Air Ministry, 20th November, 1942.

ROYAL AIR FORCE.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve the following awards in recognition of gallantry displayed in flying operations against the enemy:—

Distinguished Service Order.

Acting Wing Commander Guy Penrose GIBSON, D.F.C. (39438), No. 106 Squadron.

Since being awarded a Bar to the Distinguished Flying Cross, this officer has completed many sorties, including a daylight raid on Danzig and an attack at Gdynia. In the recent attack on Le Creusot, Wing Commander Gibson bombed and machine-gunned the transformer station nearby from 500 feet. On 22nd October, 1942, he participated in the attack on Genoa and, two days later, he led his squadron in a daylight sortie against Milan. On both occasions, Wing Commander Gibson flew with great distinction. He is a most skilful and courageous leader whose keenness has set a most inspiring example.

Acting Wing Commander Kenneth Phillips SMALES, D.F.C. (39764), No. 44 Squadron.

This officer, who has completed a large number of sorties, has displayed outstanding skill and leadership. He has at all times shown the greatest determination to reach and bomb his objective. On the night of 22nd October, 1942, he piloted an aircraft detailed to attack Genoa. Despite engine trouble, which developed on the outward flight, he continued his mission and, displaying fine airmanship, reached his objective and bombed it. Engine trouble persisted on the return journey but he flew the aircraft back to base safely. His great courage and fine qualities have set an example worthy of the highest praise.

Bar to Distinguished Flying Cross.

Acting Squadron Leader Robert Duncan YULE, D.F.C. (33502), No. 66 Squadron.

Since being awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross in February this year, Squadron Leader Yule has displayed untiring devotion to duty, fine fighting spirit and excellent leadership which have been an example of the highest order. He has participated in many operational sorties and in the combined operations at Dieppe. He has destroyed several and damaged a number of other enemy aircraft.

Acting Flight Lieutenant Ernest Alfred DEVERILL, D.F.C., D.F.M. (45546), No. 97 Squadron.

Since being awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, this officer has taken part in 30 sorties, including many attacks on targets in the Ruhr area. In the daylight attack on the transformer station near Le Creusot, Flight Lieutenant Deverill bombed his objective from a height of 500 feet. He also participated in the recent raids on Milan and Genoa. This officer has invariably endeavoured to press home his attacks with great vigour.

Flying Officer Edward Robert BUTLER, D.F.C. (107923), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 97 Squadron.

As navigator Flying Officer Butler has taken part in many successful sorties against the most heavily defended areas in Germany, including the daylight attack on Augsburg. Recently he participated in the daylight attacks on Le Creusot and Milan and a night attack on Genoa. His navigational standard has always been exceptional whilst his keenness and courage have materially assisted in the successes achieved by his squadron.

Pilot Officer Maurice Edward WALSH, D.F.C. (126780), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 57 Squadron.

This officer has participated in numerous sorties, including attacks on Duisburg, Hamburg, Essen and, more recently, in the raids on Le Creusot, Genoa and Milan. On the last occasion he accomplished fine work and secured some excellent photographs. This officer has always endeavoured to press home his attacks regardless of the opposition.

Distinguished Flying Cross.

Wing Commander John Mackenzie SOUTHWELL (34132), No. 9 Squadron.

This officer has participated in many sorties, including attacks on many of the enemy's highly defended targets both in Germany and German-occupied territory. Throughout, he has displayed great determination to achieve success. In the raids on Le Creusot, Milan and Genoa, Wing Commander Southwell flew with distinction. He has at all times displayed great devotion to duty.

Flight Lieutenant Neil Carne GREEN (104438) Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 49 Squadron.

This officer has completed many sorties. Throughout, he has displayed great efficiency, combined with exceptional determination to complete his task successfully. In the raids on Le Creusot, Genoa and Milan he accomplished much good work. He is a skilful and determined pilot.

Acting Flight Lieutenant Henry Gift COLDBECK (N.Z.405235), Royal New Zealand Air Force, No. 69 Squadron.

This officer has performed outstanding work in Malta and the successes achieved against enemy shipping lately are largely due to his courage and skill in locating enemy convoys. On many occasions he has flown low over heavily defended areas and the resulting excellent information has been of invaluable assistance. On one occasion, although attacked by 3 enemy fighters, he flew over Palermo at 5,000 feet and located a large enemy tanker destined for North Africa. Flight Lieutenant Coldbeck is a resolute and fearless pilot whose exceptional skill has been invaluable in obtaining reports of enemy shipping movements and the dispositions of aircraft.

Acting Flight Lieutenant Douglas Owen COLLINGE (114724), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 610 Squadron.

This officer has taken part in many operational sorties and shipping reconnaissances. At all times he has displayed great devotion to duty and his courage and leadership have been an inspiration to his fellow pilots.

Flying Officer Ronald Edgar CURTIS (106040) Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 44 Squadron.

Flying Officer Curtis is a navigator of high merit. He has participated in numerous sorties, many of them in adverse weather, and much of the success obtained can be attributed to his great skill. He took part in the recent raids on Genoa and Milan and his accurate navigation contributed materially to the safe return of his aircraft.

Pilot Officer Sydney CLAYTON, D.F.M. (47870), No. 105 Squadron.

In October, 1942, this officer was the observer of an aircraft which attacked several targets in Germany in daylight. On the return flight, after crossing the enemy coast, the aircraft was attacked by 2 enemy fighters for some 15 minutes. During the engagement Pilot Officer Clayton's clear and concise directions to his pilot proved of the greatest assistance. By his skilful navigation in difficult circumstances this officer contributed materially to the success achieved. He has completed a large number of sorties throughout which he has displayed courage, initiative and devotion to duty.

Pilot Officer Harry Woodward DONKERSLEY (Can/J.8203) Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 69 Squadron.

This officer has recently achieved much success against enemy shipping. One day in October, 1942, he attacked a tanker, inflicting severe damage. A few nights later, he located and attacked a convoy of 4 merchant ships escorted by several destroyers. After making his attack, he returned to base, re-armed and made a second attack. Early next morning reconnaissance aircraft carried out a search over a wide area in the vicinity of the attack and observed that 3 of the enemy ships were missing. Some nights later, Pilot Officer Donkersley attacked 1 of 2 ships, escorted by destroyers, setting the vessel on fire. Later, it was learned that the ship had sunk. The success which attended his efforts deprived the enemy of much fuel so vital for the battle in Africa.

Pilot Officer Franklin Meredith FALLS (Can/J. 15734), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 97 Squadron.

As captain of aircraft, this officer has taken part in many attacks on the Ruhr and other targets in Germany, including a low level attack on Danzig. Recently he participated in the daylight attacks on Le Creusot and Milan and one of the night attacks on Genoa. On each occasion he pressed home the attack with great determination.

Pilot Officer Gerald Ernest FAWKE (111547), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 49 Squadron.

This officer has participated in many operational sorties and has brought back some excellent photographs. On one occasion he was detailed to make an attack on an important factory and, although he had to descend to roof top height, he successfully completed his task. Pilot Officer Fawke took part in the daylight attack on Le Creusot and one of the night attacks on Genoa. He has shown a total disregard of the risks involved and a supreme determination to bring his mission to a successful conclusion and has often secured valuable photographs of the target.

Pilot Officer Thomas Gerald HACKNEY (80218), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 44 Squadron.

This officer has participated in numerous sorties, involving attacks on a wide range of enemy targets. He is a skilful pilot and a fine captain whose determined efforts have contributed in a large measure to the many successes obtained. In the recent attack on Genoa, Pilot Officer Hackney attacked his objective successfully and obtained a photograph.

Pilot Officer Leonard Thomas JACKSON (Can/J. 15950), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 83 Squadron.

One night in July, 1942, Pilot Officer Jackson was pilot of a four-engined bomber detailed to attack the heavily defended town of Dusseldorf. While making his attack his aircraft was hit by anti-aircraft fire and severely damaged. The port and starboard outer engines were put out of action but displaying expert airmanship Pilot Officer Jackson manoeuvred his aircraft away from the target area. On the return journey he lost height until he was down to 6,000 feet, when his aircraft was again engaged by searchlights and anti-aircraft fire, but by skilful evasive tactics he was able to continue on his course, and make a successful forced landing at his home base. Since this hazardous trip Pilot Officer Jackson has taken part in many successful operations. By his high morale and fine conduct, both in the air and on the ground, he has set a valuable example.

Pilot Officer William Hooker MATHEWS (Can/J. 8424), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 69 Squadron.

One day in October, 1942, this officer executed a successful attack on a large and heavily escorted merchant ship. Pressing home his attack with great skill, Pilot Officer Mathews obtained a hit on the vessel, inflicting such damage that later it had to be run ashore and its cargo unloaded. His aircraft was damaged by anti-aircraft fire but he flew it to base. On another night, towards the end of the month, Pilot Officer Mathews attacked with telling effect another enemy merchant ship escorted by 3 destroyers. Later, it was learned that the ship and its valuable cargo of fuel had become a total loss. This officer has displayed outstanding skill and determination to inflict loss on the enemy.

Pilot Officer John Robert McDONALD (Can/J.7978), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 49 Squadron.

This officer has taken part in many operational sorties and on each occasion has successfully completed his mission. At all times this officer has displayed the greatest enthusiasm and determination to press home the attack regardless alike of difficulties or dangers to be faced. Pilot Officer McDonald participated in the daylight attack on Le Creusot and Milan and has made the extremely long flight to attack Genoa.

Pilot Officer John Alexander Wilson MOFFATT (128685), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 9 Squadron.

As wireless operator/air gunner, this officer has taken part in a large number of sorties, including the recent raids on Genoa and Milan. His skill is such that, not once, has he had a wireless failure. His keenness and efficiency make him a most valuable member of aircraft crew.

Pilot Officer Laurance Arthur SMITH (114060), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 610 Squadron.

Pilot Officer Smith has taken part in many attacks against targets in enemy occupied territory and in shipping reconnaissances. He accomplished very good work during the combined operations at Dieppe on the 19th August, 1942. This officer has always shown the greatest eagerness to engage the enemy and has destroyed 2 hostile aircraft. Throughout Pilot Officer Smith has displayed great devotion to duty.

Warrant Officer Rennie LEVER (969699), No. 61 Squadron.

Warrant Officer Lever has participated in many operational sorties over some of the most heavily defended areas in Germany. In October, 1942, he was captain of an aircraft forming part of the force which successfully attacked Le Creusot. He also captained aircraft which recently attacked Genoa and Milan. At all times this officer has displayed continuous courage and devotion to duty.

Distinguished Flying Cross.

Pilot Officer Everard Frank GRAY HEALEY, D.F.M. (116140), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 106 Squadron.

Pilot Officer John Ray PENNINGTON (118726), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 106 Squadron.

Distinguished Flying Medal.

Can./R.84062 Flight Sergeant David MacLeod CROZIER, Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 106 Squadron.

Pilot Officers Healey and Pennington and Flight Sergeant Crozier were pilot, navigator and air bomber respectively of an aircraft engaged in recent sorties against Le Creusot, Genoa and Milan. On all occasions they achieved much success and each, in his respective role, displayed a high standard of skill and determination. Throughout the many sorties in which they have taken part, these members of aircraft crew have invariably displayed gallantry and devotion to duty worthy of high praise.

Distinguished Flying Medal.

N.Z.411970 Flight Sergeant Frank Ellison GATLAND, Royal New Zealand Air Force, No. 214 Squadron.

One night in October, 1942, Flight Sergeant Gatland was captain of an aircraft detailed to attack a target at Genoa. Heavy cloud obscured the target but despite this and opposing fire from the ground defences, Flight Sergeant Gatland courageously pressed home his attack from a low level, while his gunners engaged the searchlights and gun emplacements. This airman, throughout his many operational sorties, has set a fine example by his determination, ability and devotion to duty.

620563 Flight Sergeant James GOLDIE, No. 97 Squadron.

Flight Sergeant Goldie has taken part in many attacks against the most heavily defended targets in Germany including a low-level attack in daylight on Danzig and the highly successful "1,000 raid" on Cologne. He has recently participated in the daylight attacks on Le Creusot and Milan and one of the night attacks on Genoa. His courage, skill and keenness have been an inspiration to all.

Can./R.55378 Flight Sergeant William Henry KEANE, Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 97 Squadron.

This airman has taken part in many attacks against the most heavily defended targets in Germany including the low-level attack on Augsburg and the "1,000 raid" on Cologne. Recently he has participated in the daylight attacks on Le Creusot and Milan and one of the night attacks on Genoa. Throughout he has shown great skill as an air gunner.

629128 Sergeant Gordon CRUICKSHANKS, No. 50 Squadron.

Sergeant Cruickshanks, as rear gunner, has taken part in many successful operational sorties. During the fiercest opposition he has remained unfurried and by his quiet efficiency and vigilant lookout has materially assisted his pilot. He participated in the raids on Rostock and in one of the recent attacks on Milan, and has at all times set a fine example of courage and devotion to duty.

1167741 Sergeant Albert MEAGHER, No. 61 Squadron.

As captain of aircraft Sergeant Meagher took part in the daylight attack on Le Creusot and Milan and one of the night attacks on Genoa. On each occasion he completed his mission successfully and obtained excellent photographs. He has participated in many operational sorties and his enthusiasm and spirit of determination are an outstanding example to all.

Aus.407852 Sergeant Colin Hugh WATT, Royal Australian Air Force, No. 44 Squadron.

On the 24th October, 1942, Sergeant Watt was pilot of an aircraft forming part of a formation detailed to attack Milan in daylight. On the journey out his starboard engine failed but Sergeant Watt with great determination flew a further 150 miles to reach his target and successfully bombed his objective. He accomplished the arduous task of recrossing the Alps and returning to base on three engines, making a perfect landing. This airman has taken part in many operational sorties and has always shown a dogged determination to achieve his mission regardless of the difficulties and dangers to be faced.

778285 Flight Sergeant William James ROSE, No. 207 Squadron.

1271000 Sergeant Ronald Sydney WILSON, No. 207 Squadron.

Aus.408145 Sergeant John Henry LOVELL, Royal Australian Air Force, No. 207 Squadron.

1258979 Sergeant Arthur John PERRIN, No. 207 Squadron.

Can./R.100368 Flight Sergeant Charles Woodrow WILSON PECK, Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 207 Squadron.

As navigator, pilot, wireless operator/air gunner and rear gunner respectively, these airmen flew in an aircraft which took part in an attack on Le Creusot on 17th October, 1942. Shortly after taking off, engine trouble developed. Despite great efforts, Sergeant Wilson was unable to continue his mission and course was set for base. Near to the French coast, whilst flying at only 40 feet above the sea, the aircraft was attacked by three enemy float planes. In the face of a trying situation Sergeant Wilson displayed fine airmanship and, splendidly supported by his gunners whose skill destroyed two of them and drove off the third, he eventually flew the aircraft back to an aerodrome in this country. During the combat Flight Sergeant Rose coolly continued his duties and his subsequent navigation was of the greatest assistance to his pilot. Throughout, this crew displayed great courage, high skill and perfect teamwork.
