The above awards are in recognition of gallantry and devotion to duty in the execution of air operations.

Air Ministry, 14th November, 1944.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve the following awards:—

Military Cross.

Squadron Leader Frederick Joseph TROLLOPE (68965), R.A.F.V.R.

Squadron Leader Trollope took command of his unit when the commanding officer became a casualty after landing on the beaches of Normandy on "D" day. His courage and devotion to duty in organising the many parties of his unit on the beach, which was under intense fire, and arranging the safe conduct of men and vehicles as well as organising the evacuation of the wounded, were of a high order. In addition to this work, Squadron Leader Trollope carried out his normal duties throughout the night and was mainly responsible for the successful operation of his unit under great difficulties. All his duties involved continual movement over the beaches and reconnaissance into enemy territory under fire. He displayed great leadership and courage.

The Reverend Geoffrey Clarence HARDING (140848), R.A.F.V.R.

This chaplain landed with a unit on the beaches of Normandy on "D" day. The beach was under intense bombardment and was strewn with dead and wounded. Mr. Harding worked for 36 hours, most of the time under direct fire, giving help to the wounded and burying the dead. He set an inspiring example and was responsible for saving many lives. During the evening of "D" day he walked along a road, which was under fire, into a village in enemy hands. He entered a house in which were many snipers and obtained water which he took back to the wounded. His gallantry and disregard for his own safety were worthy of high praise.

Acting Squadron Leader Norman BEST (75523), R.A.F.V.R.

Squadron Leader Best was in charge of some equipment, vehicles, and men during the initial landings in Normandy on "D" day. Some of the vehicles and men fell into traps in the water. Although the beach and disembarkation point were under heavy shell fire and small arms fire, this officer's work in salvaging vehicles and equipment and ferrying them to a place of cover was carried out with great courage and disregard of his own safety. Squadron Leader Best also helped other units in a similar predicament. Whilst under fire he set a fine example to all.

Flight Lieutenant Richard Noel RYCROFT, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P. (116496), R.A.F.V.R.

Flight Lieutenant Rycroft was the only medical officer on one of the beaches of Normandy on "D" day. Owing to the intense bombardment, it was not possible for him or any member of his unit to move off the beach for 6 hours. He worked for 48 hours tending casualties among the personnel of his unit and also aided some 75 American wounded. He was himself slightly wounded but his efforts on behalf of others were untiring. He set an example of great courage and devotion to duty and was responsible for saving many lives.

Military Medal.

978501 Flight Sergeant Reuben ECKERSALL, R.A.F.V.R.

This airman's gallantry under fire whilst conveying men and vehicles on and over the beaches of Normandy on "D" day was of a high order. He went forward under fire with an officer and made a reconnaissance with the object of finding a safe area for men and equipment. He gave sound advice to his men and his supervision of the ferrying of valuable equipment was highly praiseworthy.

1550961 Leading Aircraftman John Young McGregor Sayers REID, R.A.F.V.R.

This medical orderly displayed great courage on the beaches of Normandy on "D" day. Whilst the beaches were under intense fire, for many hours he attended to some 100 wounded. This involved moving many times across the whole beach. Without his aid the medical officer would have been unable to achieve the excellent results which he did.
