Madrid, June 21. N. S.

THE last Letters from Catalonia say, The Spanish Army was still Encamped near Ostiricks; and that they did not lose above 200 Men in the late Action near Ario d' Arcemes. Don Francisco de Velasco, the new Viceroy of Catalonia, will be going thither in few days; and Don Francisco Mequel del Poyo, about the same time to his Government of Cadix. The Flota designed for New Spain will be ready about the middle of the next month; and 6 Spanish Men of War are fitting at Cadix to go out with them.

Venice, June 22. They continue to send from hence great Supplies of Provisions and Ammunition to our Fleet and Army in the Levant: The Convoy that is fitting here will be ready in few days; and several Companies, now at the Lido, will be sent thither with this Opportunity.

Turin, June 25. The French made a great Forage on the 19th instant towards Colegne, and another on the 23th, being Supported by most of their Horse: Their Parties have endeavoured several times to pass the River Doire, to put the Country on the other side under Contribution, but they have been repulsed as often as they attempted it, by the Peasants, who guard the Passes, assisted by small Detachments from our Army. Our Parties are abroad daily, and greatly annoy the Enemy; one of them met 3 days ago with a French Party of 150 Men, and killed and took about 50 of them; the rest fled. The 23th arrived here 170 Deserters and Prisoners. They say there is a Scarcity of Provisions in the French Camp; and that the Soldiers complain of the want of their Pay. The Forces of the Allies continue in their former Stations, viz. part within the Lines of this City, and the rest at Moncalier, and at Ville Stenon along the Po.

Vienna, June 27. Since the News of the Death of the King of Poland, divers Consultations have been held at this Court: The Count de Sedelinsky is sent away Post to manage the Emperor's Interests there, and he is to be followed by a solemn Embassy, with all the Expedition that may be. They speak already of several Princes who, 'tis thought, will appear Candidates at this New Election, but there can be no Judgment made upon such early Discourses, before it appear what are the Inclinations of the principal Parties in that Kingdom. The last Letters from the Imperial Army, dated the 22th instant, left them Encamped near the River Marosch, not far from Chonad; The Elector of Saxony had before he passed the Theyffe at Segedin, sent a Detachment to cover the Garrison of Titul. The like care has been taken of Peter Waradin. What will be attempted is not yet known; but they talk no more of the Siege of Temeswar. The 4000 Saxons, with the Pala-pine Regiment commanded by the Great Master of the Teutonick Order, who went hence the last week, are ordered to join the Main Army, and to make all the Diligence they can in their March thither.

Francfort, July 4. The French Army commanded by the Marschal de Eboisclau repassed the Rhine the 29th of the last month at Phillipsburg, and was by our last advice Encamped between Spire and Oppenheim. This hasty Retreat, which was occasioned by the News they received that the Germans were marching towards them, gives People reason to believe, that either their Army is very much diminished since their passing the Rhine, considering the accounts they then gave of it, and consequently is not in a Condition to stand a Battle, or else that they have a strange unwillingness to come to Action. Prince Lewis of Baden at the same time approaches towards the Rhine, by the way of Wislock, and had his head Quarters two days ago at Fleckingen; Some think he will pass that River.

Cologne, July 6. The Forces that are marched to the Meuse with the Landgrave of Hesse, consist in 17 Squadrons and 5 Battalions of the Troops of Hesse, 17 Squadrons and 5 Battalions of Hannover and Zell, 6 Squadrons and 4 Battalions of Munster, and 3 Squadrons and 2 Battalions of Holstein, making together 43 Squadrons and 16 Battalions.

Hamburgh, July 6. People are now expecting with much Curiosity to hear what passes in Poland; where there is like to be great Intreaguings against the next Election. The King deceased has left 3 Sons, Prince James, Prince Alexander, and Prince Constantine, the Eldest of whom is Married to the Princess of Neubourgh, Sister to the Empress: He has by his Will given to the Queen, most of the Treasure he has left, which is very great.

Pavis, July 6. Upon the News of the Death of the King of Poland, an Express has been dispatched to the French Ambassador there, with Directions how to act upon this Occasion; but 'tis not yet declared whom this Court will appear for at the approaching Election. They write from our Maritime Provinces, That the Gentry are very much harassed by keeping up the Arrear-ban to defend the Coasts; and that in Brittany they have besides drawn towards the Sea Shore several of the Standing Troops. We have had of late a great deal of Rain, which still continues, and makes us fear a bad Harvest and Vintage.

Hague, July 10. N. S. We are told from Amsterdam, That 12 Bomb Vessels are ready to sail from thence with the first fair Wind; and from Zealand, That several Transport Vessels are provided there. They write from Maastricht, That a great many Boats Boats laden with Artillery, &c. lay there and at Siege, ready to move according to the Orders they should receive. The Marschal de Boufflers has drawn all the Troops he could from the neighbouring Garrisons to strengthen his Army.

The Content Frigate took some days before; a French Privateer of 8 Guns and 26 Men belonging to Brest; from whence she sailed about a fortnight before. The Lyme had also taken two small French Privateers, and carried them to Guernsey.

Our Artillery, consisting of about 50 great Guns and 30 Mortars, is Embarked at Ghent, and ordered to Bruges, towards which place 30 Battalions of Foot are likewise marched from Prince Vaudemont's Army, which gives the French great jealousy, of our having some Design in Flanders.
