Privy Council Office, 9th January, 1925.

The following Statute made by the Governing Body of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, on the 6th day of November, 1924, and sealed by the University of Cambridge Commissioners on the 5th day of January, 1925, has been submitted for the approval of His Majesty in Council, and notice of its having been so submitted is published in accordance with the provisions of "The Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1923":—

CORPUS CHRISTI COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE.

Temporary Statute as to Pensions and Superannuation.

- 1. When any Fellow the date of whose first election to his Fellowship is later than January 1, 1924, or who being elected before January 1, 1924, has availed himself of section 4 of this Statute, shall be appointed to any of the following College Offices, viz. Master, Dean, Tutor, Staff Lecturer, Librarian or Bursar, or such other office as may be added to this section hereafter by College Ordinance under section 2 below (hereinafter called "the pensionable offices") or to any office in the University which is subject to the Federated Superannuation System for Universities, or when any person not being a Fellow shall be elected Master, he shall become subject to the Federated Superannuation System for Universities or to any modification of the Super-annuation System that may be duly made by the Central Council constituted in connection The Superannuation System shall apply to the aggregate annual amount (hereinafter called the "pensionable salary") of the dividends and regular stipends received by him in respect of the following appointments:
  - (a) A Fellowship of the College.
  - (b) A pensionable office in the College.

(c) The office or offices of Steward, Praelector, Assistant Lecturer, or such other appointments as may have been brought under this provision by College Ordinance.

The Superannuation System shall not apply to any fees or other payments for lecturing or other work received by a College Officer outside his regular stipend from the College, notwithstanding that such fees or other payments may be paid him by or through the College.

- 2. The Governing Body shall have power to vary, by Ordinance, the list of pensionable offices named in section 1 and of the other offices the stipends of which are included in pensionable salaries during the tenure of an office by a specified individual, or otherwise, provided that none of the pensionable offices expressly named in section 1 above be removed from that section; and that no office shall be removed or added, during tenure, save with the consent of the holder.
- 3. The holder of any office, to which the appointment is made by the College, not being a Fellow of the College, may be brought under the provisions of the Superannuation System by College Ordinance, subject to any rights possessed by such officer at the date of the coming into force of this Statute.
- 4. The Master, or any Fellow, if he shall have been elected before January 1, 1924, shall have the right to surrender the whole of any existing and contingent rights and claims to receive a Fellowship dividend (or in the case of the Master to hold that office), beyond the date up to which he would be entitled to receive such dividend (or hold such office) if he were under the Statutes applicable to persons elected after January 1, 1924, and to surrender any existing or contingent rights or claims to any further pension and to come into the Federated Superannuation System under the provisions of this Statute as from the date on which he shall notify in writing to the Master (or, in the case of the Master, to the Bursar) his desire to avail himself of this right, provided he exercise this right before the end of the calendar year following the year in which this Statute comes into operation.

5. The Governing Body shall have power, as from November 1, 1924, to enter into an agreement with the Master, or any Fellow if he shall have been elected to a Fellowship before January 1, 1924, whereby such person shall agree, in consideration of payments to be made by the College to him or for his benefit, to surrender any existing or contingent rights and claims to receive a Fellowship Dividend for life or to surrender any existing or contingent rights or claims to any other pension, or both to surdender any existing or contingent rights and claims to receive a Fellowship Dividend for life and to surrender any existing or contingent rights or claims to any other pension; subject to the provision in every case that the person in question, if Master, shall retire at the end of the academic year in which he attains the age of seventy, or if holding any other office shall retire from that office at the same age as if he had been elected a Fellow after January 1, 1924; and that if such an agreement is effected in respect of the surrender of his existing or contingent rights and claims to receive a Fellowship Dividend for life his tenure of a Stipendiary Fellowship shall terminate in accordance with the same conditions and he shall vacate such a Fellowship on the ground of age at the same age, as if he had been elected after January 1, 1924.

6. Except in so far as other provision may be made in Statutes for the College made or approved by the University of Cambridge Commissioners appointed under the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1923, the Master, if elected to that Office after January 1, 1924, shall vacate office at the end of that academical year in which he attains the age of seventy years. The Master (whether appointed before or after January 1, 1924) on vacating his office, by resignation or superannuation shall thereupon become an Honorary Fellow.

7. When a holder of any of the offices of Tutor, Assistant Tutor or Staff Lecturer, or other educational office in the College, to which he has been appointed after January 1, 1924, attain the age of sixty-five years he shall at the end of that academical year vacate such office or offices.

8. When the holder of any office in the College, other than those specified in 6 and 7 above, to which he has been appointed after January 1, 1924, attain the age of sixty-five years he shall at the end of that academical year vacate such office or offices. It shall however be competent to the Governing Body by a vote in which not less than two-thirds of those present concur to appoint or re-appoint him to
