

THE ORB.

The King thereupon sat down, and the Archbishop, having received the Orb from the Dean of Westminster, delivered it into the King's right hand, saying: "Receive this Imperial Robe, and Orb;" &c. His Majesty returned the Orb to the Dean, who laid it on the Altar.

THE RING.

The Keeper of the Jewel House delivered the King's Ring to the Archbishop, who put it on the fourth finger of the King's right hand, saying: "Receive this Ring," &c.

THE SCEPTRES.

The Dean of Westminster brought from the Altar the Sceptre with the Cross and the Sceptre with the Dove, and delivered them to the Archbishop.

The Glove presented by the Lord of the Manor of Worksop (Earl of Lincoln acting as Deputy) was put on, and the Archbishop delivered the Sceptre with the Cross into His Majesty's right hand, saying: "Receive the Royal Sceptre," &c.; and the Sceptre with the Dove into his left hand, saying: "Receive the Rod of equity and mercy;" &c. The Lord of the Manor of Worksop supported His Majesty's right arm as occasion required.

THE CROWNING.

The Archbishop, standing before the Altar, took St. Edward's Crown into his hands, and laying it down again said, "O God, the crown of the faithful;" &c.

Then the Archbishop, with the Archbishop of York and other Bishops, came from the Altar; and the Archbishop, having received the Crown from the Dean of Westminster, reverently placed it on His Majesty's head. Thereupon the people, with loud and repeated shouts, cried: "God save the King"; the Princes and Peers putting on their coronets, and the Kings of Arms their crowns; the trumpets sounding, the drums beating, and, at a signal given, the great guns of the Tower and the guns in the Park being shot off.

The acclamation having ceased, the Archbishop pronounced the Prayer: "God crown you with a crown of glory," &c., and the Choir sang "Be strong and play the man;" &c.

The Lord Chamberlain of the Household then received the Glove from the King's right hand, and delivered it to the Groom of the Robes, who deposited it in the Traverse in St. Edward's Chapel.

THE HOLY BIBLE.

The Dean of Westminster, taking the Holy Bible from the Altar, delivered it to the Archbishop, who, attended and assisted by the Archbishop of York and the Bishops, presented it to the King, first saying: "Our gracious King;" &c.

The King gave back the Bible to the Archbishop, who gave it to the Dean of Westminster, to be by him replaced on the Altar, the Archbishop of York and the Bishops going back to their seats.

During the presentation of the Holy Bible the King handed the Sceptre with the Cross to the Lord of the Manor of Worksop to hold.

THE BENEDICTION.

The Archbishop then pronounced the Benediction, and turning to the people said: "And the same Lord God Almighty grant," &c. The Archbishop of York, the Bishops, and the rest of the Peers, followed every part of the Benediction with a loud and hearty Amen.

THE INTHRONIZATION.

The King ascended the Theatre, accompanied by the two Bishops his Supporters, the Great Officers of State, the Lords carrying the Swords, and the Lords who had borne Their Majesties' Regalia, and was Inthroned by the Archbishops, Bishops, and the other Peers, who then stood about the steps of the Throne. His Majesty's Train bearers stood behind the Throne. The Archbishop, standing before the King, pronounced the Exhortation, "Stand firm, and hold fast," &c.

THE HOMAGE.

The Exhortation being ended, His Majesty delivered the Sceptre with the Cross to the Lord who had first borne it, to hold the same on his right hand, and the Sceptre with the Dove to the Lord who had first borne it, to hold the same on his left during the Homage.
