Air Ministry, 27th August, 1943.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve the following awards in recognition of gallantry displayed in flying operations against the enemy:—

Bar to Distinguished Service Order.

Acting Wing Commander Joseph Roy George RALSTON, D.S.O., D.F.M. (47650), Royal Air Force, No. 101 Squadron.

In April, 1943, Wing Commander Ralston undertook his 83rd sortie when he led a formation of bomber aircraft in an operation against rail targets at Trien and Ehrang, Germany. The operation demanded a high degree of skill and involved a flight far into enemy territory, in bad weather and at low altitude. On crossing the enemy coast line the bombers were hotly engaged. Despite this, formation was maintained and the aircraft flew on through heavy rainstorms and poor visibility, frequently at a height of only 50 feet, to reach the target, bomb it and obtain photographs. By his brilliant leadership, exceptional skill and determination, Wing Commander Ralston contributed in a large measure to the success of the operation. Throughout his operational career this officer has set an example of the highest order. Undeterred by the fiercest opposition he has invariably pressed home his attacks with great vigour. His unswerving devotion to duty and heroic endeavours have set a standard beyond praise.

Distinguished Service Order.

Acting Flight Lieutenant Reader Dennison HANBURY (77686), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 228 Squadron.

In July, 1943, whilst this officer was captain of an aircraft engaged on an anti-submarine patrol, a pack of three U. boats were observed on the surface of the water. Flight Lieutenant Hanbury quickly reported the position and, whilst shadowing the pack, which were taking violent evasive action, he attacked one of the vessels. In spite of intense opposing fire he straddled the U. boat with depth charges which caused the vessel to sink almost immediately. Two weeks later, Flight Lieutenant Hanbury completed the destruction of a U. boat which had been damaged in a previous attack by another aircraft. This officer has displayed skill, courage and determination of a high order.

Bar to Distinguished Flying Cross.

Flight Lieutenant John SHEPHERD, D.F.C. (104447), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 118 Squadron.

Since being awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, this officer has undertaken a large number of sorties and has displayed inspiring leadership and great keenness throughout. He has participated in several successful attacks on enemy shipping and, in addition, has destroyed two enemy aircraft, bringing his victories to four. He has set a worthy example.

Squadron Leader Geoffrey Wilson NORTHCOTT (Can/J.15088), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 416 (R.C.A.F.) Squadron.

This officer, who has completed 55 operations over enemy territory, has displayed outstanding ability. He has destroyed three enemy aircraft and damaged several more. In addition he has participated in several effective attacks on shipping. By his personal example he has won the confidence of all with whom he has flown.

Acting Squadron Leader George Reginald COATES (N.Z.403428) Royal New Zealand Air Force.

This officer has completed many sorties, a number of them against important industrial targets in the Ruhr. Latterly, he has undertaken many anti-submarine patrols and air/sea rescue sorties during which he has set an admirable example. On one occasion, when forced to bring his aircraft down on to the sea owing to engine trouble, Squadron Leader Coates displayed great fortitude and set an example which greatly encouraged his comrades during the following 31 hours they were afloat in their dinghy. This officer has invariably displayed outstanding zeal and devotion to duty.

Acting Squadron Leader Clive Baldwin SINTON (Can/C.1491), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 432 (R.C.A.F.) Squadron.

One night in July, 1943, this officer piloted an aircraft detailed for an operation against Essen. Whilst over the target area, the bomber was hit by anti-aircraft fire. One of its engines was put out of action, while the port petrol tank was damaged. Despite this, Squadron Leader Sinton flew the damaged bomber home to an airfield near the coast. Whilst circling the airfield it became apparent that a safe landing could not be effected. The aircraft was rapidly losing height but Squadron Leader Sinton coolly headed the bomber towards the sea where it came down on to the water about a mile from the shore. After ensuring that all his comrades were safely out of the aircraft, Squadron Leader Sinton supported one of them until they were rescued half-a-mile from the shore. This officer displayed great skill and determination throughout and was mainly responsible for the ultimate safety of his crew.

Flight Lieutenant Richard Lawrence Leach McCULLOUGH (44052), Royal Air Force, No. 101 Squadron.

This officer has completed many sorties and has invariably pressed home his attacks with great determination. One night in August, 1943, he captained an aircraft detailed for an operation against Hamburg. During the flight, the aircraft was hit by shell-fire, fragments of which severed the rudder control shaft. In spite of this, Flight Lieutenant McCullough flew on to the target and bombed it, afterwards piloting the damaged aircraft to base. His superb skill and tenacity were undoubtedly responsible for the safe return of the bomber and its crew.

Flight Lieutenant John Arthur RAE (Can/J.15493), Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 416 (R.C.A.F.) Squadron.

This officer has completed 60 sorties and throughout has displayed skill and determination of a high order. He has taken part in many telling attacks on shipping, while in combat he has destroyed at least 2 enemy aircraft. His fine fighting qualities and excellent leadership have contributed materially to the high standard of operational efficiency of his flight.

Acting Flight Lieutenant Francis Major COLE (101022), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve.

This officer has completed many sorties, involving bombing operations, anti-submarine patrols and air/sea rescue flights. He has at all times displayed great skill and keenness, setting an encouraging example to all.

Flying Officer Lionel Albert CHENNELL (125429), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve.

This officer has completed many sorties and has displayed great skill and determination to achieve success. On one occasion, after bombing Rostock, his aircraft was severely damaged by anti-aircraft fire but, by a skilful and determined effort, Flying Officer Chennell flew it safely to base. More recently, this officer has completed numerous anti-submarine patrols and air/sea rescue sorties during which his keenness and devotion to duty have been outstanding.

Flying Officer Stanley WHITE (108528), Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, No. 228 Squadron.

In August, 1943, during a patrol over the Bay of Biscay, Flying Officer White executed an attack on a U-boat which was observed on the surface of the sea. In spite of anti-aircraft fire from the vessel, Flying Officer White made 2 runs over the vessel before releasing his depth charges which straddled it. He afterwards flew some 300 miles to base in bad weather and landed his aircraft safely.

Pilot Officer Arthur Gaston BRUNET (Can/J.17907) Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 137 Squadron.

This officer, who has completed many sorties both by day and night, is an extremely able and determined pilot. In the course of his activities, Pilot Officer Brunet has attacked numerous locomotives and rolling stock with success. In addition, he has attacked many barges and several E-boats with telling effect. He has set a highly commendable example.

Pilot Officer Edward HONE (51154), Royal Air Force.

Pilot Officer Hone is an air gunner of exceptional ability. He has participated in many bombing sorties, anti-submarine patrols and air/sea rescue operations. On one of the latter occasions, after the aircraft in which he was flying had been forced down on to the sea, Pilot Officer Hone displayed great powers of endurance during a trying period of 31 hours adrift in the dinghy. This officer has invariably displayed outstanding determination and devotion to duty.

Distinguished Flying Cross.

Flying Officer Basil Alfred WILLIAMS (Aus.416164), Royal Australian Air Force, No. 10 (R.A.A.F.) Squadron.

Flying Officer Reginald William Stuart GROSS (Aus.285147), Royal Australian Air Force, No. 10 (R.A.A.F.) Squadron.

Distinguished Flying Medal.

Aus.14611 Acting Sergeant William Cheseldon MOSER, Royal Australian Air Force No. 10 (R.A.A.F.) Squadron.

Aus.62956 Acting Sergeant Rhys Frederick OWEN, Royal Australian Air Force, No. 10 (R.A.A.F.) Squadron.

Flying Officer Gross and Sergeants Moser and Owen were navigator, armourer/air gunner and flight engineer respectively of an aircraft captained by Flying Officer Williams detailed for a flight in August, 1943. Whilst over the Bay of Biscay the aircraft was attacked by 7 enemy aircraft. In the ensuing engagement, which lasted an hour, Flying Officer Williams fought with great skill and determination. The aircraft was repeatedly hit and when the inter-communication system was put out of action, Flying Officer Gross, though wounded, did everything he could to keep his captain informed of the enemy's tactics. The starboard main petrol tank was pierced and Sergeant Moser crawled into the mainplane and attempted to stop the leak. He afterwards manned the galley gun, relieving Sergeant Owen who had fought with great resolution and remained at his post although wounded in the knee by cannon fire, and assisted in frustrating many attacks. Flying Officer Williams succeeded in flying the damaged aircraft to base being greatly assisted by Flying Officer Gross whose navigation in difficult circumstances was of a high order. In the face of trying circumstances these members of aircraft crew displayed great courage, skill and determination.

Distinguished Flying Medal.

657775 Flight Sergeant Morall MacKenzie COLE, Royal Air Force, No. 50 Squadron.

One night in July, 1943, this airman piloted an aircraft engaged on an operation against Remscheid. Shortly after bombing the target the aircraft was hit by anti-aircraft fire whilst illuminated by the searchlights. Severe damage was sustained. The undercarriage dropped to the down position and the aircraft turned on its back, while all the petrol in one of the starboard tanks was lost. Flight Sergeant Cole regained control of the bomber but, almost immediately, one of the starboard engines caught fire and was put out of action. The aircraft became difficult to control and petrol was running low but by superb airmanship, Flight Sergeant Cole succeeded in reaching an airfield in this country. His coolness and courage in the face of a perilous situation were worthy of the highest praise.

Can./R.127907 Sergeant (now Pilot Officer) Wilfred Lloyd CANTER, Royal Canadian Air Force, No. 408 (R.C.A.F.) Squadron.

In an air operation Sergeant Canter displayed courage and tenacity of a high order.

Air Ministry, 27th August, 1943.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve the following awards:—

Air Force Cross.

Acting Wing Commander Richard Godfrey SEYS, D.F.C. (34130), Royal Air Force.

Squadron Leader Fowler Morgan GOBEL (Can/C.121), Royal Canadian Air Force.

Flight Lieutenant William Sydney LONGHURST (42852), Royal Air Force.

These officers made the first tug-and-glider crossing of the North Atlantic from Canada to the United Kingdom, landing on 1st July, 1943. Wing Commander Seys and Squadron Leader Gobel were pilot and co-pilot respectively of the glider and Flight Lieutenant Longhurst piloted the towing aircraft. Both aircraft carried useful loads, the cargo of the glider being nearly 1½ tons and including serum and vital aircraft spares. The flight involved landings in Newfoundland, Greenland (an exceptionally difficult one) and Iceland. Adverse weather was encountered at times and, as the glider could not ascend higher than 13,000 feet, the aircraft were frequently buffeted about and might have broken adrift but for the skilful flying of the glider pilots. They also showed great skill in overcoming the difficulties of flying in clouds.

Acting Flight Lieutenant Peter Stuart ISAACSON, D.F.C., D.F.M. (Aus.401068), Royal Australian Air Force.

Flight Lieutenant Isaacson was captain of the Lancaster aircraft which recently flew from England to Australia via the Pacific and subsequently carried out direct flights between Melbourne and New Zealand (both ways). This is the first occasion on which an aircraft has flown to Australia by this route and the direct flights between Melbourne and New Zealand are the first of their kind.

Air Ministry, 27th August, 1943.
