Where any reference is made in these bye-laws to the Town Clerk, or any other official, such reference shall be deemed to be a reference to the Town Clerk, or other official, as the case may be, of the City of Cardiff.

2. From and after the 31st day of December, 1925, the bye-laws as to Seamen's Licensed Lodging Houses made by the Council on the 13th day of April, 1896, shall be revoked.

3. The Council will, subject as hereinafter mentioned, if they see fit on the application, made in manner hereinafter mentioned, of any person grant to him a license authorising him to keep the house specified therein as a Seamen's Licensed Lodging House.

4. Every person who shall apply to the Council for a license shall furnish in an application to be made in a form similar to form "A" in the Appendix, a true statement of the particulars therein required to be specified.

7. A license shall not be granted in respect of a house until it has been inspected and approved for the purpose by the Medical Officer of Health; and the Council may, if they think fit, require any person who applies for a license to produce a Certificate from the Chief Constable to the effect that:—

(a) So far as is known such person is a fit and proper person to have charge of a licensed house and

(b) So far as is known, no conviction militating against his competency for the charge of a licensed house has been registered against such person within three years immediately preceding such application.

8. A license shall not be transferable, and no licensed keeper shall transfer or lend the same to any other person.

9. A license shall be subject to such conditions specified therein, or endorsed thereon, and not being inconsistent with the laws, bye-laws, and regulations, for the time being in force in the City of Cardiff as the Council see fit, and no licensed keeper or any person employed in a licensed house shall commit a breach of, or fail to observe such conditions.

10. A license shall continue in force (subject to suspension or revocation, as in these bye-laws provided) for one year from the date of the grant thereof. The Council may, at their discretion, refuse to renew any license.

11. If a licensed keeper is convicted for any felony, misdemeanour, or offence against any of these bye-laws, or if the Council is satisfied that a licensed keeper has been guilty of a breach of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, or any Acts amending the same, or that a licensed keeper or any person employed in his licensed house has permitted drunkenness, gambling, or immoral or fraudulent practice in a licensed house, or has admitted into, harboured, or allowed to remain in, or has neglected to exclude or remove from, a licensed house any thief, reputed thief, prostitute, reputed prostitute, or any person of known immoral or improper character who may be in a licensed house, the Council may suspend for such period as the Council think fit, or revoke, such licensed keeper's license.

Within seven days after suspension or revocation of a license the licensed keeper shall deliver his license to the Town Clerk, but at the expiration of a period of suspension the license shall be returned to the licensed keeper.

12. The Council shall cause to be kept a Register of all licenses granted under these bye-laws and the suspension or revocation of any license shall be noted in such Register.

13. The Medical Officer of Health, the Inspector of Nuisances, and any of his Assistants, the Chief Constable, any Inspector of the Police Force, any Detective Officer or Police Constable generally or specially authorized by the Chief Constable for the purpose, any Officer of the Board of Trade, and any other person generally or specially authorized by the Council for the purpose, may at all times, whatsoever, of the day or night enter and inspect any house, and also inspect the Register of Seamen Lodgers hereinafter referred to; and every keeper and every person employed in a house shall give, and cause to be given, every such Officer, Inspector, and all persons aforesaid, free access to his house at all such times aforesaid.

14. No keeper shall at any one time, receive, or cause, or suffer to be received in a house, or into any room therein, a greater number of lodgers than shall from time to time be fixed by the Council as the maximum number of lodgers authorized to be received into such house, or into such room, and shall be specified in a notice in writing which may be according to the form "C" in the Appendix, which shall be duly served upon such keeper, either by being delivered to him personally, or by being left with some person for him at his house, and shall continue in force until the number so fixed and specified shall be varied by the Council, and a further like notice be served on such keeper.

Every keeper shall paint or cause to be painted and shall cause to remain painted in the most conspicuous position on the inside of every room in his house the maximum number of lodgers authorized as aforesaid to be received therein with the following words prefixed:—"The maximum number of lodgers allowed in this room is....." in legible and durable figures and capital letters not less than one inch square.

No keeper nor any person employed in a house shall at any time conceal, deface, alter, or obliterate, or permit, or suffer to be concealed, defaced, altered, or obliterated any such letters or figures.

15. Notwithstanding that the maximum number of lodgers to be received in a house or any room therein may not have been fixed by the Council as hereinbefore provided, no keeper shall cause or suffer a greater number of persons than will admit of the provision of three hundred cubic feet of free air space for each person to occupy at any one time, as a sleeping apartment, a room which is used exclusively for that purpose.

16. No keeper shall cause or suffer a greater number of persons than will admit of the provision of four hundred cubic feet of free air space for each person to occupy at any one time, as a sleeping apartment, a room which is not used exclusively for that purpose.

17. No keeper nor any person employed in a house shall permit or suffer more than one lodger other than a married couple, or parents and one child under the age of ten years, to occupy or sleep in the same bed.

18. No keeper nor any person employed in a house shall permit or suffer persons of different sexes to occupy the same sleeping room in a house except such persons be a married couple or parents with a child or children under the age of ten years.

19. Every keeper shall provide privy accommodation for his house by means of a water closet or water closets, an earth closet or earth closets, or a privy or privies. He shall provide such accommodation so that the number of water closets, earth closets, or privies, in relation to the greatest number of persons, who, subject to the restrictions imposed by any bye-laws in that behalf, may, at any one time occupy rooms in the house as sleeping apartments, shall be in the proportion of not less than one water closet, earth closet, or privy, to every twelve persons.

20. In every case where for the purpose of providing privy accommodation for a house in pursuance of the requirements of any bye-laws in that behalf, the construction of a new water closet is necessary and where such construction so far as regards the several details hereinafter specified is not already the subject of regulation by any Statute or bye-law in force within the district, the keeper shall construct such water closet in accordance with the following rules:—

(1) If the water closet is intended to be within the house he shall construct such water closet in such a position that one of its sides at the least shall be an external wall.

(2) He shall construct in one of the walls of the water closet, whether the situation of such water closet is or is not within the house, a window of not less dimensions than two feet by one foot, exclusive of the frame and opening directly into the external air. He shall in addition to such window, cause the water closet to be provided with adequate means of constant ventilation by at least one air brick built in an external wall of such water closet, or by an air shaft, or by some other effectual method or appliance.

(3) He shall furnish the water closet with a separate cistern, or flushing box of adequate capacity, which shall be so constructed, fitted, or placed as to admit of the supply of water for use in such water closet without any direct connection between any service pipe upon the premises, and any part of the apparatus of such water closet other than such cistern or flushing-box.

(4) He shall furnish the water closet with a suitable apparatus for the effectual application of water to any pan, basin, or other receptacle with which such apparatus may be connected and used, and for the effectual flushing and cleaning of such pan, basin, or other receptacle, and for the prompt and effectual removal therefrom of any solid or liquid filth which may from time to time be deposited therein. He shall furnish the water closet with a pan, basin, or other suitable receptacle, of non-absorbent material, and of such shape, of such capacity, and of such mode of construction as to receive and contain a sufficient quantity of water, and to allow all filth which may from time to time be deposited in such pan, basin, or receptacle, to fall free of the sides thereof and directly into the water received and contained in such pan, basin, or receptacle. He shall not construct or fix under such pan, basin, or receptacle, any container or other similar fitting.

(5) He shall not construct or fix in or in connection with the water closet apparatus, any trap of the kind known as the "D" trap.

21. Every keeper shall cause every part of the structure of every water closet belonging to his house to be maintained at all times in good order, and every part of the apparatus of such water closet, and every drain or means of drainage with which such water closet may communicate, to be maintained at all times in good order and efficient action.

22. Every keeper shall cause every yard, area, fore-court, or other open space within the curtilage of his house to be maintained at all times in good order, and to be thoroughly cleansed, from time to time, as often as may be reasonably necessary for the purpose of keeping such yard, area fore-court, or other open space in a clean and wholesome condition.

23. Every keeper shall cause all such means of ventilation as may be provided in or in connection with any room or passage in his house, and in or in connection with any water closet, earth closet, or privy belonging to such house to be maintained at all times in good order.

24. Every keeper shall cause the windows of every room in his house, which may be appointed for use and occupation as a sleeping apartment, to be kept fully open for one hour at least in the forenoon, and for one hour at least in the afternoon of every day provided that such keeper shall not be required in pursuance of this bye-law to cause any such window to be opened or to be kept open at any time when the state of the weather is such as to render it necessary that the window should be closed, or when any bed in such room may be occupied by any lodger in consequence of sickness or for other sufficient cause.

25. Every keeper shall in the first week in the months of April and October in every year cause every part of his house to be cleansed.

He shall at the same time, except as in such cases as are hereinafter specified, cause every area, the interior surface of every ceiling and wall of every water closet, earth closet, or privy belonging to the premises, and the interior surface of every ceiling and wall of every room, staircase, and passage in the house, to be thoroughly cleansed with hot lime-wash.

Provided that the foregoing requirements with respect to the lime-washing of the internal surface of the walls of rooms, staircases, and passages, shall not apply in any case where the internal surface of any such wall is painted, or where the material of or with which such surface is constructed or covered is such as to render the lime-washing thereof unsuitable or inexpedient, and where such surface is thoroughly cleansed and the paint or other covering is renewed, if the renewal thereof be necessary, for the purpose of keeping the house in a cleanly and wholesome condition.

26. Immediately after any keeper shall have been informed or shall have ascertained that any person in his house is ill of an infectious disease he shall give written notice thereof to the Medical Officer of Health.

27. In every case where, in pursuance of the statutory provision in that behalf, an order of a Justice has been obtained for the removal from a house to a hospital or other place for the reception of the sick, of a person who is suffering from any dangerous infectious disorder, and is without proper lodging or accommodation, the keeper of such house, shall, on being informed of such order, forthwith take all such steps as may be requisite to secure the safe and prompt removal of such person, in compliance with such order, and shall in and about such removal adopt all such precautions, as in accordance with any instructions which such keeper may receive from the Medical Officer of Health, may be most suitable for the circumstances of the case.

28. Every keeper shall cause every room in his house, which may be appointed for use and occupation as a sleeping apartment, to be furnished with such number of beds and bedsteads, and with such supply of bed-clothes and necessary utensils as may be sufficient for the requirements of the number of lodgers received in such room.

29. Every keeper shall cause all bed-clothes and bedding, and every bedstead used in his house, to be thoroughly cleansed from time to time, as often as shall be requisite, for the purpose of keeping such bed-clothes, bedding and bedstead in a clean and wholesome condition.

30. Every keeper shall cause the bed-clothes of every bed in his house to be removed from such bed as soon as conveniently may be after such bed shall have been vacated by any lodger, and shall cause all such bed-clothes, and the bed from which such bed-clothes may have been removed, to be freely exposed to the air for one hour at least in the forenoon or for one hour at least in the afternoon of every day.

31. Every keeper shall, for the use of the lodgers received into his house, cause to be provided a sufficient number of basins or other receptacles for water, of adequate capacity and suitably placed, and a sufficient supply of water, and a sufficient number of towels for use in connection with such basins or other receptacles. He shall cause such basins or receptacles to be kept clean and in good order, and the supply of towels to be renewed from time to time, as often as may be requisite.

32. No keeper shall at any time cause or suffer any room which may be appointed for use as a kitchen or scullery, to be used or occupied as a sleeping apartment.

33. Every keeper shall put up or affix and keep up or affixed a copy of these bye-laws in a suitable and conspicuous position in the common sitting-room of his house, in such a manner that the contents of such copy may be clearly and distinctly visible and legible, and shall enter upon the space left for the purpose at the end of that copy a scale of the charge per day for board, lodging and necessaries to be made by him; and he shall not make a higher charge than is provided by the scale on any pretence whatever.

He shall not, at any time, conceal, deface, alter, or obliterate or permit or suffer to be concealed, defaced, altered, or obliterated any part of the contents of such copy, or injure or destroy such copy.

34. Every keeper shall keep a Register in which he shall enter the name, age, and nationality of every seaman lodger received into his house, the name of the last vessel such seaman lodger was discharged from, and the port of discharge, together with the name and port of registry of any vessel he may join while resident in such house, or his declared destination on leaving.

35. Every licensed keeper shall affix and keep affixed and undefaced, in the most conspicuous place on the outside of the main entrance from any street to his licensed house a notice consisting of the following words:—

“ SEAMEN'S LICENSED LODGING HOUSE.”

(Name of Licensed Keeper to be inserted here.)

“ LICENSED KEEPER.”

And also the full name of the licensed keeper, as shewn above, in legible and durable capital printed letters not less than one inch square.

36. No person shall obstruct any officer or person engaged in securing the execution of these bye-laws.

37. No person other than a licensed keeper, whose license has not been suspended or revoked, shall by means of any agent, servant, sign, notice, inscription, ticket, placard, advertisement, circular, letter, document, word of mouth, or by any other ways or means howsoever, hold himself out as keeping or purporting to keep a licensed house.

38. No licensed keeper nor any person employed in his house shall admit into or harbour in nor allow to remain in nor neglect to exclude from his licensed house any thief, reputed thief, prostitute, reputed prostitute, or any other person of immoral or improper character.
