

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Monday March 20. to Thursday March 23. 1698.

Turin, March 14. N. S.

THE Term fixed by the Duke of Savoy's last Proclamation for the Rebels of Montdovi to surrender themselves, being expired, Orders were sent to the Governor of Verceil, who commands his Royal Highness's Forces in those Parts, to march against them; In the mean time, the Rebels being grown desperate, attacked the Regiment of Chablais commanded by the Count de Nazaro, which they put into disorder, killing the Colonel, and divers Soldiers. The Duke's Troops having received a Reinforcement, soon after fell upon the Rebels in three several Places near Vico, and forced them from thence; But while the Soldiers were busied in Plundering, a Party of the Rebels returned and Charged them, and killed and wounded several, and amongst others, the Count de la Roche, Colonel of the Regiment of Montferrat, received a Wound, of which 'tis thought he will hardly recover. The Duke's Troops were soon put into order again, and beat back the Rebels with great loss, who, to save themselves, retired to the Mountains, where as on one hand they are secured by posting themselves in Places that are inaccessible, so on the other they will not be able long to subsist. In the Actions before-mentioned divers of the Rebels were killed, and others taken Prisoners, and the chief of the latter have been executed.

Lemberg, Feb. 20. The Tartars, under the command of Sultan Gezey, have made an Inroad into this Country, and appeared on the 17th Instant within 5 Miles of this City, destroying all before them, and occasioning a great Consternation among the Inhabitants; The Crown-General, who is at present in this City, upon the first News he received of their March, sent out Orders for all the Troops quartered hereabouts to draw together; but before they could get into a Posture to make Head against the Tartars, they had done a great deal of Mischiefe, and were retired towards Caminiec.

Warsaw, March 7. On the 3d Instant the King went on Horseback, attended by divers Persons of Quality, to the Palace of the Palatine of Flasko, who entertained His Majesty and the whole Court at Dinner. In the Afternoon there was a Running at the Rings; For which purpose the King had named divers of the young Nobility, who were divided in four Squadrons, the first of which was led on by the King, who won the greatest Prize; and Prince Alexander, Prince Constantine, and Prince Radziwil Great-Chancellor of Lithuania, were at the Head of the other three.

On the 5th Instant, being the King's Birth-day, he was Complimented by the Foreign Ministers, and other Persons of Quality, and in the evening there was a very fine Firework. The Diversions of the Carnival being ended, the Princes Alexander and Constantine intend in a day or two to go to Lublin to meet Prince James, their Brother, in order to agree together about dividing the Estate left them by the late King their Father. The Circular Letters for the Meeting of the Little or Provincial Diets, in order to chuse their Deputies to be sent to the General Diet, which is to meet here on the 29th of May, are issued out. It's said, that the King intends in the mean time to make a Journey into Prussia. The Committee of the Senate, to whom the Consideration of the Affair of Elbing is referred, have frequent Meetings, and most of the Senators seem to be of opinion, not to begin the Treaty till the Brandenburgh Troops have evacuated Elbing, and left things in the condition they were before the Elector made himself Master of that Place. The Starost of Ghebn will set forward in few days on his Embassy to the Grand Signior; The more haste being made to dispatch him, because several Things are to be regulated with the Port concerning the Artillery, Ammunition, and Magazines at Caminiec, before that Place be delivered to the Polanders. The said Ambassador has Orders likewise to demand Satisfaction for the last Incurision the Tartars have made into Russland, the Grand Signior having engaged by the late Treaty, That all such Hostilities and Depredations should cease from the day of signing the same. In the mean time we have Advice from Lemberg, that the Tartars, after having made great Spoil in the Country thereabouts, are returned home with their Booty.

Vienna, March 11. Count Otting, the Emperor's First Ambassador at the late Treaty at Carlowitz, arrived here yesterday from Hungary, in order to give his Imperial Majesty an Account of his Negotiation, and to prepare for his Embassy to the Ottoman Port; And Count Marsigli, one of his Collegues at the said Treaty, is daily expected, the Emperor having made choice of him to be one of the Commissioners to treat with the Turkish Commissioners about settling the Limits between the two Empires; who are to meet for this purpose at Carlowitz on the 20th of this Month. The Emperor has nominated the Count of Sinzendorf to go with the Character of Ambassador to the French Court. The Ambassador of Muscovy intends to take his Audience of Leave, and to return home in a short time; and we hear, the Czar has appointed one to succeed him, intending to have a Minister constantly residing at this