Air Ministry, 30th July, 1943.

ROYAL AIR FORCE.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve the following awards in recognition of gallantry displayed in flying operations against the enemy:—

Second Bar to Distinguished Flying Cross.

Squadron Leader James Archibald Findlay MACLACHLAN, D.S.O., D.F.C. (39639), Reserve of Air Force Officers.

Distinguished Flying Cross.

Flight Lieutenant Alan Geoffrey PAGE (74709), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve.

Recently, these officers in the course of an operation over enemy occupied territory shot down 6 enemy aircraft, 3 of which were destroyed by Squadron Leader MacLachlan and 2 by Flight Lieutenant Page, while the other was destroyed jointly. The operation, which was planned by Squadron Leader MacLachlan, was brilliantly executed and the successes were worthily earned.

Bar to Distinguished Flying Cross.

Acting Wing Commander Robert Clifford ALABASTER, D.F.C. (81065), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 97 Squadron.

Distinguished Flying Cross.

Flight Lieutenant Alfred Eaton CLARKE (61030), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 97 Squadron.

One night in July, 1943, Wing Commander Alabaster was captain and navigator of an aircraft piloted by Flight Lieutenant Clarke detailed to attack Cologne. Some 50 miles from the target the bomber was attacked by an enemy fighter. Before it could be evaded the aircraft was repeatedly hit. One engine was damaged, other structural essentials almost shot away, while the rear gunner was wounded and his turret rendered unserviceable. The bomber became difficult to control but, despite this, course was re-set for the target which was attacked successfully. On the return flight shortly after crossing the enemy coast, the damaged engine caught fire and could not be extinguished but Flight Lieutenant Clarke flew on to the nearest airfield to effect a masterly landing. This pilot displayed outstanding skill and tenacity while Wing Commander Alabaster's high navigational skill and excellent captaincy proved a valuable contribution to the success of the operation.

Bar to Distinguished Flying Cross.

Acting Squadron Leader Robert Wendell McNAIR, D.F.C. (Can/J.4745), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 421 (R.C.A.F.) Squadron.

This officer is a skilful and determined fighter, whose record of achievement and personal example are worthy of high praise. Squadron Leader McNair has destroyed 10 hostile aircraft (5 of them whilst serving in the Middle East) and damaged a number of others.

Flight Lieutenant John Michael BRYAN, D.F.C. (102570), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 137 Squadron.

Flight Lieutenant Bryan is a skilful and tenacious pilot. Since being awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, he has damaged 2 minesweepers, 3 barges and an E. boat. In addition he has executed 13 destructive attacks on locomotives; he has also participated in several successful attacks on enemy airfields. Flight Lieutenant Bryan has displayed high qualities of leadership, setting an inspiring example.

Distinguished Flying Cross.

Acting Squadron Leader Peter BUNCLARK, D.F.M. (117580), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 78 Squadron.

One night in July, 1943, this officer piloted an aircraft detailed for an operation against Cologne. Soon after the target had been attacked 1 of the bomber's engines was struck by shrapnel and put out of action. The propeller was feathered and the homeward flight continued, but, some time later, whilst still over enemy territory, a second engine became useless. Despite this, Squadron Leader Bunclark succeeded in flying the bomber to this country. Other essential equipment was unserviceable and the position became serious. With complete disregard for his own welfare, Squadron Leader Bunclark struggled on to avoid a built-up area and succeeded in crash-landing the damaged bomber in a field. This officer displayed courage and tenacity of a high order.

Acting Flight Lieutenant David Mowbray BALME (118095), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 207 Squadron.

This officer was the captain of an aircraft detailed to attack Turin one night in July, 1943. Although 1 engine failed soon after the commencement of his flight to this distant target, Flight Lieutenant Balme continued his mission. When nearing the Alps a quantity of movable stores was jettisoned in stages in order to gain height. This accomplished, the bomber was piloted safely over the mountains and on to the target which was successfully attacked. When some 150 miles on the return journey the defective engine became serviceable but it soon became evident that the petrol would become exhausted before this country was reached if the full complement of engines were used. Flight Lieutenant Balme therefore instructed the flight engineer to feather the port inner engine. The petrol thus conserved enabled Flight Lieutenant Balme to fly the bomber to an airfield in this country. This officer displayed great skill, courage and resolution.

Acting Flight Lieutenant Frank Oswald DIMBLEBEE (133260), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 273 Squadron.

This pilot is engaged on air/sea rescue operations. He has displayed skill and daring throughout, often effecting rescues far from his base and well within sight of the enemy's coastline and fighter aircraft. On other occasions he has brought his aircraft down on to rough and dangerous seas to accomplish his purpose. Flight Lieutenant Dimblebee has been instrumental in picking up 34 of his comrades. He has displayed great ability and keenness and has contributed materially to the efficiency of his flight which has been responsible for rescuing 100 personnel. During an earlier period of his operational career, Flight Lieutenant Dimblebee destroyed an enemy aircraft and a petrol bowser in the course of a low-flying attack.

Flying Officer Joseph Laurier DE HOUX (Can./J.15145), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 137 Squadron.

This officer has participated in many sorties, including attacks on enemy airfields both by day and night, and on military installations and shipping. In the course of his activities, Flying Officer De Houx has inflicted damage on 19 barges, 3 minesweepers and 5 locomotives. He has displayed great skill and fighting qualities.

Pilot Officer John GOOD (Aus.408806), Royal Australian Air Force, No. 467 (R.A.A.F.) Squadron.

One night in July, 1943, this officer piloted an aircraft detailed to attack Turin. Although one of the bomber's engines became unserviceable on the outward flight, causing the aircraft to lose height, Pilot Officer Good continued his mission. When nearing the Alps he ordered a quantity of movable stores to be jettisoned and thus regained height sufficient to cross the mountains and so, on to the target, which was bombed successfully. On the return flight, whilst over the sea and, in daylight, Pilot Officer Good observed one of our bombers in distress. Despite the possibility of enemy fighter interference, he escorted the damaged bomber to an airfield in this country. Pilot Officer Good displayed great skill, courage and resource throughout.

Distinguished Flying Cross.

Flying Officer John Frederick HANDASYDE (Aus.400985), Royal Australian Air Force, No. 53 Squadron.

Distinguished Flying Medal.

1250042 Flight Sergeant Harold Arthur POMEROY, No. 53 Squadron.

Flying Officer Handasyde and Flight Sergeant Pomeroy were pilot and rear gunner respectively of an aircraft which was attacked by 7 enemy aircraft during an operational flight in July, 1943. During the combat, Flying Officer Handasyde displayed great skill and determination and frustrated no less than 30 to 40 attacks before the engagement terminated 45 minutes later. Early in the fight, Flight Sergeant Pomeroy sustained serious and painful wounds but, displaying great fortitude, he continued to man his gun although he collapsed several times during his efforts. In the face of harassing circumstances, these members of aircraft crew displayed courage and tenacity of a high order.

Distinguished Flying Medal.

616330 Sergeant Alfred James AMES, No. 75 (N.Z.) Squadron.

As flight engineer, this airman has participated in numerous sorties and has displayed great skill and devotion to duty. On one occasion, in November, 1942, during an operation against Turin, his ability was amply demonstrated, thereby proving of great assistance to his pilot in most difficult circumstances. One night in June, 1943, he was a member of the crew of an aircraft detailed to attack Gelsenkirchen. During the take-off, he was jolted from his feet in such a way that he sustained an internal injury. In spite of considerable pain, Sergeant Ames refrained from informing his captain and executed his duties until the operation had been successfully concluded. His devotion to duty set a commendable example.

1239421 Sergeant John Victor Francis FOULSTON, No. 51 Squadron.

One night in July, 1943, this airman was captain and pilot of an aircraft detailed to attack Gelsenkirchen. The target was successfully attacked but, whilst over the target area, the bomber was hit by anti-aircraft fire. Almost simultaneously, the aircraft flew into a severe electrical storm. Instruments were rendered unserviceable and the aircraft went into a spin. Much height was lost before Sergeant Foulston regained control but his aircraft was again hit by fire from the ground defences and sustained damage to one of its engines. Although in difficulties Sergeant Foulston, by skilful evading action, eventually flew clear. Later, on the return flight, all the petrol from the starboard tanks was lost when the bomber again came under fire and was hit. Despite this, Sergeant Foulston struggled on to reach this country. He was unable to reach an airfield, however, as the petrol became exhausted and the aircraft crashed but the crew escaped injury. In the face of great odds, this pilot displayed superb airmanship, great courage and resolution.
