ROYAL AIR FORCE.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve the following awards in recognition of gallantry displayed in flying operations against the enemy:—

Distinguished Flying Cross.

Squadron Leader Keith Louis Bate HODSON (Can/C.807), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 401 (R.C.A.F.) Squadron.

This officer has participated in a large number of sorties. He is a skilful pilot, whose personal example has inspired the squadron he commands. Much of the success it has achieved can be attributed to Squadron Leader Hodson's excellent leadership.

Squadron Leader Jefferson Heywood WEDGWOOD (37645), Reserve of Air Force Officers, No. 92 Squadron.

In August, 1942, whilst patrolling the battle area, this officer led his squadron brilliantly in an attack against a superior number of enemy fighters. Despite the odds, Squadron Leader Wedgwood so disposed his squadron that, during the combat, at least 4 enemy aircraft were destroyed and several more were damaged. Throughout, this officer who, in the fighting, shot down a Messerschmitt 109F, displayed great tactical ability. Squadron Leader Wedgwood has always set a most courageous example. He has destroyed at least 6 and damaged many more hostile aircraft.

Flying Officer James Gillies BENSON (81365), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 141 Squadron.

Pilot Officer Lewis BRANDON (116886), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 141 Squadron.

Flying Officer Benson and Pilot Officer Brandon have flown together in night operations as pilot and observer respectively. One night in February, 1942, they destroyed a Dornier 217. In a previous sortie, Flying Officer Benson destroyed a Heinkel 111. Both these officers have always displayed a high standard of efficiency and devotion to duty.

Flying Officer Kenneth Robinson GRANT (65568), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 39 Squadron.

During August, 1942, this officer took part in an air attack on an enemy supply vessel, which resulted in its destruction. A few days later he led a force of torpedo-carrying aircraft in an attack on another supply vessel. Although it was escorted by a destroyer, Flying Officer Grant led his formation in to close range and sank the supply ship. This officer, who has completed several shipping strikes, has displayed great skill and determination.

Flying Officer Alexander Ian McRITCHIE (89763), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 151 Squadron.

Flying Officer McRitchie is a skilful and determined fighter. In one patrol, at dusk, in October, 1941, he attacked 4 Junkers 88's flying in formation at almost sea-level and about 50 miles from the coast. A running fight ensued and Flying Officer McRitchie shot down one of the enemy aircraft. Despite difficulties, he fought the others until they reached the Dutch coast. In all his combats, this officer has displayed outstanding courage. He has destroyed 4 hostile aircraft at night.

Flying Officer John Lloyd WADDY (Aus. 402685), Royal Australian Air Force.

This officer has displayed masterly airmanship as a fighter pilot. When participating with a force which intercepted about 20 enemy aircraft he destroyed 2 Junkers 52's and 2 Messerschmitt 110's. In more recent sorties Flying Officer Waddy has destroyed 4 other enemy aircraft bringing his total victories to at least 11. He has at all times shown great courage and devotion to duty.

Flying Officer Leslie Victor WORSDELL (84694), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 39 Squadron.

This officer has participated in several successful attacks on enemy shipping. In September, 1942, he led a formation against a convoy of 4 merchant vessels, escorted by 11 destroyers and a number of aircraft. Despite this formidable opposition, the objective was attacked from close range. Afterwards, when his aircraft was attacked by enemy fighters, Flying Officer Worsdell, by skilful tactics, prevented them from causing damage to his aircraft. On a previous occasion, following an attack when enemy shipping was sunk, Flying Officer Worsdell saw one of his fellow pilots in difficulties with engine trouble. Despite the presence of enemy fighters, Flying Officer Worsdell remained to protect his comrade and escorted him back to base. This officer has displayed great courage and inspiring leadership which have won the confidence of all with whom he has flown.

Pilot Officer Richard Sampson Orlebar MARSHALL (Aus. 402244), Royal Australian Air Force, No. 39 Squadron.

This officer has taken part in several successful raids on enemy shipping. In June, 1942, he participated in an attack on an Italian naval force. Although his aircraft was severely damaged by anti-aircraft fire, he flew it back to base. In September, 1942, he participated in an attack on a convoy of 4 merchant vessels, heavily escorted by 11 destroyers and fighter aircraft. In spite of this formidable opposition, Pilot Officer Marshall released his torpedo from close range. His aircraft was damaged by fire from enemy fighters, but he evaded them and flew safely to base. Throughout, he has displayed great skill and courage.

Pilot Officer James Stanley WATT (110643), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 7 Squadron.

Pilot Officer William Edward KING (Can/J.8771), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 7 Squadron.

One night in September, 1942, Pilot Officers Watt and King were captain and navigator respectively of an aircraft detailed to attack Dusseldorf. When nearing the target area, the aircraft was held in a concentration of searchlights and hit by anti-aircraft fire. The intercommunication was rendered unserviceable and Pilot Officer King was wounded in the leg and stomach. Despite this, he bravely continued his duties. His subsequent navigation was of the greatest assistance to Pilot Officer Watt, who succeeded in flying his damaged aircraft back to this country. These officers, both of whom have completed many successful sorties, displayed outstanding devotion to duty in difficult circumstances.

Distinguished Flying Medal.

1284386 Flight Sergeant John Lewis BARBER.

In the course of many searches and patrols, Flight Sergeant Barber has displayed both skill and devotion to duty as a member of the air sea rescue service. On one occasion, he rescued 4 members of the crew of an aircraft who had been afloat in their dinghy for 16 hours. During the combined operations at Dieppe on 19th August, 1942, this airman rescued the pilot of a Spitfire in most hazardous circumstances.

Aus. 400989 Flight Sergeant Frederick Roy JACKSON, Royal Australian Air Force, No. 460 (R.A.A.F.) Squadron

One night in September, 1942, this airman was the captain of a bomber engaged in an attack on Duisburg. While in the target area the aircraft was held in a cone of searchlights and was hit by fire from the ground defences. Soon afterwards it was attacked by an enemy fighter which inflicted serious damage on the aircraft and wounded many of the crew. Despite this perilous situation, Flight Sergeant Jackson flew his badly damaged aircraft back to this country. He displayed high courage and resource and superb airmanship.

Can/R.66150 Flight Sergeant Hubert Fortescue WATLINGTON, Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 39 Squadron.

This airman pilot has displayed exceptional ability and his courage has been an example to his fellow pilots. In September, 1942, he was pilot of an aircraft in the leading flight of a force detailed to attack an enemy convoy with a formidable escort of destroyers and fighter aircraft. Despite the opposition Flight Sergeant Watlington pressed home his attack from short range and, although both of his air gunners were wounded during attacks by fighters, this airman succeeded in evading his attackers and flew his aircraft back to base safely.

Aus. 404005 Sergeant Francis Lawrence CURR, Royal Australian Air Force, No. 75 (N.Z.) Squadron.

This captain of aircraft has completed numerous operational sorties. In each case, Sergeant Curr has pressed home his attacks from a low level to ensure success. His courage and energetic devotion to duty have been an example to others and are worthy of the highest praise.

1381997 Sergeant William Walter OWEN DIGGINS, No. 15 Squadron.

This airman was the rear gunner in an aircraft which attacked Hamburg. After leaving the target area, the bomber was attacked by a Messerschmitt 110 from close range. Sergeant Diggins coolly directed his pilot in evasive tactics and, by skilful use of his guns, he caused the port engine of the fighter to burst into flames. This airman has displayed high courage and keenness at all times.

Aus. 400752 Sergeant Peter James Vernon GHORHAM-HENDERSON, Royal Australian Air Force, No. 460 (R.A.A.F.) Squadron.

One night in July, 1942, when operating near St. Nazaire, this airman destroyed an enemy fighter which intercepted the bomber in which he was the rear gunner. On another occasion he opened fire on a Junkers 88 which attacked his aircraft and the enemy fighter burst into flames and dived away. The courage and determination displayed by this airman, combined with his skill as a gunner, contributed considerably to the safe return of his aircraft on both occasions.

647295 Sergeant Harry MEADES, No. 15 Squadron.

This airman has displayed the utmost courage and efficiency and has set a worthy example to others. During a daylight attack on Brest he destroyed 2 enemy fighters which intercepted the bomber in which he was a gunner. By accurate gunfire he extinguished many searchlights and silenced an anti-aircraft gun during a recent low level attack on submarine slipways at Lubeck.

921030 Sergeant George Edward SANDERSON, No. 39 Squadron.

Sergeant Sanderson was the pilot of one of a force of aircraft detailed to attack 4 enemy merchant vessels escorted by 11 destroyers and a strong force of fighter aircraft. Despite this considerable opposition, Sergeant Sanderson made his attack from close range. His aircraft was hit by anti-aircraft fire and sustained further damage from the enemy fighters but, by skilful evasive tactics, this airman flew his aircraft to base safely. He has completed many operational sorties and has at all times shown great courage and determination.

1105805 Sergeant Leslie Holt TESTER, No. 39 Squadron.

In September, 1942, Sergeant Tester was wireless operator-air gunner in one of a force of aircraft which attacked 4 enemy merchant vessels escorted by 11 destroyers and a strong force of fighter aircraft. After the attack had been delivered on the convoy Sergeant Tester's aircraft was attacked by enemy fighters. This airman gave skilful directions to his pilot and, as a result of his accurate return fire, the enemy eventually withdrew. During the engagement Sergeant Tester was wounded by a cannon shell. Despite the pain he suffered he rendered valuable service with his wireless set during the return fight. He displayed exceptional courage and devotion to duty.
