The Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury hereby give notice, that at a Trial of the Pyx, begun at Goldsmiths' Hall, in the City of London, on the 20th February, and concluded on the 2nd May, 1923, the following Verdicts of the Pyx Jury were delivered to the King's Remembrancer, viz. :—

TRIAL OF THE PYX OF THE LONDON MINT.

VERDICT.

We, whose names are hereunder written, having been sworn on the 20th day of February, One thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, before the King's Remembrancer, at Goldsmiths' Hall, in the City of London, have made the assays and trials of His Majesty's silver coins in the Pyx of the Royal Mint in London, which, according to accounts produced by the Officers of the Mint, were coined in the said Mint from the first day of January, One thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, to the thirty-first day of December, One thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, both days inclusive. We found that there were no gold coins in the said Pyx. We ascertained that the number of coins of silver, in each packet produced to us, corresponded with the number which the Officers of the Mint represented it to contain, and we took one coin from each of such packets of silver coins, making altogether 127 half-crowns, 164 florins, 111 shillings, 53 sixpences, 1 fourpence, 28 threepences, 1 twopence and 1 penny, and weighed each of the said silver coins separately, and ascertained that they were within the remedy as to weight prescribed in the First Schedule to the Coinage Act, 1870, as amended by the Coinage Act, 1891. We found that the amount of variation from the standard of weight specified in the said First Schedule to the Coinage Act, 1870, as so amended, was plus thirty-three thousandths of an ounce (+·033 oz.) on the whole of such coins. We then melted the said silver coins so taken out and weighed into an ingot, and assayed such ingot, comparing it with the standard Trial Plate made of pure silver (as prescribed by the Coinage Act, 1920) produced by the Board of Trade, so as to ascertain whether the metal was within the remedy as to fineness prescribed in the said First Schedule to the Coinage Act, 1870, as amended by the Coinage Acts, 1891 and 1920, and we found that the amount of variation from the standard of fineness specified in the said First Schedule to the Coinage Act, 1870, as so amended, was minus seventy-seven hundred thousandths (or -·00077), and that, therefore, the said metal was within the prescribed remedy as to fineness. We weighed the residue of the said silver coins in bulk, and we ascertained that they were within the remedy as to weight. We then took from such residue 4 half-crowns, 4 florins, 2 shillings, 1 sixpence and 1 threepence, and weighed and assayed them separately, and we found that such half-crowns weighed respectively, the first 218·282 grains, the second 217·621 grains, the third 218·900 grains, the fourth 218·140 grains; that such florins weighed respectively, the first 174·835 grains, the second 175·287 grains, the third 174·918 grains, the fourth 174·858 grains; that such shillings weighed respectively, the first 87·546 grains, the second 87·210 grains; that such sixpence weighed 43·707 grains, and that such threepence weighed 21·842 grains. We then assayed the said 4 half-crowns, the said 4 florins, the said 2 shillings, the said 1 sixpence and the said 1 threepence, separately, and we found the millesimal fineness of such half-crowns to be, the first 504·07, the second 500·82, the third 498·32, the fourth 502·32; of such florins to be, the first 499·88, the second 502·12, the third 501·10, the fourth 497·73; of such shillings to be, the first 499·55, the second 501.30; of such sixpence to be 500.60, and of such threepence to be 500.35.

Dated the 2nd day of May, 1923.

TRIAL OF THE PYX OF THE MELBOURNE BRANCH MINT.

VERDICT.

We, whose names are hereunder written, having been sworn on the twentieth day of February, One thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, before the King's Remembrancer, at Goldsmiths' Hall, in the City of London, have made the assays and trials of His Majesty's gold coins in the Pyx of the Branch Mint at Melbourne, in the State of Victoria, which, according to accounts produced by the Officers of the Mint, were coined in the said Branch Mint from the first day of January, One thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, to the thirty-first day of December, One thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, both days inclusive. We ascertained that the number of coins in each packet produced to us corresponded with the number which the Officers of the Mint represented it to contain, and we took all the coins from the fifth packet and twelve coins from each of the remaining packets of gold coins, amounting altogether to seventy-six sovereigns or twenty-shilling pieces, and we weighed each of the said coins separately, and ascertained that they were within the remedy as to weight prescribed in the First Schedule to the Coinage Act, 1870, as amended by the Coinage Act, 1891. We found that the amount of variation from the standard of weight specified in the said First Schedule to the said Act as so amended was nil on the whole of such coins. We then melted the said gold coins so taken out and weighed into an ingot, and assayed such ingot, comparing it with the standard gold Trial Plate produced by the Board of Trade, so as to ascertain whether the metal was within the remedy as to fineness prescribed in the said First Schedule to the said Act amended as aforesaid, and we found that the amount of variation thereof from the standard of fineness specified in the said First Schedule to the said Act as so amended was plus seven hundred thousandths (or +.00007), and that, therefore, the said metal was within the prescribed remedy as to fineness. We weighed the residue of the said gold coins in bulk, and we ascertained that they were within the remedy as to weight. We then took from such residue two sovereigns and weighed and assayed them separately, and we found that such sovereigns weighed respectively—the first 123.221 grains, the second 123.287 grains.

We then assayed the said two sovereigns separately, and we found the millesimal fineness of such sovereigns to be—the first 916.82, the second 916.97, respectively.

Dated the 2nd day of May, 1923.

We ascertained that the number of coins in each packet produced to us corresponded with the number which the Officers of the Mint represented it to contain, and we took twelve coins from each of such packets of gold coins, amounting altogether to eighty-four sovereigns or twenty-shilling pieces, and we weighed each of the said coins separately, and ascertained that they were within the remedy as to weight prescribed in the First Schedule to the Coinage Act, 1870, as amended by the Coinage Act, 1891. We found that the amount of variation from the standard of weight specified in the said First Schedule to the said Act as so amended was nil on the whole of such coins. We ascertained that the number of coins in each packet produced to us corresponded with the number which the Officers of the Mint represented it to contain, and we took two coins from each of such packets of gold coins, amounting altogether to eighty sovereigns or twenty-shilling pieces, and we weighed each of the said coins separately, and ascertained that they were within the remedy as to weight prescribed in the First Schedule to the Coinage Act, 1870, as amended by the Coinage Act, 1891. We found that the amount of variation from the standard of weight specified in the said First Schedule to the said Act as so amended was plus five-thousandths of an ounce (+ .005 oz.) on the whole of such coins. We then melted the said gold coins so taken out and weighed into an ingot, and assayed such ingot, comparing it with the standard gold Trial Plate produced by the Board of Trade, so as to ascertain whether the metal was within the remedy as to fineness prescribed in the said First Schedule to the said Act amended as aforesaid, and we found that the amount of variation thereof from the standard of fineness specified in the said First Schedule to the said Act as so amended was plus thirteen hundred thousandths (or + .00013), and that, therefore, the said metal was within the prescribed remedy as to fineness.
