

Yarmouth, November 9. On the 7th came into this Road five Dutch Ships from the Texell, and another Yesterday, all bound to the Streights. The same day passed through our Road the Sweepstakes, with a Fleet of laden Colliers bound for the River.

Portsmouth, November 10. Sir Cloudestey Showell continues at Spithead. On Friday came in the Plimouth, York, Portland, and South-Sea-Castle, with two French Vessels, which they took on the French Coast.

London, Novem. 10. This Afternoon at the Sessions of the Admiralty held at the Old-Baily, Joseph Dawson, Edward Foreseth, William May, William Bishop, James Lewis, and John Sparkes, six of the Pyrates of Every's Crew, convicted upon several Indictments, received Judgment of Death, as in Cases of Piracy. And John Murphey, an Irishman, was indicted of High Treason, for serving on Board a French Privateer, who having taken an English Ship, the said Murphey went on Board her, in order to carry her into France, as Prize, but the Vessel was afterwards retaken; of which he was found Guilty, and Judgment of Death passed upon him, as in Cases of High-Treason.

Whitehall, Nov. There has been Presented to His Majesty an Address of the President, Council and General Assembly of Barbadoes, in behalf of themselves and the rest of the Inhabitants of that Island; wherein they declare, That as they have already sincerely and unanimously subscribed the Association, for Defence of His Majesty's Royal Person and Government against all His Majesty's Enemies at home and abroad, so they deem it their further indispensable Duty by this their hearty Address, to Congratulate his Majesty's wonderful and happy Deliverance from the most barbarous and bloody Assassination lately designed of His Royal Person, by Execrable Villains and Monsters of Mankind, who are the Dishonor of the present, and will be the Horror and Detestation of future Ages. And pray that the good Providence of God, which has so often covered His Royal Head in days of Battle, and has disappointed the dark and secret Plots of his Enemies, will still preserve His Majesty from all their wicked Designs, for the Good and Comfort of his own Subjects, and all the Protestant Interest in Europe, of whose Deliverance from Popery and French Tyranny his Majesty has been the happy and glorious Instrument; and that His Majesty's Life may be long; and Success and Victory may ever attend all His Royal Undertakings. A very Loyal Address has been likewise presented to His Majesty on the same ocasion, from the Grand Jury of the Island of Barbadoes.

The Mail from Holland of Friday last is not yet come in.
