

The London Gazette.

Numb. 4054

Published by Authority.

From Thursday October 19. to Sunday October 23. 1704.

St James's, October 22. The Three following Addresses have been presented to Her Majesty by his Grace the Duke of Ormonde, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

To the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Longford, at the General Quarter Sessions of the Peace held for the said County the Fifth Day of October, 1704.

May it please Your Majesty,

To admit us, Your Majesty's most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, to congratulate the glorious Success of Your Arms; which, under God, is principally owing to Your Majesty's Wisdom in choosing so great a General, by whose Conduct, and the Courage of Your Majesty's Troops, Europe is in great measure freed from the Oppressions of French Tyranny.

And on this happy Occasion we think it our Duty to give Your Majesty the repeated assurances of our unshaken Fidelity; and that we will, in the utmost of our Power, support Your Government in a vigorous Prosecution of the War against all Your Enemies.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Sovereign, Recorder, Bayliffs, Burgesses and Freemen, of the Corporation of Longford, in the Kingdom of Ireland.

May it please Your Majesty,

WE Your Majesty's most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, humbly adoring and magnifying the Divine Providence, (in whose sole Disposal is Empire, Victory and Glory,) for crowning Your Majesty's Reign and Government with so many distinguishing Mercies and Favours; and especially the late glorious Successes and Victories of Your triumphant Arms both by Sea and Land, the kind and gracious Returns of Heaven to Your exemplary Devotions and singular Piety and Charity: Do humbly crave Leave, amongst the Crowns of Your other Loyal Subjects, to congratulate Your Majesty upon these wonderful and glorious Achievements; great, beyond what our bold and daring Imaginations some Men could conceive; and advantageous, surpassing even our most high and promising Hopes and Expectations. The happy Effects and Consequences whereof must needs redouble the Devotions of Your Loyal Subjects; and all that Part of the Christian World which is Confederate with You, into Praises, Thanksgivings, and Congratulations; and leave reason for Supplications and Requests, except (with the blessed) for the Continuance of that Fulfill of Joy and Happiness they are already possessors of; or, which is all one in relation to all the dearest Concerns of Mankind here, Your Majesty's long Life and prosperous Reign; under the blessed Influences whereof we doubt not once more with Joy to behold, and with immortal Fame and Renown to hand down to future Ages and distant Nations, that the British Scepter is to be advanced to its ancient Grandeur and Glory, in holding the Balance and breaking the Chains of Europe, in preserving and protecting the Reformed Churches, and in retrieving the perishing Liberties of the Western World, and bringing to Peace, Repose and Security, only by the Arms and Proverbs of an English QUEEN.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Citizens of Your Majesty's City of Waterford, in the Kingdom of Ireland.

WE Your Majesty's most Loyal and Dutiful Subjects, do heartily congratulate the glorious Success of Your Arms, especially Your late Victories on the Banks of the Danube, and the immortal Honour which Your Majesty, and the English Nation has acquired thereby. We are ravish'd and transported with Joy, when we consider that this most signal Advantage was obtained over a numerous and gallant Army, consisting of choice Troops, and headed by the Elector of Bavaria and two Marshals of France. The Bravery and Conduct of the Duke of Marlborough, on this and several other Occasions, manifests his own consummate Skill in the Art of War beyond the Comparison of the Errours; and at the same time recommends Your Majesty's Judgment, in choosing so great a General, to the universal Applause of the Christian World.

May the only Giver of all Victory reward Your Majesty's tender Concern for Church and State, and prudent Management of both, with further Triumphs on Earth, and with Immortality in the Heavens.

In Testimony whereof we have herewith affixed our Common Seal, the Second Day of October, in the Third Year of Your Majesty's most fortunate Reign over us.

The following Address from the Port of H. Bings was presented to Her Majesty by John Pulteney Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Chamberlain.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Jurats, and Commonalty, of Your Majesty's Town and Port of Hefings, in the County of Suffolk.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

With Joy, great as our Zeal for Your Majesty's Royal Person and Government, we received the News of that signal Victory over the French and Bavarians at P. Einheim, by the Forces of Your Majesty and Your Allies, under the Command of the Duke of Marlborough. We cannot pretend to be so well read in History, as to compare that Action to any in Ages past, but must humbly beg Leave to say, we think it the most glorious in it self, and greatest in its Consequences, that ever happen'd within our Memory, or indeed that we ever heard of. That Day, which gave so fatal a Blow to the Arms of France, and a new Life to the Liberties of Europe, will to all future Ages perpetuate the Glory of Your Majesty, who has thus stopp'd the Ambition of France in its full Career to Universal Monarchy. Nor could less be expected from a Queen so truly good and great, while Her Battles are fought by such well chosen Troops, under the Conduct of so able a General.

Nor is Your Majesty only successful in One Element: To our farther Duty to repeat our Congratulations for the Victories obtained by Your Majesty's Fleet in the Mediterranean.

With our Congratulation upon this glorious Campaign, and those other great Successes that have attended the Royal Administration since Your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne, be pleased graciously to accept of a hearty and unanimous Assurance, that we shall ever retain a just Sense of the many Blessings we enjoy under Your Majesty's Government, and will, to the utmost of our Power, maintain it against all Parties, (unworthy the Name of English Men) who shall either openly oppose, or by any indirect Means secretly endeavour to weaken and undermine it.

May Your Majesty's Reign be long and prosperous ever us; and, to that end, may You still have the Hearts as well as Hearts of all Your Faithful and Loyal Subjects, that the united Strength of England may be a firm Bulwark to Your Majesty against all Your Enemies. Under such Ties of Duty and Loyalty we presume to approach Your Majesty, as we shall desire to be represented under the like Ties by our Representatives in Parliament.

The following Address from the Borough of Thirsk was presented to Her Majesty by Sir Thomas Frankland Bar. one of their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Rt. Hon. the Lord Chamberlain.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Burgesses, Borough-men and other Inhabitants, of the ancient Borough of Thirsk, in the North Riding of the County of York.

May it please Your Majesty,

To give us Leave to approach You with our most unfeigned and sincere Congratulations for the late signal Victories obtained by Your Majesty's Arms, (under the Auspicious Conduct of his Grace the Duke of Marlborough,) over the French and Bavarians.

And as Your Majesty's Arms by Land have done Wonders, so has Your Fleet by Sea been likewise successful.

These Blessings, which the Lord is pleased to bestow upon You and Your People, cannot but be ascribed to Your Majesty's Zeal for the Protestant Religion, and the Good of Your Subjects.

Whom