Cadix, May 23. N. S.

THE Count d'Estrees, who is lately made Lieutenant-General of the Spanish Navy, came this morning to an Anchor before this Place with 10 French Men of War from Toulon, 3 of which are Three-deck'd Ships. The Marquis of Leganes, Captain-General of the Coasts of Andalusia, arrived here this day from Madrid; He is to obey the Orders of the Count d'Estrees, which he is dissatisfied at, and may occasion his making a short stay here. Two Spanish Gallies are ordered to sail from hence with Supplies of Men and Provisions for the Garrison of Ceuta. Directions are given to fit out the Galeons, and 'tis said, they are to sail for the West-Indies in the beginning of August.

Rome, June 4. The Ambassador of Venice had this week a long Audience of the Pope, concerning the Affairs of Italy. The Spanish Ambassador has desired of the Pope, that Father Diaz, who was Confessor to the late King of Spain, and after his Death retired hither, might be delivered to him in order to be sent to Spain, being charged with having used Expressions reflecting upon that King's Will; but the Pope has chosen rather to confine him in the Castle of St. Angelo, to prevent his being privately carried away. The Duke of Parma offers the Pope 2000 Men to garrison Torona.

Genoa, June 4. The two Squadrons of Spanish Gallies, which lately arrived on this Coast from Naples under the command of Count Lemus and the Duke of Tursis, have received Orders to return thither, and to carry back the Soldiers they had brought with them, the People in that Kingdom being generally dissatisfied, and some Disturbances having already happened in the Country of Abruzzo. The Galley-Staves of Count Lemus's Squadron had agreed together (upon a certain Signal) to throw their Officers and the Soldiers over board, and to go away with the Gallies; but this Plot was timely discovered, and the chief Conspirators are secured.

Milan, June 4. The Horse in the Service of this State are marched to the Country of Brescia, where a Body of French and Spanish Forces are encamped, under the command of General Cordova; to secure the Passes on that side. Three Regiments of the Duke of Saxony's Forces are arrived in this Country, and the rest are shortly expected.

Venice, June 8. The Venetian Forces, commanded by Proveditore-General Molino, are all quartered within the Walls of this Place; And the General has ordered, That there be two Markets kept in the Town, one on each side the Adige, and that the Germans and French who come thither to buy Provisions, be not suffered to pass the Bridge; and has forbid the Inhabitants of this Place, on pain of Death, to go to either Army without his Passport. The German Army are encamped at St. Antonio, about a League from hence; and the Body of Horse and Dragoons, commanded by Count Palfi, are posted in the Plains of Cologna. They are getting together all the Boats they can, in order to make a Bridge over the Adige below Legnano, and to hinder it, the French have posted several Detachements along the Adige; and their main Body is encamped not far from this Place. The French Troops are very much weakened by Desertion.

Florence, June 10. The German Forces are come into the Plains of the Veroneze, except four Regiments which are left in the Mountains about Roveredo, to observe the French that are posted at Rivole. The People of Italy shew every day more and more their Inclination to the Emperor. The French Forces are weaker by several thousand Men than they were at their coming into Italy, chiefly by Desertion.

Vienna, June 11. The Prince of Hesse-Darmstadt arrived here this week from Catalonia. The Commissioners appointed by the Emperor for the Tryal of the Persons accused of the late Conspiracy, will be going in a day or two to Newstad to execute their Commission. The Imperial Forces on the Rhine are ordered to draw together, and to form a Camp, with the Troops of the Circles of Swabia and Franconia. The Emperor has declared the Duke of Mantua to have forfeited that Principality, which is a Fief of the Empire, for having delivered up the same to the French.

Cologne, June 21. The Magistrates of this City have appointed Colonel Henneman to command the Garrison, which will be reinforced in a day or two by a Battalion of about 600 Men of the Forces of the Bishop of Munster, who are already arrived in our Neighbourhood.

Hague, June 24. The Count d'Avaux has, since his last Conference with Mr. Stanhope and the Deputies of this State, sent an Express to the French Court. The Forces of this State are ordered to be in a readiness to encamp. The Prince of Nassau Saerbruck is gone to view the Fortifications of Bergenopzoom, and other Frontier Places.
