CHAPTER I.—PRELIMINARY.

Commencement of bye-laws.

1. These bye-laws appended to the Supplemental Royal Charter (hereinafter referred to as "the Supplemental Charter") and constituted by the Supplemental Charter the bye-laws of the Institute shall take effect on the date when the Supplemental Charter shall have been granted and any bye-laws made thereunder subsequent to the said date shall take effect from the date when the same shall have been allowed by the Lords of His Majesty's

Most Honourable Privy Council. In these bye-laws "the Royal Charters" mean the Royal Charter of the eleventh day of May 1880 and the Supplemental Charter.

Meaning of words used in bye-laws.

2. Words in these bye-laws have the same meaning as in the Royal Charters; and references herein to members, fellows, associates and meetings shall, unless the contrary intention appear, be construed as having reference to members, fellows, associates and meetings respectively of the Institute.

Articled clerk means a clerk serving under articles with a member of the Institute in practice.

Metropolis means the London Postal Area as may be designated from time to time by His Majesty's Postmaster-General.

Principal means a member of the Institute in practice in England or Wales with whom an articled clerk is serving under articles.

Forms.

3. The forms set forth in the schedule to these bye-laws and such other forms as the Council may from time to time authorise shall be used in the cases to which they are applicable with such alterations or additions thereto as the Council may from time to time determine; and all notes and directions therein shall be deemed to be part of the forms and be observed accordingly.

Notices to members.

4. All notices required by the Royal Charters and these bye-laws to be given or sent to members shall be sent by post in the case of a member in practice to his principal place of business and in the case of a member not in practice to the address last notified by him to the Secretary as his address for communications and in proving that such notice has been given or sent it shall be sufficient to prove that such notice was properly addressed and posted.

CHAPTER II.—THE COUNCIL.

5. The number of the members of the Council shall be forty-five of whom nine shall retire at each annual meeting of the Institute but shall be eligible for re-election. Subject to the provisions of bye-law 13 the retiring members at each annual meeting shall be those who have been longest in office since their date of election or last re-election.

Retiring members of the Council deemed to be nominated.

6. Every retiring member of the Council shall, unless he shall have signified to the Council in writing not later than five weeks before the annual meeting his desire not to offer himself for re-election, be deemed to be nominated for re-election.

Nomination of candidates for Council.

7. Nomination of candidates for election to the Council other than those deemed to be nominated under bye-law 6 shall be made by notice in writing signed by ten members and received by the Secretary not later than five weeks before the date of the annual meeting. Such notice shall be accompanied by an intimation in writing from each candidate of his willingness to serve if elected. If after such notice shall be given as aforesaid the annual meeting be called for a date (other than the first Wednesday in May) less than five weeks from the date of the receipt by the Secretary of such notice the said notice shall be deemed to have been received by the Secretary more than five weeks before such meeting.

If more candidates are nominated, including those deemed to be nominated, than there are vacancies to be filled the members of the Institute shall at the annual meeting fill the vacancies by election from the said candidates. If no more candidates are nominated, including those deemed to be nominated, than there are vacancies to be filled those nominated, or deemed to be nominated, shall at the annual meeting be declared elected to the Council. If sufficient candidates are not elected at an annual meeting the resulting vacancies may be filled by the Council at a meeting of the Council summoned with notice of the object.

Election of members of Council at annual meetings, and postal ballots.

9. Any election of members of the Council at an annual meeting shall be either by a show of hands or by ballot of those present whichever may appear to the chairman of the meeting to be the more convenient. Each member present at the meeting shall have as many votes as there are vacancies to be filled but shall not give more than one vote to any one candidate. Those candidates, to the number of the vacancies to be filled, who receive the most votes shall be elected but in the event of an equality of votes between two or more candidates the chairman shall have a casting vote or votes. The declaration of the chairman as to the result of the election shall be final save that upon such declaration being made a postal ballot may be demanded in writing at the meeting by not less than twenty-five members.

If a postal ballot be so demanded ballot papers setting out the names of all candidates nominated, or deemed to be nominated, shall be sent to all members entitled to vote together with all necessary notes and directions within fourteen days of the meeting. As far as is practicable the provisions of bye-laws 98 to 101 relating to the taking of a poll shall apply to a postal ballot.

Until the result of a postal ballot shall have been reported by the scrutineers appointed to act in respect of such ballot (or, where necessary, the chairman shall have declared the result of the postal ballot) the retiring members of the Council shall continue to be members of the Council and may act accordingly.

31. All admissions of associates and elections of fellows shall be by the Council. Every applicant for admission as associate or for election to fellowship shall satisfy the Council of his having fulfilled the conditions specified by the Royal Charters and these bye-laws in such manner as the Council shall require and shall produce such evidence of his fitness to be so admitted or elected as the Council shall deem necessary. The Council may in its absolute discretion, by resolution passed at a meeting of the Council (at which meeting there shall be present and voting not less than twelve members of the Council and for which resolution not less than three-fourths of the members present and voting shall vote), refuse to admit or to elect any person whom it shall consider not to be a fit and proper person to be so admitted or elected.

It shall be the duty of each member to inform the Secretary of any change of address, place or places of business or employment, or if he begins or ceases to practise. 37. The Council may, by resolution passed at a meeting specially convened with notice of the object (and for which resolution not less than two-thirds of the members present and voting shall vote), elect as a fellow any person who would have been eligible for such election but for the fact that the period of practice required by clause 6 of the Supplemental Charter has, on account of ill-health or for other causes satisfactory to the Council, not been continuous.

Resignation of membership and re-admission.

38. Any member may tender his resignation of membership by sending notice in writing to the Council and on its acceptance by the Council, but not until then, he shall cease to be a member: Provided that any member whose notice of resignation shall not have been received prior to the 1st February in any year shall remain liable for any fee or subscription in respect of that year save that in any case in which it may seem reasonable so to do the Council may remit the whole or any part of such fee or subscription. (c) Where a person is admitted to membership after the last day of June in any year he shall pay one-half only of the subscription otherwise applicable to him for that year.

(e) Where a fellow gives notice to the Council of his desire to cease to be a fellow and become an associate and such notice is received by the Council not later than the 31st January in any year he shall pay for that year the subscription applicable to an associate; but if the said notice is received after the 31st January in any year the member shall pay for that year the subscription applicable to a fellow.

Reduction of annual subscription in certain cases.

43. Notwithstanding anything contained in the last preceding bye-law the Council may at its discretion on the application of any member reduce to £1 ls. the subscription payable for any year by such member provided that

(a) the said member is not less than 60 years of age and has been a member for not less than 30 years; and

(b) the said member has retired from practice and other business activities.

In special cases the Council may at its discretion so reduce the annual subscription notwithstanding that the member has not complied with these provisions.

Annual subscriptions, when payable.

44. All annual subscriptions payable under these bye-laws shall be due and payable on the first day of January in each year or, in the case of members admitted after that date, on the date of admission; and all additional subscriptions provided for in bye-law 42 shall be due and payable on the date of election to fellowship or of commencing to practise or of change in residence or principal place of business as the case may be: Save that no subscriptions under these bye-laws shall become due and payable before the first day of January next succeeding the date when these bye-laws come into operation.

Whole-time national service, power to remit or refund annual subscriptions.

45. Notwithstanding anything contained in these bye-laws relating to the payment of annual subscriptions the Council may in its absolute discretion remit or refund the annual subscription of any member for any year in which the member, during war or any period of national emergency, shall serve for four months or more in His Majesty's Forces or who shall be engaged for four months or more in other whole-time national service. For the purposes of this bye-law the Council shall decide what constitutes a state of war or national emergency or whole-time national service and the decision of the Council shall be conclusive.

46. Every member in practice shall make application to the Council for a certificate of practice.

Restrictions as to the use by firms of description and distinctive letters.

47. A member of the Institute practising under the title of a firm in partnership with any person not a member of the Institute or of any institute or society of chartered accountants in the British Commonwealth of Nations approved by the Council shall not use after the title of that firm the initials F.C.A. or A.C.A. or describe the firm in any way whatever as chartered accountants.

CHAPTER V.—ARTICLED CLERKS.

No person under sixteen to be articulated.

48. No person who is under sixteen years of age shall be articulated to a member of the Institute.

Evidence required of having passed or obtained exemption from the Preliminary examination.

49. Before a member of the Institute shall receive a person to serve with him under articles he shall require of such person a certificate issued in accordance with these bye-laws or other documentary evidence signed by the Secretary to the effect that such person has passed the Preliminary examination of the Institute or has been exempted therefrom.

Articles to be registered.

50. The articles of every articulated clerk shall within one month after execution thereof (or within such longer period as the Council in its discretion may allow in any particular case) be lodged with the Institute to be registered, together with an unstamped copy of the articles for retention by the Institute and with such evidence as to age as may be required. The Institute may, in any case in which it seems to the Council in its absolute discretion desirable so to do, refuse to register articles lodged for registration.

Council may prescribe provisions to be included in articles.

51. The Council may from time to time prescribe provisions which shall be included in articles and all articles executed after the date of such prescription shall include the said provisions and no articles not containing the said provisions shall be registered by the Institute: Provided that the Council may in its discretion and on the application of the parties or proposed parties to the articles waive the inclusion of some or all of the said provisions and register the articles notwithstanding that some or all the said provisions are not included therein.

Transfer of articles.

52. Articles may, by agreement between the parties thereto, be transferred to another member competent to take an articulated clerk. The transfer shall be lodged with the Institute for registration within one month of its execution or within such longer period as the Council in its discretion may allow in any particular case.

Ineligibility for examinations unless articles are registered.

53. An articulated clerk shall not be admitted to the Intermediate or Final examination unless there has been due compliance with the provisions of these bye-laws respecting registration.

Principal must be in practice.

54. A member shall be competent to take or retain an articulated clerk only if he is in practice and such practice is his main occupation (upon which the decision of the Council shall be conclusive). No member who is or becomes a clerk to a public accountant (whether a member or not) and no person while he is suspended from membership may take or retain an articulated clerk.

Fresh articles or transfer to another principal on death, &c., of member.

55. If the principal shall cease to practise or resign from membership the articles may be transferred to any other member competent to take an articulated clerk. In the like events or if the principal shall die or be excluded or suspended from membership the articulated clerk may enter into fresh articles for the remainder of his term of service: Provided that where fresh articles are entered into the Council may in its discretion allow service with two or more members to be deemed to be continuous service on such terms and conditions as it may think fit.

Number of articulated clerks permitted each member.

56. No member shall have in his service at the same time more than two articulated clerks: Provided that an articulated clerk shall not for the purposes of this bye-law be deemed to be in the service of a member in any case where—

(a) articles have been transferred to, or fresh articles have been entered into with, the member under the provisions of the last preceding bye-law or

(b) an articulated clerk, three years of whose term of service shall have expired, shall have graduated at a university in the United Kingdom after taking one of the degree courses approved by the Council for the purposes of bye-law 62.

Articled clerks may not practise or have other business.

57. No articulated clerk shall during his term of service practise as a public accountant or engage in any other business or occupation except in so far as he may be permitted so to do by his principal and by the express permission granted by the Council, whose discretion shall be absolute. Permission of the Council to practise as a public accountant may be given only where the main occupation of the articulated clerk applying for such permission was that of public accountant immediately prior to the commencement of his term of service.

Service under articles.

58. An articulated clerk shall throughout his term of service serve in his principal's office (or wherever in England or Wales he may be directed by his principal) on his principal's business of public accountant: Provided that an articulated clerk may with the consent of his principal—

(a) Have leave of absence from his principal's office or business for periods not exceeding twelve months in all for the purpose of studying for the examinations of the Institute;

(b) Serve for periods not exceeding six months in all on his principal's business of public accountant elsewhere than in England or Wales save that nothing herein contained shall entitle an articulated clerk to commence his service elsewhere than in England or Wales;

(c) Spend periods not amounting to more than six months in all in such industrial, commercial or other suitable organisation as the Council may approve and subject to such conditions and control as the Council may impose or exercise:

Provided further that the total period allowed under (a), (b) and (c) hereof shall not exceed one-third of the term of service.

Articles to be subject to Royal Charters and bye-laws.

59. All articles executed after the date when these bye-laws come into force shall be subject to the Royal Charters and bye-laws which may from time to time be in force and the articles shall contain express provision to that effect.

Registration of articles cancelled if articulated clerk declared not fit to become a member.

60. In any case in which in manner provided in these bye-laws an articulated clerk shall have been declared not fit to become a member of the Institute, the articles under which he has been serving shall for the purposes of the Royal Charters and these bye-laws be deemed to be at an end and the registration thereof shall be cancelled. Thereafter no member shall retain or take him as an articulated clerk without the express permission of the Council which shall be given only for special reasons and upon such terms as the Council shall in its discretion think fit.

Reduction in period of service in special cases.

61. The Council may, by resolution at a meeting specially convened with notice of the object (at which meeting there shall be present not less than twenty-four members of the Council and for which resolution not less than three-fourths of those present and voting shall vote), in the case of a person who has passed or has been exempted from the Preliminary examination under the provisions of these bye-laws and who has at the date of such meeting been for ten years continuously in employment as a clerk to a member in practice or has had experience which in the opinion of the Council (whose decision shall be final) is equivalent to such employment, reduce the period for which such person must serve under articles to not less than three years or, where such person is a graduate of a university of the United Kingdom, to not less than two years.

Approved universities degree courses.

62. The Council may, by a resolution passed at a meeting specially convened with notice of the object (and for which resolution not less than two-thirds of those present and voting shall vote) approve for the purposes of this bye-law the degree courses at universities and university colleges in England and Wales mentioned in such resolution and may from time to time as it shall consider desirable by resolution passed in like manner add to or vary the degree courses so approved.

An articulated clerk may, with the consent of his principal, during his period of service attend a university or university college for the purpose of taking one of the degree courses so approved. If the articulated clerk shall graduate after taking such degree course the Council in its discretion may permit the whole or such part as it considers desirable of the period during which the articulated clerk so attended at such university or university college to be deemed to be service under articles: Provided that no such articulated clerk may present himself for the Final examination until he has completed at least three years' service in the principal's office or business of public accountant and for this purpose periods not exceeding one year in all spent in manner set out in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of bye-law 58 shall be deemed to be service in the office or business of his principal save that the total period of leave of absence under the said paragraph (a) shall not exceed six months.

Whole-time national service, exemptions and concessions.

63. The Council may, by resolution passed at a meeting specially convened with notice of the object (at which meeting there shall be present not less than twenty-four members of the Council and for which resolution not less than three-fourths of those present and voting shall vote), provide that in the cases and circumstances and subject to the conditions set out in such resolution the Council may, in the case of any person who purposes to become a candidate for admission and who during war or any other period of national emergency has served or is serving in His Majesty's Forces or has been or is engaged in any other whole-time national service, make such of the following exemptions from and modifications of the provisions of the Royal Charters and these bye-laws as may seem reasonable in the circumstances of his case (that is to say):

(a) That the candidate shall be exempt from the Preliminary examination upon payment of such fee, if any, as the Council may determine.

(b) That any period of service by the candidate in His Majesty's Forces or of engagement in any other whole-time national service after the date of his articles, or any specified portion of such period, shall be deemed equivalent to service under articles.

(c) That, in the case of a candidate whose articles are dated before the expiration of one year after the termination of his service in His Majesty's Forces or other whole-time national service (or within such later period as the Council in its absolute discretion having regard to any special circumstances may think fit), the candidate's period of service under articles shall be reduced to such a period as the Council may decide: Provided that such reduced period of service shall not be less than three years.

(d) That the candidate shall be exempt from the Intermediate examination.

(e) That the candidate may sit for any examination at any time specified by the Council although not otherwise qualified to sit at that time.

(f) That the certificates of service required by bye-laws 84 and 89 or either of them be modified as the circumstances of the case require.

Any of the aforesaid exemptions or modifications in favour of a candidate shall be made without prejudice to the power of the Council to make in his favour such other of the said exemptions or modifications as may be permitted by such resolution.

For the purposes of this bye-law the Council may decide what constitutes a state of war or national emergency or whole-time national service and in the case of each candidate whether he is a person to whom the said resolution shall apply and whether he has complied with the provisions of the said resolution and the decision of the Council shall be conclusive.

Special meeting.

91. The Council may whenever it thinks fit convene a special meeting of the Institute and shall do so within twenty-one days from the receipt by the Secretary of a requisition in writing signed by not less than one hundred members and stating the object of the proposed meeting.

Notice of motion to be given.

92. A member wishing to bring before the annual meeting any motion not relating to the ordinary annual business of the Institute may do so provided:

94. At all meetings of the Institute the President of the Institute or in his absence the Vice-President of the Institute shall be chairman. In the absence of both the chairman shall be elected from among the members of the Council present or in the absence of all of them then from among the members present.

98. On a poll being so demanded the chairman shall forthwith, or as soon as is reasonably practicable after the conclusion of the meeting at which the poll is demanded, state the resolution or amendment in the form of propositions which in his opinion will be most suitable to ascertain the sense of the members upon the substance of such resolution or amendment and upon the manner of so stating the resolution or amendment the chairman's decision shall be final. Voting papers setting out the propositions so stated, together with any necessary notes and directions, shall within fourteen days after the meeting be issued by the Council to all members entitled to vote at the meeting at which the poll was demanded. Meeting of scrutineers and result of poll.

100. Where a poll has been demanded, the scrutineers shall meet not less than twenty-two days or more than twenty-nine days after the meeting at which the poll was demanded and shall examine the voting papers. Envelopes containing the voting papers may be opened either before or at such meeting of the scrutineers but may only be opened in the presence of at least one of the scrutineers. The scrutineers shall reject the vote of any member who, at the date of such meeting, was in arrear with any subscription or other sum payable by him under these bye-laws and may in their discretion reject any vote in which a member has failed to observe the notes and directions relating thereto or any other vote which in their view ought properly to be rejected. The scrutineers shall as soon as practicable report the result of the voting to the chairman of the meeting and shall include in such report a statement of the number of votes rejected by them and the reasons for such rejection. The chairman shall send a copy of such report to each member as soon as practicable and, where there is an equality of voting, the chairman shall have a casting vote and in such a case shall declare when so sending the report to members the manner in which his casting vote is given and the result of the voting. The report of the scrutineers as to the result of the voting (or where given such declaration of the chairman) shall be conclusive. The voting shall take effect from the date of the report of the scrutineers save that where a meeting was adjourned to receive the report of the scrutineers the voting shall take effect from the date when such report was presented to such adjourned meeting. Where for any reason a chairman is unable to exercise any powers granted to him under this bye-law the power shall be exercised by any member of the Council who was present at the meeting and who is deputed by the Council to exercise such powers.

101. The demand for a poll at a meeting shall not prevent the transaction of any business other than that on which the poll has been demanded.

Minutes of meeting.

102. Proper minutes shall be recorded of all resolutions and proceedings of meetings of the Institute and every minute signed by the chairman of the meeting to which it relates or by the chairman of a subsequent meeting shall be sufficient evidence of the facts therein stated.

103. There shall be appointed in each year by the Council from among its members an Investigation Committee consisting of not more than nine members (of whom three shall be a quorum) and a Disciplinary Committee consisting of not more than nine members of whom five appointed by such Committee shall hear and consider any matter brought before it in accordance with these bye-laws and shall exercise the functions and powers granted to such committee by these bye-laws. No member of the Council shall at the same time serve on both the Investigation and the Disciplinary Committees.

Matters to be laid before Investigation Committee.

104. It shall be the duty of the Secretary and the lay of any member or of any aggrieved person to lay before the Investigation Committee any facts indicating:

(a) that a member has become liable to exclusion, suspension, reprimand or admonishment under any provision of the Royal Charters, or

(b) that an articulated clerk has been guilty of felony or misdemeanour or has been declared by a competent court to have been guilty of fraud or has been guilty of an act or default of such a nature as to render him unfit to become a member of the Institute.

Where any complaint has been received by the Institute, the Council or the Secretary, that any member has become liable as aforesaid or that any articulated clerk has been guilty as aforesaid the complaint shall forthwith be laid before the Investigation Committee.

Duties of Investigation Committee.

105. It shall be the duty of the Investigation Committee to consider the facts or complaint laid before it under the provisions of the last preceding bye-law and where it is of opinion that the facts or the complaint require further investigation it shall prefer a formal complaint to the Disciplinary Committee.

The Investigation Committee may at the request of any member or articulated clerk advise such member or articulated clerk in regard to any matter of professional conduct.

Duties of Disciplinary Committee.

106. The Disciplinary Committee, on receipt of a formal complaint in pursuance of the last preceding bye-law, shall forthwith give to the member or articulated clerk notice of its intention to consider the complaint. Powers of Disciplinary Committee.

107. If the Disciplinary Committee is of opinion that a formal complaint has been proved it shall make a finding to that effect and thereupon it shall have full power to order that the member concerned be excluded from membership or suspended for a period not exceeding two years from membership or to declare that the article clerk is not fit to become a member of the Institute: Provided always that if in the opinion of the Disciplinary Committee the complaint shall have been proved but the member or article clerk shall not have been guilty of conduct sufficiently serious to be visited in the case of a member by exclusion or suspension or in the case of an article clerk by such a declaration, it shall have full power to reprimand or admonish the said member or article clerk. Notice of the finding and decision of the Disciplinary Committee shall forthwith be given to the member or article clerk concerned and the decision shall thereupon take effect.

Right of appeal and Appeal Committee.

108. A member who has been ordered by the Disciplinary Committee to be excluded or suspended from membership or an article clerk who has been declared by the Disciplinary Committee to be not fit to become a member of the Institute or a member or article clerk who has been ordered to be reprimanded or admonished, may within twenty-one days of the date of the notice to him of the decision of the Disciplinary Committee appeal to the Council. The notice of such appeal shall state the grounds of such appeal and the grounds so stated shall not be amended after the date of the delivery of such notice save by the leave of the Appeal Committee set up under this bye-law.

The Council shall as soon as practicable after the receipt of such notice of appeal set up an Appeal Committee to determine the appeal. The Appeal Committee shall consist of the President, Vice-President and three other members of the Council: Provided that no member of the Investigation Committee or Disciplinary Committee who investigated the matters or heard or considered the complaint in respect of which the appeal is brought shall be eligible for appointment to such Appeal Committee. If at the time of the appointment of such Appeal Committee the Council considers it impracticable to appoint the President or Vice-President the Council may appoint another member or other members in his or their place. If any member of the Appeal Committee so appointed is unable to act because of ill-health, absence from the country or other reason or if he shall before the date fixed for the determination of the appeal have ceased to be a member of the Council, the remaining members of the Appeal Committee shall have full power to co-opt any member of the Council eligible for appointment.

Powers and duties of Appeal Committee.

109. The Appeal Committee may determine the appeal after consideration of the record of the evidence given before and documents produced to the Disciplinary Committee, but shall have full discretionary power to rehear any witness called before the Disciplinary Committee or on special grounds to receive fresh evidence.

The Appeal Committee shall give the member or article clerk concerned an opportunity of being heard before it and shall, if the member or article clerk shall so desire, permit him to be represented before it by counsel or a solicitor or a member of the Institute. The Investigation Committee may request a member of the Institute (who may be a member of the Investigation Committee) to support the decision of the Disciplinary Committee or may instruct solicitors to support or to brief counsel to support such decision.

The Appeal Committee shall have full power to affirm vary or reverse the finding and decision of the Disciplinary Committee. Notice of the finding and decision of the Appeal Committee shall forthwith be given to the member or article clerk concerned and the decision shall thereupon take effect.

days after the date of the notice to the member or article clerk concerned of the decision of the Disciplinary Committee and where the member or article clerk concerned has within twenty-one days appealed to the Council such publication shall not be made, but if in such a case the Appeal Committee affirms the finding of the Disciplinary Committee that the complaint has been proved, the Council shall cause to be published in such newspapers and journals as it shall think desirable the finding and decision of the Appeal Committee as soon as practicable after such finding and decision are pronounced.

The publication shall in all such cases include the name of the member or article clerk concerned unless in a particular case the Disciplinary Committee or the Appeal Committee, as the case may be, considers that there exist special circumstances which justify the omission of the name from such publication.

Where the Disciplinary Committee finds that a formal complaint has not been proved or where on appeal the Appeal Committee so finds, the Council may make such publication (if any) as in the circumstances of the case it considers desirable.

Return of certificates in event of exclusion or suspension.

112. In the event of the suspension or exclusion of a member every certificate of membership, fellowship or practice then held by him shall be delivered up by him to the Secretary, in the case of suspension to be retained during the period of suspension or, in the case of exclusion, to be cancelled.

CHAPTER IX.—AUDIT.

Appointment of auditors.

114. The members at each annual meeting shall appoint two auditors who shall be members in practice, at such remuneration if any as the meeting shall determine. No member of the Council shall be eligible for appointment as auditor. In the event of any vacancy occurring in the office of auditor between two annual meetings or in the event of a vacancy not being filled at an annual meeting, the said vacancy may be filled by the Council at a meeting summoned with notice of the object: Provided that during such vacancy the continuing auditor may act alone.

Retirement of auditors.

115. The auditors shall retire at the next annual meeting after their appointment, but shall be eligible for re-appointment.

Nomination of auditors.

116. Each auditor shall be nominated by two members of the Institute and such nomination shall be signed by the members nominating and by the candidate and shall be sent to the Secretary to be received by him at least five weeks before the annual meeting. If after such nomination shall have been made as aforesaid the annual meeting be called for a date (other than the first Wednesday in May) less than five weeks after the date of the receipt by the Secretary of such nomination the said nomination shall be deemed to have been received more than five weeks before the date of such meeting. The auditors who are in office shall be deemed to be nominated for re-appointment unless they have intimated in writing their desire not to be so nominated. Notice shall be given to members and specifically to the retiring auditors of the names of all other persons nominated for appointment.

Removal of auditors.

117. The Institute may, by a resolution passed at a meeting specially convened with notice of the object (and for which resolution not less than three-fourths of those present and voting shall vote), remove any auditor from his office before the expiration of his period of office and may, by a resolution passed by a majority of the votes of members present and voting at that meeting, appoint in his stead another member in practice: Provided that if a poll be demanded as to the resolution for removal, a majority of not less
