His Majesty The KING has been graciously pleased to award the Edward Medal to Behari Dome, a shunting porter employed by the East Indian Railway Company, in the following circumstances:—

On April 6th, 1923, a train with two engines in front was proceeding slowly on the Nayadih branch line of the East Indian Railway Company towards some coal sidings when a little child was observed sitting in the centre of the line. It was impossible for the driver to stop the train in time, but Behari Dome, a shunting porter who was travelling on the leading engine, jumped off, ran ahead of the train and picked up the child from the centre of the track. He stumbled in doing so, but fortunately fell just clear of the track, though the child's fingers clutched the rails in the fall and were crushed by the approaching train. It stands out clearly that Behari Dome's action was a very brave one and he undoubtedly risked his life to save the child.

The Home Secretary gives notice that in pursuance of Section 2 (1) of the Employment of Women, Young Persons and Children Act, 1920, he has made an Order authorising the employment on two day shifts of women of 18 and young persons of 16 years of age and over in connexion with the manufacture of electricity meters and parts of wireless sets at the works of Messrs. Ferranti, Ltd., Wickentree Lane, Failsworth, Manchester, subject to compliance with the Welfare Order dated 12th October, 1917 (Ambulance and First Aid in Metal Works, etc.) and to the conditions that no worker shall be employed in the afternoon shift in consecutive weeks; that suitable cloak-room and messroom accommodation shall be provided; and that arrangements shall be made for the effective and regular supervision of the women and young persons by a Welfare Superintendent.
