CENTRAL CHANCERY OF
THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

St. James's Palace, London S.W.1.
2nd June 1961.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to approve the award of the George Medal to the undermentioned:

Brigadier Norman James DICKSON, D.S.O. (52611),
Late Infantry.

At Malta on the 22nd July 1960, a small girl was seen being carried away by heavy seas with a strong undertow. Brigadier Dickson, realising that the attempts being made to rescue her from the beach were unlikely to succeed, ran round to a headland formed by rocks. In spite of the large waves beating on the rocks he entered the sea, swam to the child and eventually succeeded in bringing her back to shore, where she revived and was restored to her parents. During this gallant rescue Brigadier Dickson sustained a number of cuts, a dislocated finger and a broken toe. In consequence of the severe buffeting he had endured he was in an exhausted condition. Brigadier Dickson now saw that Sergeant Chamberlain of the Royal Air Force, one of the men who had first attempted a rescue, was himself being overcome by the rough water and calling for help. A young air-craftsman endeavoured to help him but, getting into difficulties, was forced to abandon the attempt. By this time Sergeant Chamberlain was being swept out past the headland.

In spite of his injuries and exhaustion Brigadier Dickson dived into the waves from a height of ten feet and reached Sergeant Chamberlain who was now unconscious. After a prolonged struggle, and with the assistance of a young man, who also entered the water, Brigadier Dickson succeeded in getting Sergeant Chamberlain ashore. He then tried to revive him by artificial respiration but without success.

On the arrival of medical assistance Brigadier Dickson, having reached the limit of his physical endurance, himself became unconscious.
