incapable of self-support from age or infirmity and in pecuniary need, a pension of not less than 4s. 2d. (or 5s. if the conditions at (c) are complied with) and not exceeding 18s. a week; or

(c) Where the man was unmarried and where no pension or allowance is being paid to or for a child or dependant in respect of him, a pension of 5s. a week, irrespective of pre-war dependence, age, infirmity or pecuniary need: provided that the man was under the age of 26 at the outbreak of the war, or when called into actual service, if later.

An allowance as in Article 12 may be paid for any child of the seaman or marine maintained by the parent and not otherwise provided for under these Regulations.

(2)—(i) A pension under subsection (1) (a) or (c) of this Article may be granted on account of each son who has died in the circumstances set forth in Article 11, but the total of the pensions shall not exceed 18s. a week for each surviving parent.

(ii) If the amount of pre-war dependence on two or more sons was greater than 18s. a week (or than 36s. a week in the case of two surviving parents), a gratuity not exceeding that under Article 22 (2) may be given, under such conditions as the Minister may determine, in respect of the balance of pre-war dependence not represented in the pension.

(iii) If either parent is in receipt of a pension in respect of a son who has died as an officer, the pension or pensions which may be granted under this Article in respect of any other son or sons shall not, together with that pension, exceed the pension which has been or could have been awarded to the widow of the officer son under Article 11 (1) or (2) and the Second Schedule to the Regulations annexed to the Order in Council of 29th September, 1917, or any provisions substituted therefor, or where there are two parents, 36s. a week, if greater.

(3) Subject to subsection (2) of this Article, the pension shall be the same whether both parents are concerned or there is only one parent, and on the death of one parent payment may be transferred to the surviving parent, but so that no parent receives a pension of more than 18s. a week.

(4) A pension shall not be granted to the mother of a seaman or marine under subsection (1) (a) or (c) of this Article if she marries or re-marries after the date of mobilisation, or enlistment if later.

(5) The parent (or parents) of a seaman or marine who has died in the circumstances set forth in Article 15 may, if they would have been eligible for a pension under subsection (1) (a) or (b) of this Article had his death taken place in the circumstances set forth in Article

11, be awarded a grant as in Article 22 (2) at the discretion of the Minister.

22.—(1) Any dependant of a seaman or marine who has died in the circumstances set forth in Article 11, not coming under Articles 18, 19, 20, or 21 of these Regulations, but in respect of whom separation allowance has been paid, or who was eligible for such allowance, may, provided he or she is wholly or partially incapable of self-support and in pecuniary need, be granted a pension equal to the amount of pre-war dependence (together with an addition of 20 per cent. thereof), but not exceeding 16s. 6d. a week, so long as the incapacity continues. If it ceases, a final gratuity may be given not exceeding the amount of 26 weeks' pension, or the balance of such gratuity as might have been issued under the following subsection if there had been no incapacity, whichever is the greater.

(2) Any dependant of a seaman or marine who has died in the circumstances set forth in Article 11, but not including a woman who has lived with a seaman or marine as his wife, may, if not entitled to a pension under the preceding subsection, receive a grant by way of gratuity or weekly payment, not exceeding in all a year's pay of the deceased man or a year's allowance at the rate at which separation allowance and allotment were last paid or payable, whichever is the greater, to be awarded at the discretion of the Minister.

23. Any pension granted to the separated wife or to a female dependant of a seaman or marine under Articles 19, 20, 21, or 22 of these Regulations shall cease on her marriage or re-marriage, and she may then be given a gratuity not exceeding the amount of 26 weeks' pension based on the corresponding Article of the 1919 Regulations, subject to such conditions as the Minister may determine. Allowances for children under Articles 19 and 20 of these Regulations may be paid after marriage or re-marriage.

(2) "Widow" means the widow of any seaman or marine, but shall not include a widow whose marriage took place after the end of the war, or after the man's discharge, or if during his service after the receipt of the wound or injury which caused his death, or after removal from duty on account of the contraction (if contracted during the war) or aggravation of the disease which caused his death, or a widow who was separated from her husband at the time of his death.

(3) "Child" means any child of a seaman or marine born before or within nine months after the man's discharge, and may include any child regularly maintained by him at the commencement of the war or at the date of his enlistment, whichever was the later, but shall not include the child of a wife or widow who was married to the seaman or marine after the end of the war, or after his discharge, or after the receipt of the wound or injury in consequence of which he was discharged or which caused his death, or after removal from duty on account of the contraction (if contracted during the war) or the aggravation of the disease in consequence of which he was discharged or which caused his death, and shall not include an illegitimate child born later than nine months after the removal of the man from duty on account of the disability for which he was discharged or which caused his death: Provided that in Articles 6 (1) and 7 (2) the words "child" and "children" shall also include any child of a seaman or marine born after nine months after the man's discharge who is recognised as being or proved to be his child.

(4) "Parent" includes a grandparent or other person who has been in the place of a parent to a seaman or marine, and has wholly or mainly supported him for not less than one year at some time before the commencement of the war.

(6)—(a) "Pre-War Earnings" means, in the case of a man who was in employment under a contract of service, the average weekly earnings during the twelve months immediately preceding the outbreak of the war. Average weekly earning shall be computed generally in accordance with the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1906: provided that where in the course of such twelve months there was a change in the man's rate of remuneration, and such change was not of a temporary, but of a reasonably permanent nature, then the average weekly earnings shall be calculated on the man's earnings during the period since such change in his remuneration, or since the last of such changes if there were more than one. In the case of a man in a trade, business, or profession the average profits of the last three years preceding the commencement of the war shall be taken, or of such lesser period as he engaged therein.

(b) In the calculation of the pension payable to or on account of a seaman or marine who at the commencement of the war was serving and had served not less than one year as an apprentice in any recognised trade, the standard rate of wages of that trade in the district at the time of the commencement of the war may be substituted for pre-war earnings, provided enlistment took place before the age of 26, and the man is by reason of his disablement incapable of completing or has completed his apprenticeship.

(c) In computing the average weekly earnings or average profits of a man or the standard rate of wages of his trade, as the case may be, an addition of 60 per cent. may be made to any such earnings, profits, or rate of wages.

(7) "Pre-War Dependence" means the amount, expressed as a weekly or annual sum, representing the value of the support afforded to, or of benefits conferred upon, a dependant by a seaman or marine for a reasonable period immediately preceding the commencement of the war (or entry into service or enlistment, if subsequent to the commencement of the war), exclusive, however, of any increase thereof due to circumstances arising out of the war in the case of entry into service or enlistment subsequent to the commencement of the war, and shall include the following:—

(a) Amount regularly contributed by the man if he received no material benefits in return therefor.

(b) Amount regularly contributed by the man in excess of expenditure incurred on his account.

(12a) "The 1919 Regulations" means the Regulations annexed to the Order in Council of the 14th January, 1919, with respect to the pensions of seamen and marines disabled, and of the families of seamen and marines deceased, in consequence of the war.

24a. The rates of pension and allowance specified in the Second Schedule hereto, and any pensions and allowances awarded under or by virtue of the Articles therein mentioned (hereinafter referred to as the scheduled rates), shall be deemed to be based on the cost of living for the year 1919, and shall be subject as prescribed to increase or decrease in accordance with the increased or decreased cost of living as compared with the cost of living for the year 1919, such increased or decreased cost being determined by a certificate to be furnished in January of the year 1923 and of each succeeding year for this purpose by the Minister of Labour: provided that the scheduled rates shall not be reduced below the minimum rates set forth in the second column of the Second Schedule hereto, and that no readjustment shall take effect before the 1st day of April 1923.

There shall be no readjustment in the year 1923 unless the certificate of the Minister of Labour shows a difference between the cost of living in the year 1919 and in the year 1922 of at least 5 per cent., nor shall there be any readjustment in any succeeding year unless the certificate of the Minister of Labour shows that the cost of living for the previous year differs from the cost of living in the year as to which the last readjustment was made (or the year 1919 if there had been no readjustment) by at least 5 per cent. of the cost of living in the year 1919.

"Cost of living" in this Article means the general cost of living of working-class families.

24b. Where a seaman or marine is injured or killed in such circumstances that a pension, allowance, or grant is payable to or in respect of him under these Regulations, and where he or his widow, child, or dependant receives compensation from or on behalf of the person alleged to be responsible for the act or omission which caused the injury or death, any such compensation may be taken into consideration in assessing any pension, allowance or grant which might be awarded to or in respect of the man, and where the compensation is received after assessment it may be taken into consideration and the assessment may be amended or cancelled accordingly.

25.—(1) Any provisions at present obtaining in the King's Regulations and Admiralty Instructions, or in any Orders in Council relating to the pensions or grants to disabled seamen or marines, or to the pensions, allowances and gratuities to the widows, children, relatives and other dependants of deceased seamen and marines, shall remain in force, except in so far as they are modified by these Regulations, and with the substitution, so far as these pensions, grants, allowances, and gratuities are concerned, of the Minister of Pensions for the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty; and the provisions of Her late Majesty's Order in Council of the 15th March, 1893, shall apply to the dependant of a seaman or marine in the same way as to the seaman or marine.

(2) Nothing in these Regulations shall be held to affect the existing Orders in Council or Regulations in regard to service pensions or other grants the administration of which continues to be vested in the Board of Admiralty.

26.—(1) The Minister shall, subject to the provisions of the War Pensions (Administrative Provisions) Act, 1919, be the sole administrator and interpreter of these Regulations.

and shall be empowered to issue such detailed Instructions in reference thereto as he may from time to time deem necessary.
