Cambridge in exercise of the powers given to us by the 54th Section of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1877 do hereby alter and amend the Statutes of our said College by repealing the whole body of the existing Statutes including those made by us on the 6th and 13th of December 1920 but not yet approved by His Majesty and by substituting therefor the following Statutes:

CHAPTER I.

Of the Constitution of the College.

1. The College of the Lady Frances Sidney Sussex shall consist of a Master, ten Fellows, and thirty-six Scholars.

2. The Governing Body of the College shall be the Master and Fellows (excluding Honorary Fellows and Research Fellows).

3. If at any time it shall appear to the Governing Body that the revenue of the College is greater than the amount required to afford to each Fellow a dividend of two hundred and fifty pounds (£250) a year, they may submit to the Visitor a scheme approved by the majority of the Governing Body for increasing the number of Fellowships or Scholarships, or for providing a fund for granting gratuities to poor and deserving members of the College in statu pupillari, or for applying the surplus in some other way for the benefit of the College or of the University, and the said scheme, if approved by the Visitor, shall thenceforth have the same force and effect as if it formed part of these Statutes. The Visitor shall have power at any time on a like application of the Governing Body to vary any such scheme, but he shall not be authorised at any time to approve any scheme for diminishing the number of Fellowships below ten, or the number of Scholarships below thirty-six.

CHAPTER II.

Of College Meetings.

1. Meetings of the Governing Body, to be called College Meetings, shall be summoned by the Master when he thinks fit, by sending written or printed notices to the Fellows in residence at least one day before, but, except in the cases hereinafter provided for, he shall not be required to give more than one day's notice, nor to send notice to the non-resident Fellows.

2. Whenever requested by three of the Fellows, the Master shall summon a College Meeting to be held within ten days of such request, and shall send notice of such Meeting to all the Fellows at least six days before the date fixed for the Meeting.

3. At least four members of the Governing Body shall be required to be present to constitute a College Meeting.

The Master or his Deputy shall preside at all College Meetings, or if neither of them be present, the Meeting shall elect a chairman.

Each member present shall have one vote, and (except in cases otherwise provided for in these Statutes) in case of an equality of votes the chairman shall have a second or casting vote. But, notwithstanding any provision contained in these Statutes, no Fellow in statu pupillari shall be entitled to vote upon any College business until one year after his election.

Except in cases otherwise provided for in these Statutes, questions brought before a College Meeting shall be decided by a majority of votes.

4. Subject to the limitations contained in these Statutes the Governing Body shall have the general administration of the affairs of the College. They shall appoint all College Servants, regulate their number, wages, and duties, and dismiss them if they think proper. They shall assign from time to time the rent of Students' rooms and all other charges payable by Students.

5. The Governing Body shall have the control of the College Buildings and Grounds, and the management of the College Estates, and shall administer the revenues of the College in accordance with the provisions of these Statutes. No material alteration in or addition to the College Buildings or Grounds shall be made without the approval of the majority of the Governing Body.

6. There shall be held every year on a day in the Easter Term a General Meeting of the Governing Body to be called the Annual Meeting. The day and hour of this Meeting shall be fixed at a College Meeting. One month's notice of the Annual Meeting shall be sent by the Master to all the Fellows.

CHAPTER III.

Of the Master.

1. The Master shall be a Master of Arts or of some equal or superior degree in the University of Cambridge or of any other University.

2. The Master shall reside in College during two-thirds of each Term, and altogether during two hundred and ten days in each year, unless prevented by illness, or other grave cause to be approved by a College Meeting.

3. The Master shall constitute one of the Fellows his deputy during his illness or absence, in writing under his hand and official seal.

If the Master be unable through illness to discharge his duties, and have not appointed a deputy, the senior Fellow in residence shall act as his deputy.

During a vacancy in the Mastership the senior Fellow in residence shall discharge the duties of Master.

4. The Master shall see that the Statutes of the College and the decisions of the Governing Body are duly carried out; and he shall have the power in all cases not provided for by these Statutes or by order of the Governing Body, to make such provisions for the good government of the College as he shall think fit.

5. If, in the opinion of at least two-thirds of the Fellows, the Master has from any cause become incompetent for the discharge of his duties, the case shall be laid before the Vice-Chancellor and the Regius Professor of Divinity and the Regius Professor of Civil Law in the University of Cambridge; and if the said Vice-Chancellor and the said two Professors, or if any two of them, after due investigation, be of the same opinion as the Fellows, or not less than two-thirds of their number, as to the alleged incompetency, they shall have power to sanction the election by the Fellows of one of their number to be Vice-Master during such incompetency. The Master shall have the right of appealing from time to time to the Vice-Chancellor and the aforesaid Professors for reinstatement in his office. The Vice-Master so appointed shall take upon him all the functions of the Master and be invested with like authority in the College. He shall, in addition to the emoluments of his Fellowship, receive a stipend at the rate of one hundred pounds (£100) a year out of the Master's stipend.

6. If the Master shall have been convicted by a court of competent jurisdiction of any crime, the Vice-Chancellor and the Regius Professor of Divinity and the Regius Professor of Civil Law in the University of Cambridge may, if they think fit, proceed to inquire into the fact of such conviction, and if it be established may deprive the Master of his office.

If any five or more of the Fellows shall prefer to the Vice-Chancellor and the aforesaid Professors a charge against the Master of disgraceful conduct, or of malversation in his office, or of gross neglect of duty, whereby he has in their judgment become unfit to preside over the College, the Vice-Chancellor and the aforesaid Professors shall with all convenient speed proceed to inquire into the facts of the case, and if they agree that the charge is proved, or if any two of them agree thereto, may deprive the Master of his office.

7. On the occurrence of a vacancy in the Mastership of the College the senior Fellow in residence shall, within seven days of such vacancy having become known to him, place or cause to be placed in the College Hall a notice, fixing a day and hour for a College Meeting to elect a Master. The day so fixed for the election shall not be later than the sixtieth day nor earlier than the thirtieth day after the date of such notice. He shall at the same time send a similar notice to all the Fellows. Provided that, if a vacancy shall occur during the summer vacation, or within fourteen days of the end of the Easter Term, the meeting for the election of a Master shall be deferred until a day in the next Michaelmas Term, not later than the twenty-eighth day after the commencement of the said Term, of which day notice shall be given as above prescribed.

8. The Meeting to elect a Master shall be held in the Combination Room of the College. The Fellows so assembled shall not proceed to an election unless there be present a majority of the Fellows of the College.

9. If a majority of the Fellows be present, the senior Fellow present and after him the other Fellows in order of seniority shall make the following declaration:

"I, A.B., do solemnly declare that in the vote or votes I am about to give, I will have regard only to the welfare of the College."

After this declaration has been made by all the Fellows present, each of them shall give his vote in writing in the following form:

"I, A.B., choose C.D. to be Master in this College."

The Senior Fellow present shall then read out the votes, and if it be found that the votes of a majority of those present are in favour of any one duly qualified person the said Senior Fellow shall declare him to be duly elected Master. But if no duly qualified person has received the votes of a majority of those present the process of voting shall be repeated in like manner until either a duly qualified person has received such majority of the votes of those present or it becomes evident that no such majority can be obtained at that meeting.

10. If a Master be not elected at the meeting aforesaid, a day and hour shall then and there be fixed for another meeting to be held within one month. At least fourteen days' notice of this second meeting shall be sent to all the Fellows. The proceedings at this meeting shall be conducted in the manner above prescribed for the former meeting.

11. If no duly qualified person be elected at the second meeting the right to elect a Master shall lapse to the Chancellor of the University of Cambridge.

12. As soon as convenient after the election of a Master, the person elected shall, at a meeting of the Fellows, make the following declaration:

"I, A.B., elected Master of the College of the Lady Frances Sidney Sussex, do solemnly declare that I will observe and cause to be observed the Statutes and Orders of the College, and will to the utmost of my power promote its welfare as a place of education, religion, learning, and research."

After this declaration he shall be admitted by the senior Fellow present, or if such senior Fellow be himself the person elected, then by the Fellow next in seniority present, in the following form:

"I, A.B., admit you, C.D., to be Master in the College of the Lady Frances Sidney Sussex."

13. If the person so elected be not admitted within three months of his election, his election shall be void, and the Fellows shall forthwith proceed to a fresh election in the manner aforesaid.

14. The Master shall enter on the rights, privileges, and emoluments of his office from the day of his admission, and if a Fellow of the College shall thereupon vacate his Fellowship.

15. If the person elected Master hold at the time one of the other College offices, such office shall become vacant at the next Annual Meeting, if he have not previously resigned it, but he shall be eligible for re-election subject to the conditions prescribed in these Statutes.

16. If the Master be elected to any College Office, he shall be elected for a period of not more than five years, but he may be re-elected for further periods of not more than five years on each occasion. During the tenure of the Office he shall receive half the stipend ordinarily allotted to that Office.

17. If the Master resign the Mastership before the age of 70, after having held the Office of Master, Tutor or College Lecturer for twenty years, or one of these Offices in succession to any other for twenty years altogether, he shall be entitled to enjoy the privileges and emoluments of a life Fellowship, receiving one and two-fifth dividend, if there be a Fellowship vacant, or on the first vacancy if none is vacant.

If the Master resign the Mastership after attaining the age of 70, he shall receive a pension of five hundred pounds (£500) a year, with Fellows' allowances, and if he desire to reside in College, he shall be assigned rooms in College.

The Master shall vacate the Mastership on attaining the age of 75, and shall receive a pension of five hundred pounds (£500) a year, with Fellows' allowances, and if he desire to reside in College, he shall be assigned rooms in College.

CHAPTER IV.

Of the Fellows.

1. The Fellows shall be elected from among the Graduate members of the College, or from among Graduate members of the University of Cambridge or of any other University, whom the Governing Body shall consider to be best qualified to promote the interests of the College as a place of education, religion, learning, and research.

2. The election to a vacant Fellowship shall be made at a College Meeting to be held during Term, of which at least one month's notice must be sent to all the Fellows: the date of the Meeting to be fixed by the Governing Body. Before proceeding to the election, the members of the Governing Body may nominate those whom they severally consider eligible for the vacant Fellowship. The Fellows shall then declare their votes beginning with the junior Fellow and proceeding in order to the senior, and the Master shall declare his own vote last. The Master shall record each vote as it is declared. If the votes of a majority of those present, or of a moiety including the Master, be recorded in favour of one of the persons nominated, the Master shall declare him to be duly elected. If the votes of a majority of those present, or of a moiety including the Master, be not recorded in favour of any one of the persons nominated, the Master shall proceed to take the votes a second time in the same manner as before. If at this second voting the votes of a majority of those present, or of a moiety including the Master, be not recorded in favour of any one of the persons nominated, the Master shall proceed to take the votes a third time in the same manner as before. The person who has the largest number of votes at this third voting shall be declared by the Master to be duly elected; or if there be no single person having the largest number of votes, then, of the two or more persons having the largest number of votes, the Master shall decide which shall be elected into the vacant Fellowship.

3. Within fifteen days after the election of a Fellow, he shall be summoned before a meeting of the Governing Body, and shall make the following declaration:—

"I, A.B., declare that I will observe the Statutes of the College of the Lady Frances Sidney Sussex, and will endeavour to the utmost of my power to promote the interests of the College as a place of education, religion, learning, and research."

After this declaration he shall be admitted by the Master in the following form:—

"I, A.B., Master of the College of the Lady Frances Sidney Sussex, admit you, C.D., to be a Fellow in the same."

If the Fellow elect be prevented through illness or other grave cause from presenting himself for admission within the fifteen days aforesaid, he may be admitted at some later time on his making the aforesaid declaration.

A Fellow shall enter on the privileges and emoluments of his Fellowship from the day of his admission.

4. Fellows who are Bachelors of Arts, or of Law, or of Medicine, or of Surgery shall proceed to such Degree as will qualify them for Membership of the Senate as soon as they are of standing to take such Degree. Any Fellow not so proceeding to his Degree, unless prevented by illness or other grave cause to be approved by the Governing Body, shall forfeit all the privileges and emoluments of his Fellowship until he has proceeded to such Degree.

5. If at an Annual Meeting there be only one Fellowship vacant, it shall be filled at that Meeting or on some date on or before the next Annual Meeting, and if there be two or more Fellowships vacant, the Governing Body may defer the election to all but one of the vacant Fellowships until the next Annual Meeting.

6. Subject to the exceptions hereinafter mentioned, every Fellow shall vacate his Fellowship on the sixth anniversary of the date of his election, or if elected at an Annual Meeting at the beginning of the sixth Annual Meeting after that at which he was elected.

7. The income of a vacant Fellowship shall be paid to the Reserve Fund during the vacancy.

8. The Governing Body may, in any special case in which the interests of the College so require, make it at the time of election a condition of the tenure of a Fellowship that the Fellow shall, if called upon to do so within two years of the date of his election, accept any specified College office and hold it for such a period as the Governing Body shall at the said time require. On any breach of such condition the Fellowship shall become vacant.

9. No Fellowship of this College shall be tenable with any Fellowship or Headship of any other College in the University of Cambridge or of Oxford.

10. The Governing Body may for the purpose of filling the office of Dean Tutor or Lecturer re-elect a Fellow whose tenure has expired by lapse of time but in exercising this power shall make it a condition of re-election that the Fellow re-elected shall hold the office for such time as the Governing Body may require. On any breach of such condition the Fellowship shall become vacant, unless the Fellow have become entitled to hold his Fellowship for life.

11. The Governing Body may by a vote in which not less than two-thirds of their number concur prolong the tenure of a Fellow on account of his marked distinction in literature or science for a period not exceeding six years on each occasion and they may in the same manner and for the same reason, but not otherwise except as hereinbefore provided, re-elect a Fellow whose tenure has expired by lapse of time.

12. A Fellow whose tenure is prolonged under the last preceding Section and a Fellow who is re-elected shall retain seniority amongst the Fellows as if the tenure had been continuous.

13. The Governing Body may by the vote of a majority of their number at the Annual Meeting elect any person distinguished in literature, science, or in Public Service, or any former Fellow of the College, to an Honorary Fellowship. Such Honorary Fellow shall not be a member of the Governing Body, nor be entitled to any dividend, but he may be allowed such privileges with respect to commons, the occupation of rooms, or other advantages, as the Governing Body may from time to time determine.

14. Every Fellow shall leave from time to time with such person as the Governing Body shall appoint, a statement of the address to which notices may be sent for him, and wherever in these statutes it is required that notice shall be sent to any Fellow, it shall be sufficient if such notice be sent to his last address by post or otherwise.

CHAPTER IVa.

The Governing Body may at the Annual Meeting by the vote of a majority of their number elect any person of marked ability in arts or science to a Research Fellowship for a period of two years, with power to re-elect for a further period of one year. Such Research Fellow shall not be a member of the Governing Body, but shall receive a dividend and shall be allowed such privileges with respect to commons, the occupation of rooms or other advantages as the Governing Body may from time to time determine.

It shall be the duty of a Research Fellow to devote his whole time to research, and he shall not engage in any work other than research, except by the permission of the Governing Body.

Any Fellow other than the person holding the Professorial Fellowship may signify to the Master in writing his wish to become a Supernumerary Fellow. If the Governing Body consent he shall become a Supernumerary Fellow and shall be and remain a Fellow to all intents and purposes, and hold his Fellowship for the time and in the manner provided by these Statutes, and enjoy all the benefits and advantages of the same, save and except that he shall not thenceforth be entitled to any dividend. Such Fellow, however, shall not count towards making up the number of Fellows required by these Statutes.

CHAPTER VII.

If a Fellow be charged with any crime or misconduct he shall be summoned before a meeting of the Governing Body who shall investigate the charge, and if a majority of the Governing Body deem it proved, they shall have power to suspend him from the rights, privileges, and emoluments of a Fellow, and of any office he may hold in the College, or to deprive him of his Fellowship altogether. But the said Fellow shall have the right of appealing to the Visitor.

It shall be the duty of all members of the College in statu pupillari to show due respect and obedience to the Master and other College Officers, to conduct themselves in a quiet and orderly manner, and to conform to all such orders and regulations as may from time to time be made by the Governing Body for the good government of the College.

If any such person (not being a Fellow of the College) shall not observe the orders and regulations above referred to, or shall be guilty of any offence contrary to discipline and good order or tending to bring scandal upon the College, he shall be punished in such manner as the offence may appear to deserve: provided that the penalty of temporary or final removal from the College shall be inflicted only by the Governing Body at a College Meeting.

4. Undergraduate members of the College shall reside in the University during such portion of each Term as the Master and Tutor shall appoint, provided that such portion be not less than is required by the Regulations of the University for keeping the Term.

The Governing Body shall assign to each of the other College Lecturers yearly stipends of not less than £50, or more than £200, and such stipends may be altered by the Governing Body from time to time within these limits.

11. The accounts of the Tuition Fund, which shall consist of the payments for tuition made by the Members of the College, shall be kept by some person appointed from time to time by the Governing Body, and shall be submitted by him annually to a College Meeting. 3. The Caution Fund shall be managed, and the income therefrom applied, in such manner as the Governing Body shall from time to time direct. The accounts of this fund shall be kept by such officer as the Governing Body may appoint for the purpose, and shall be annually audited with the other College Accounts.
