CENTRAL CHANCERY OF THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD.

St. James's Palace, S.W.1, 18th December, 1942.

The KING has been graciously pleased to give orders for the following appointment to the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire in recognition of distinguished service with the Royal Air Force:—

To be an Additional Officer of the Military Division of the said Most Excellent Order:—

Squadron Leader Edward Alexander Howell, D.F.C. (36027).

Air Ministry, 18th December, 1942.

ROYAL AIR FORCE.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve the following awards in recognition of gallantry displayed in flying operations against the enemy:—

Bar to Distinguished Flying Cross.

Acting Flight Lieutenant Leonard Charles PIPKIN, D.F.C. (62260), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 103 Squadron.

In September, 1942, this officer was the navigator of an aircraft detailed to attack a target in the Ruhr. In most hazardous circumstances he displayed courage and devotion to duty in keeping with the highest traditions of the Royal Air Force.

Bar to Distinguished Flying Cross.

Flying Officer Roy Oldfield CALVERT, D.F.C. (N.Z.404890), Royal New Zealand Air Force, No. 50 Squadron.

Distinguished Flying Medal.

1375895 Flight Sergeant John MEDANI, No. 50 Squadron.

As pilot and navigator of aircraft respectively, Flying Officer Calvert and Flight Sergeant Medani have participated in numerous sorties, including attacks on heavily defended areas in Western Germany and daylight raids on Le Creusot and Milan. During a recent sortie, Flying Officer Calvert's aircraft was subjected to heavy anti-aircraft fire, sustaining much damage. The wireless operator was killed and both the pilot and navigator were wounded. The aircraft became difficult to control but Flying Officer Calvert, although he had a piece of shell splinter embedded in his left arm, set course for home. Flight Sergeant Medani, despite the severity of his wound and subsequent loss of blood, continued his duties until he collapsed. Even so, he succeeded in giving his pilot a final course which enabled him to reach an airfield in this country where he made a skilful crash landing in bad visibility. Both these members of aircraft crew displayed great courage and tenacity in the face of harassing circumstances.

Distinguished Flying Cross.

Wing Commander Cedric Audley MASTERMAN, O.B.E. (37199), No. 227 Squadron.

This officer has led his squadron with great skill and dash. During a flight one day in November, 1942, a large formation of enemy aircraft was intercepted over the Sicilian Channel. In the ensuing engagement 7 of these were destroyed and several more probably destroyed. Throughout, Wing Commander Masterman, who destroyed an S.M.81, displayed outstanding leadership. Within 2 weeks, the squadron has destroyed 16 hostile aircraft in combat as well as others on the ground, while in attacks on shipping, trains, road columns and fuel dumps much damage and disorganisation was caused. His high courage and untiring devotion to duty have set an example worthy of the highest praise.

Acting Wing Commander Donald Teale SAVILLE (74738), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 104 Squadron.

Within 2 weeks of his arrival in Malta, this officer completed numerous sorties. By his splendid leadership and untiring efforts, he has contributed materially to the successes obtained by the squadron he commands. In November, 1942, at night, he took part in an attack on an airfield at Tunis. In spite of heavy opposition and bad weather, the objective was bombed from a low level. The next night he participated in 3 attacks on Comiso airfield where a large fire was started. His determined and courageous example has inspired his fellow pilots.

Acting Squadron Leader Donald George LONG (40722), No. 57 Squadron.

Flying Officer Edward William George ROSAM, D.F.M. (113328), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 57 Squadron.

In November, 1942, Squadron Leader Long and Flying Officer Rosam were captain and wireless operator respectively of an aircraft which was detailed to attack Genoa. On the outward flight, shortly after crossing enemy territory, engine trouble developed. Despite this Squadron Leader Long continued his mission, reached his target and bombed it. Soon after leaving the target area, the port outer engine caught fire and ceased to function. Displaying fine airmanship and ably supported by Flying Officer Rosam whose wireless skill was of the greatest value, Squadron Leader Long flew his aircraft back to this country and effected a masterly landing in difficult circumstances. Both these officers have invariably displayed high skill and outstanding devotion to duty.

Pilot Officer Howard Earl DABBS (Can./J.15608), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 101 Squadron, (since missing).

One night in December, 1942, this officer was pilot of an aircraft detailed to attack Frankfurt. When nearing the target area his aircraft, whilst held in a cone of searchlights was hit by anti-aircraft fire and one of its engines was put out of action. Despite this, Pilot Officer Dabbs flew on to his target but, as the bomb release mechanism was unserviceable, he was unable to drop his bombs. Displaying skilful airmanship he flew his aircraft back to this country without the assistance of wireless aids. With a full bomb load he made a masterly landing in poor visibility. This officer's skill and determination in the face of adverse circumstances set an example worthy of the highest praise. He has flown on several sorties with distinction.

Distinguished Flying Medal.

Can./R.100533 Sergeant Harry MORRISSY, Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 102 Squadron (since missing).

One night in November, 1942, Sergeant Morrissey captained an aircraft detailed to attack Turin. During the take off, the hatch cover above his head blew open and all attempts to close and secure it were unavailing. Although it was necessary to jettison the hatch cover, leaving him exposed to intense cold and extreme discomfort, Sergeant Morrissey flew on to the target and successfully bombed it. Throughout the flight, this airman displayed outstanding determination and unswerving devotion to duty.

Air Ministry, 18th December, 1942.
