

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday July 30. to Monday Aug. 3. 1696.

GEXOVA, July 16. N. S.

THE Spanish Galleys that arrived here the last week, are gone to Porto-Longone, and from thence will proceed according to their Orders. There are several French Privateers in these Seas, one of which commanded by the Sieur Bremont, was lately taken by two Dutch Capers. By a Vessel come from the Coast of Barbary we are informed, that the Dey of Argiers was marching with his Army against the Emperor of Morocco.

Venice, July 20. 'Tis above a fortnight since we received any Letters from the Levant; The last said, the Venetian Fleet was sailed from Napoli di Romania, taking its Course towards the Archipelago; and we expect our next will tell us, that they have made some Attempt upon the Enemy; In the mean time there seems to be no appearance of Action in the Morea; the Venetians having posted a good Body of their Troops near the Isthmus of Corinth to secure that Pass; and the Turks not being in a condition to give us any disturbance on that side, seeing by our last Letters they had not been able to get above 8 or 9000 Men together near Thebes, the place appointed for the Rendezvous of their Army in those parts. Signior Cosani, the Popes Nuntio, arrived here this day; and an Ambassador is daily expected from the Emperor to supply the place of the Count de la Torre, who died here in December last. 'Tis said, that the Emperor will not agree to the Neutrality, which by the late Treaty between the Duke of Savoy and the French, is proposed for all Italy, and that his Imperial Majesty intends to send a strong Reinforcement to his Troops, in order to carry on the War on this side.

Milan, July 20. The Marquis de Leganez, our Governor, has, since his return from Piedmont, appointed the principal Ingeniers in the Service of this State, to view our Frontier places, and report what Fortifications are necessary to be made for their Security; which does not look as if he thought the Neutrality offered for Italy would be accepted; and indeed 'tis the general Opinion here, that instead of that, yet greater Efforts will be made by the Emperor and the King of Spain to prosecute the War against the French from these parts; and that the Duke of Savoy's Country, being by this means exposed to the Armies on both sides, both He and the French will be deprived of the advantage they propose by the Treaty they have now made. In the mean time the Spanish Troops, with the Imperialists, and those of the other Allies, which together make a Body of near 30000 Men, remain in their Camp near Moncalier, expecting Orders from the Princes their Masters.

From the Imperial Camp near Chonad in Hungary, July 17. We have within these few days received Advices by several ways of the Grand Signior's March towards the Danube, and that Bridges are laid over that River by his Order, which makes us think he intends to pass it, and to march towards Transilvania, as he did the last year; Whereupon a Council of War having been held by the Elector of Saxony, it is thought most advisable that the Army shall continue in this Camp to observe the Enemies Motions; taking care at the same time to secure Titul, and the other Places which may be attack'd by Detachements sent from Belgrade: The Count de Heitershaim, who was charged with this Commission, and left the Army the 13th, having been at Titul, and given such Orders as he thought necessary, returned hither this day. The Additional Troops of Saxony, being about 4000 Men, have joined the Army; The Auxiliary Forces of Denmark and Brandenburg, who may make about 3000 more, are on their march this way; and the Troops from Transilvania, under the command of Prince Thomas of Vaudemont, are so near us, that they may join us in few days. The young Duke of Lorraine is coming to the Army, and expected towards the end of this week, to make the Campaign with us. This afternoon were brought in several Prisoners; some of which have been lately at Temeswarer, and report, that they heard while they were there that the Grand Signior was come to Nissa, and that 'twas believed he would pass the Danube with his Army between Widin and Semendria.

Vicima, July 21. By the last Letters from Hungary, the Imperial Army continued near Chonad on the River Marosch, and would remain there till they saw which way the Grand Signior intended to move with his Army, whether towards Transilvania or Peter-Waradin; according to whose Motions the Imperial Generals would regulate theirs; and in the mean time the Troops of Transilvania were ordered to advance, and be in a readiness to join the main Army, if it was found necessary. The Reports concerning the strength of the Enemies Army are very various and uncertain; but all the Advices agree, that the number of the Troops from Asia falls much short of what the Grand Signior expected from thence; which the Bassa's that command them excuse on account of the Disturbances there are in those parts by the Revolt of the Arabs, which obliges the keeping part of the Forces at home that might otherwise be employed in Hungary. A great many Boats are laden here with Provisions and Ammunition, to be laid up in the Magazines of Buda, for the use of the Army, as there may be occasion. They write by the last Letters from Peter-Waradin, that the Body of Turks, who it was thought intended to attack the Fortress of Titul, were returned to Belgrade, but gave out that they would