

fall of the Cobbers which were in our Roads are sailed to the Southward, and many of the Ships which were disabled are come into our Haven to rest. There are now in the Roads Her Majesty's Ships the Norfolk, Tilbury, Falkland, Drake Castle, Portland, Advice, Triton, Lyn, Nightingale and Margate. A Merchant Ship laden with Corn for Lisbon, which was driven out of the Downes in the late Storm, is come in here, having lost her Anchors and Cables.

Comer, Dec. 1. Yesterday a Vessel laden with Tin, and bound for London, which had been forced out of Falmouth Haven by the late Storm, was lost on the back of this Island; the Men are all preserved, and it is hoped her Cargo will also be saved, or the greatest part of it.

Paris, Dec. 2. Rear-Admiral Dilke came into this Harbour last Tuesday from Spithead, on board Her Majesty's Ship the Keue. Her Majesty's Ship the Menmouth came also into our Harbour. Yesterday morning Her Majesty's Ship the Oxford arrived at Spithead from Virginia.

Deale, Dec. 4. The James and Elizabeth, and the Messenger Brigantine, arrived in the Downes the 30th past from Virginia. The next day came in Her Majesty's Ship the Guernsey, and under her Convoy the Niebofen, the John and Margaret, the Constant Mary, the Panwell and Hester, and the Friendship, Merchant Ships, from Virginia, from whence came in also yesterday the London Merchant, the Littleton, the James and the Fisher, all belonging to the homeward-bound Virginia Fleet. We hear several of the Merchant Ships which were driven out of the Downes in the late Storm are got safe into Ramsgate Peer.

Whitehall, Dec. 5. An Express arrived here yesterday in the Afternoon from Sir Claudesly Shovell, on board Her Majesty's Ship the Triumph, with an Account, That he sailed from the Downes the 24th of the last Month, with the Squadron under his Command; for the River, and Anchored that evening off the Long Sand Head, about 6 Leagues S. W. of the Northumberland. Her Majesty's Ships the Triumph, St. George, Royal-Oak, and Cambridge, rid out the Storm, since which they got in near the Gunsfleet, where the Express left them; But the rest of the Squadron, viz. the Association, Russel, Revenge, and Dorsetshire, were forced from their Anchors, and drove off to Sea. Letters from Captain Yreor Commander of Her Majesty's Ship the Triton, which was sent out from Yarmouth in search of these Ships, dated off Dunwich the 4th Instant, give an Account, That on the 3d, about two in the afternoon, he spoke with the Revenge, Captain Kerr Commander, who informed him, That being drove from their Anchors the 27th past, they came over the North-end of the Galliper, and afterwards saw the Russel and Dorsetshire; the former of which left them the 29th, intending for the Downes, and the Revenge bore up for Helvoetsuis; but it falling little Wind, they halted off, and stood to the Northward, and in the afternoon saw the Association. When these Letters came away the Revenge was off Dunwich, intending for Ossly or Aldrough Bay.

Her Majesty's Ships the St. George and Royal-Oak are since come to the Nore.

Her Majesty's Ship the Resolution, which sailed from Plymouth the 24th past for the Downes, was unfortunately lost in the late great Storm on the Coast of Suffex, but all the Men were saved, with her Guns, and most of her Tackle.

There are Four Mails due from Holland.
