Air Ministry, 29th May, 1945.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve the following awards in recognition of gallantry and devotion to duty in the execution of air operations:—

Distinguished Service Order.

Acting Wing Commander Christopher Neil FOXLEY-NORRIS (70225), R.A.F.V.R., 143 Sqn.

This officer has a long and distinguished record of operational flying. He has completed numerous sorties on his third tour of duty during which period he has operated against a wide range of enemy targets. For several months this officer has commanded the squadron. During the period numerous attacks have been made against enemy targets. By his brilliant leadership, exceptional skill and determination, Wing Commander Foxley-Norris has contributed in good measure to the successes obtained.

Flight Lieutenant Thomas Roper BURNE, A.F.C. (33457), R.A.F., 41 Sqn.

This officer has displayed outstanding gallantry in air operations and throughout his example of devotion to duty has been unsurpassed. Whilst serving in the Far East theatre of war, Flight Lieutenant Burne was badly wounded. As a result his right leg was amputated below the knee. This in no way diminished his zest for operational flying and, on his recovery, he became a fighter pilot. Since joining his present squadron he has participated in many sorties during which he has most effectively attacked numerous enemy locomotives, much mechanical transport and a number of barges. In February, 1945, Flight Lieutenant Burne took part in an attack on an enemy target. Fierce anti-aircraft fire was encountered. Nevertheless, this pilot pressed home his attack from a low level. The aircraft was hit and Flight Lieutenant Burne was badly wounded in the chest and his right arm was rendered useless. Although in much physical distress he flew the aircraft back to base where he gallantly allowed another pilot in trouble with a damaged aircraft to effect a landing first before coming down himself. This officer has set an example in keeping with the best traditions of the Royal Air Force.

Flying Officer Stephen Joseph SYKES, D.F.C. (Aus.422751), R.A.A.F., 455 (R.A.A.F.) Sqn.

This officer has completed a large number of sorties including many attacks on enemy shipping during which he has shown the highest standard of skill and resolution. His example of courage was amply demonstrated on one occasion in April, 1945, when he led the squadron in an attack on a target at anchor in the South Fjord. Whilst pressing home his attack, Flying Officer Sykes was severely wounded, being affected in the arm and leg. Despite this, he completed his attacking run. Afterwards, Flying Officer Sykes was given first aid. Although suffering acutely he flew his aircraft to base and executed a perfect landing. This officer set a magnificent example of courage, fortitude and devotion to duty.

Distinguished Flying Cross.

Squadron Leader Ernest Franklyn PUBLICOVER, (Can/C.89502), R.C.A.F., 547 Sqn.

This officer, who has completed a very large number of sorties, has displayed skill and determination of a high standard. His keenness to engage the enemy has always been apparent and he has taken part in numerous successful attacks on enemy shipping. One night in March, 1945, Squadron Leader Publicover executed a most determined attack on an enemy U-boat. The photograph which he obtained was a good proof of the effectiveness of the attack. His devotion to duty has been unflinching.

Flight Lieutenant Edgar Martyn ALLIES (77375), R.A.F.V.R., 547 Sqn.

Flight Lieutenant Allies is an outstanding captain and a highly skilled pilot. He has consistently displayed courage and determination and his example has been worthy of great praise. number of sorties and throughout has displayed the greatest keenness to engage the enemy. One night in March, 1945, he captained an aircraft engaged on an anti-submarine patrol. During the sortie, he pressed home an attack on a U-boat, obtaining a perfect straddle with a number of depth charges. In his well executed attack, Flight Lieutenant Brown displayed commendable courage and determination.

Flight Lieutenant Cecil Arthur Fox (151392), R.A.F.V.R., 143 Sqn.

As navigator, Flight Lieutenant Fox has taken part in very many sorties, some of them being attacks on enemy shipping. During these operations a number of enemy vessels have been attacked. During his tour of operational duty, this officer has taken part in a number of attacks on enemy shipping. In these operations he has shown unflinching devotion to duty, coupled with high qualities of skill and bravery. On one occasion in March, 1945, Flying Officer Blampied took part in an attack on shipping in Egersund harbour. Whilst pressing home his attack, Flying Officer Blampied's aircraft was hit. The starboard engine caught fire. Although he feathered the propeller and put the engine out of action, the fire persisted. Despite this, Flying Officer Blampied set course for home. Some minutes later the fire died away and this resolute pilot went on to complete the return flight safely. His skill and determination on this occasion were in keeping with that which he has shown throughout his tour.

Highly skilled, cool and resolute, Flying Officer Flynn has rendered much valuable service.

Flying Officer Horace William PEARSON (Aus.425547), R.A.A.F., 455 (R.A.A.F.) Sqn.

As navigator, this officer has taken part in a good number of sorties, including several attacks on enemy shipping. On the first of these, Flying Officer Pearson's aircraft was badly damaged by enemy fire and had to be brought down on to the sea. After being adrift in the dinghy for eleven hours, Flying Officer Pearson was rescued. He soon resumed operational flying. In April, 1945, he took part in an attack against several enemy minesweepers. During the operation the aircraft was hit and the pilot was badly injured. With great promptitude, Flying Officer Pearson rendered most efficient first aid and afterwards greatly assisted his injured pilot in his efforts to fly the aircraft home.
