TUESDAY, 27 JUNE, 1933

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 26th day of June, 1933.

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

THIS day Sir Dennis Henry Herbert, K.B.E., was, by His Majesty's command, sworn of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took his place at the Board accordingly.

Colin Smith.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 26th day of June, 1933.

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS there was this day read at the Board a Memorial from the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, dated the 30th day of May, 1933 (C.W. 10455/31), in the words following, viz. :—

“Whereas by Section 3 of the Naval and Marine Pay and Pensions Act, 1865, it is enacted, inter alia, that all pay, pensions or other allowances in the nature thereof, payable in respect of services in Your Majesty's Naval or Marine Force to a person being, or having been, an Officer, Seaman or Marine therein, or to the widow or any relative of a deceased Officer, Seaman or Marine, shall be paid in such manner, and subject to such restrictions, conditions and provisions as are from time to time directed by Order in Council :

“And whereas by Your Orders in Council dated the 7th day of October, 1931, and the 1st day of October, 1932, Your Majesty was graciously pleased to approve, inter alia, of Captains, Engineer Captains or Captains (E) and Surgeon Captains promoted to those ranks after the date of the first quoted Order whom it has been decided not to employ in a higher rank, being retired in their existing ranks as soon as an Officer below them on their respective lists is promoted, and of such officers being granted retired pay on the Rear Admirals' scale, but subject to a maximum standard rate of £900 per annum provided that they are qualified for promotion under such regulations as are from time to time in force :

“And whereas the qualification for promotion of Captains and Surgeon Captains depends on service rendered in such ranks and we are of opinion that the qualification for Engineer Captains or Captains (E) should likewise be dependent on service rendered in these ranks :

“We beg leave humbly to recommend that Your Majesty may be graciously pleased by Your Order in Council to direct that Engineer Captains or Captains (E) promoted to those ranks after the 7th day of October, 1931, shall be qualified for promotion to the rank of Engineer Rear-Admiral or Rear Admiral (E) if they have completed three years' full pay service in the rank of Engineer Captain or Captain (E), the qualification prescribed by Order in Council dated 17th May, 1867, namely, long and meritorious service, being cancelled when the provisions of this Order become operative."

His Majesty, having taken the said Memorial into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve of what is therein proposed.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Colin Smith.

Whitehall, June 26, 1933.

The following Address was presented to The KING on the occasion of the opening by His Majesty of South Africa House in London on the 22nd June, 1933.

THE HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR THE UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA.

In expressing to Your Majesty, and to Her Majesty the Queen, the deep gratitude and appreciation felt by Your Majesty's subjects in the Union of South Africa for the Royal favour of Your Majesty's presence at this ceremony to-day, which marks again the affectionate and watchful interest which Your Majesty so constantly brings to bear upon the affairs of those great countries which comprise the British Commonwealth of Nations, it is my happy privilege to be charged by the Prime Minister to deliver to Your Majesty, with dutiful submission, the following message from the Government and people of the Union:—

“The gracious consent of His Majesty The King to perform the opening ceremony of South Africa House is very deeply appreciated by the Government of the Union of South Africa. And, while assuring His Majesty of the devotion of the people of this country to Him as their Sovereign, I desire to avail myself of the opportunity of expressing to Their Majesties The King and Queen our heartfelt gratitude for their gracious presence and participation on this occasion.”

It is a most happy circumstance that Your Majesty's Governor-General of the Union of South Africa and her Excellency the Countess of Clarendon, whose great devotion to duty and whose many qualities have earned them the admiration and affection of the people of South Africa, are present at this ceremony to-day. That three of Your Majesty's South African Ministers of State are so fortunately present on this occasion is also a matter of deep gratification.

It is a coincidence of much interest and significance, and of the most fortunate augury, that their presence as representatives of a country politically united for the first time in its strenuous history should synchronize with the throwing open of the doors of South Africa House to the world.

The new South Africa House may, therefore, in truth be described as the home in London of a united South African nation; the symbol of a happy and auspicious event in its people's history; and the visible reflection of the determination of Your Majesty's subjects in that Dominion to live in amity and complete accord.

These new offices of the Government of the Union of South Africa in London, happily to be declared open by Your Majesty to-day, are designed to discharge their many-sided functions in a worthy and appropriate manner and to maintain and expand those economic, social, and political contacts with Great Britain which have proved in the past of such great reciprocal benefit to both these member States of Your Majesty's Commonwealth.

It is a fitting tribute, therefore, to its architect, Sir Herbert Baker, that this edifice, on which he has lavished so much thought and affectionate enthusiasm, should stand, in its architectural design and in its historical conception, not only as a monument to South Africa's representation in London, but as a lasting expression of Sir Herbert Baker's own genius and of his deep and sympathetic knowledge of South Africa, its people and its history.

A full measure of praise is due to all those who assisted Sir Herbert Baker in his work and so loyally and conscientiously brought all their skill to the building of this house. I shall have the honour to present those gentlemen to Your Majesty.

And I may also be permitted to make full acknowledgement on behalf of my Government of the great generosity of a number of our public-spirited men and women and institutions who have donated many valuable treasures and works of art to the building.

In the name of the Government and people of South Africa, I have now the honour to request that Your Majesty may be graciously pleased to declare South Africa House open.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following Gracious Answer:—

It is with sincere pleasure that the Queen and I attend to-day a ceremony which marks the establishment of yet another of the great Dominion Headquarters at the heart of the Empire itself.

Our pleasure is the deeper since this fine building stands henceforth, as you Mr. High Commissioner tell us, for witness of a new epoch throughout all that vast sub-Continent which is now, indeed, the Union of South Africa. Most auspiciously, Lord Clarendon, your present Governor-General, Lord Selborne, Lord Buxton, Prince Arthur of Connaught and Lord Athlone are with us here to-day. Their combined associations with your country cover many years, and each of them has brought back from that association an abiding interest and affection. They could tell you that they are to be envied now: for it is not given to many to see with their own eyes the fulfilment of their cherished hopes.

We have already seen how the spirit and generosity of your people have beautified South Africa House with treasures drawn from your country's historical and truly strenuous past. Sir Herbert Baker's genius has housed these gifts in a building which renders the spirit of your land with a completeness that only insight and long devotion to South Africa could achieve. South Africans have good right to be proud of all that his work symbolizes of South Africa's force and future: and, above all, to be proud of the faith of the men who, in past years, planned and laboured and built for these ends.

History shows that all development comes out of the slow human processes of trial and error, of experiment and adjustment.

Only a few generations since, the handicaps of Time and Distance compelled the young Dominions to regard themselves as isolated. Great Britain, equally handicapped by the same limitations could not think of them otherwise. At the present time, men can reach every part of the Empire in a few days, or weeks at the most, instead of after weeks and months at the least. Their words reach to the ends of the earth in the same instant as they are spoken.

These things are now the commonplaces of administration. They mean that no Dominion—no section of the Empire—now stands alone. It can call directly upon the practical experience and the intimate unofficial advice of any of its peers to discuss and deal with problems as they arise.

The problems within the comity of our Empire are many and grave. Some of them have been solved by such far-seeing statesmanship as that of General Hertzog, your Prime Minister, who has set the seal of unity upon your Nation. Others are bound up with those issues whose urgency now draws the world to common council in London. To that great gathering South Africa has sent three of her Ministers, including my valued friend, the Statesman and South African Patriot—General Smuts—whose presence as Minister in Attendance I take for yet another happy omen.

It gives me great pleasure now to declare South Africa House open—a monument to concord and amity.
