them, judged it, for the Good of the State and of the Common Cause, to keep that Affair secret till the Arrival of the Prince and Duke of Marlborough, who was expected here in few Days, considering that he had received a Letter much to the same Effect from the said Elector: That the said Prince and Duke being arrived here, they the said Deputies had discoursed and concerted with him, and thereupon drawn up in Writing a Form of an Answer that might be given to the said Letter of the Elector of Bavaria, by Messieurs Van Collen and Cuper, who had received it; which Draught being approved by their High Mightinesses, the said Prince and Duke would answer on the same foot on the Part of Her Majesty of Great Britain; which Letter of the Elector of Bavaria, and the said Draught of the Answer, are inserted at the End of this Resolusion, being numbered 1. and 2.

Which Matter being taken into Consideration, their High Mightinesses thank'd the said Deputies for their good Conduct in this Affair; besides which, it was thought good by these Presents to approve the Draught of an Answer subjoin'd, and to require and authorize the said Sieurs Van Collen and Cuper to write and sign it in the same Terms; after which it shall be sent to the Field-Marshal, Monsieur d'Auverquerque, that he may send it forward by a Trumpet to the Elector of Bavaria,

That moreover both the said Letter from the Elector of Bavaria and the said Answer shall be made known and communicated to the Ministers of the High Allies that are Members of the Grand Alliance, to whom it shall be represented, That their High Mightinesses being firmly resolved to observe their Alliances in every Part, and to do nothing that may be contrary thereto, accordingly would not be wanting to lay before them the Propositions that have been made to them, and what they have resolved thereupon: That a Peace would be extremely agreeable to their High Mightinesses, and, without doubt, to all the other High Allies, provided it can be had on such Terms as may reasonably promise its being firm and lasting; but that the Conference proposed, without a more particular Declaration of the Intention of France, and without a probable Certainty or Appearance of good Success, does not seem to their High Mightinesses to be a proper Means for attaining it, but much rather a Means, by such a Conference about a Peace, to divert the Thoughts of War, and of the great Preparations the Enemy make, and to lull some of the Allies asleep by the Hope of Peace: That their High Mightinesses, for their own Parts, are resolved to abide by the Measures they have taken, and the Alliances they have made, which God has hitherto so wonderfully blessed, and to execute and observe sincerely what was stipulated and promised by the Treaties, and therefore not to enter into any Negotiation of Peace, but jointly with their High Allies, and to communicate to them faithfully, conformably to the said Treaties, the Proposals that may be made to them on this Subject, expecting that the said High Allies will do no less on their Part: And Monsieur Tullocken, and the other Deputies of their High Mightinesses for Foreign Affairs, are required and commissioned by these Presents to enter into Conference with the said Ministers on this Subject, and to make their Report to this Assembly.

Signed, J. V. Weideren.

It agrees with the said Register,

A Letter from the Elector of Bavaria to the Field Deputies of the States.

I Doubt not, Gentlemen, but you are inform'd of the Dispositions which the most Christian King has intimated for a Year past, by different Ways, according as Opportunities have offered, to put an End to the War which for several Years has afflicted the greatest Part of Europe. The most Christian King has done this with a sincere Intention to forward the Conclusion of a solid and lasting Peace. In the mean time the Persons who acted herein having done it secretly; because they were not authoriz'd to act otherwise, those who are not inclin'd to Peace have misinterpreted these first Proceedings, and represented them as a Design form'd to separate the States General from their Allies, in order afterwards to make an Advantage of their Disunion. Such a Design is too much contrary to his most Christian Majesty's real Intention, to suffer them to be any longer suspected: Wherefore he has determined to propose, that Conferences may forthwith be open'd, in which those whom he shall empower may, together with those who shall be empowered by the Queen of England and the States General, seek the Means of concluding a lasting Peace. He has caus'd the same Declaration to be made to the Duke of Marlborough by a Person of Trust, to whom I have explain'd his Sentiments, that he may inform his Grace: And 'tis with Pleasure I discharge the Commission he has given me to tell you, Gentlemen, that being perswaded of your good Will to contribute to it great a Good, he would be very glad that the States General should empower you to assist

The Duke of Savoy is going to besiege Casal with the Troops which have been employ'd in the Siege of Pignatone; and Prince Eugene, with the Forces under his Command, intends to attack Valenza.

Vienna, Nov. 10. The Diet of the States of the Lower Austria met here yesterday, as usual, and the Great Chancellor made a Speech, to excite them to grant his Imperial Majesty such Subsidies as are necessary in the present Exigency of his Affairs; after which the Emperor himself made a short Speech to them; and the Marfial of the Diet returned an Answer, full of Expressions of their Zeal and Duty to his Imperial Majesty, and Readiness to assist him to the utmost of their Power. An Extract of the Resolutions of their High Mightinesses the States General of the United Provinces of the Netherlands.

Friday, Nov. 19. 1706.

Messieurs Tullocken and others, Deputies of their High Mightinesses for Foreign Affairs, reported to the Assembly, That Messieurs Van Collen and Cuper, two of their High Mightinesses Field-Deputies, did in a Letter directed to the Register Fagel, dated the 24th of October last, send one from the Elector of Bavaria, dated the 21st of the same Month, written to their High Mightinesses Field-Deputies, and delivered to the said Messieurs Van Collen and Cuper, who only were then with the Army; by which Letter the Elector of Bavaria proposes, in the Name of the most Christian King, the holding of a Conference in some Place between the two Camps, or between Mions and Brussels, to treat of a Peace with this State, and its Allies: That they the said Deputies for Foreign Affairs, having had the Letter communicated to in the Conferences proposed, which he consents may be held in such Place as shall be judged convenient between the two Armies for the time they keep the Field, and afterwards between Brussels and Mons. I desire you to inform the States General of these Dispositions of the most Christian King, to which I hope theirs will be conformable, for the Quiet and Good of Christendom. I expect their Answer by you; and am, Gentlemen, wholly yours, Mons, Oct. 21. 1706. Signed,

M. Emanuel, Elector.

Answer to the Elector of Bavaria's Letter, by the Deputies of their High Mightinesses.

My Lord,
Your Electoral Highness having done us the Honour to acquaint us, by your Letter of the 21st of October last, with the Intentions of his most Christian Majesty to forward the Conclusion of a solid and lasting Peace, by proposing the sending of Deputies on both Sides to some Place between the two Armies, or after their being separated between Mons and Brussels, to enter upon Conferences on so important a Subject, we did not fail to impart it immediately to the States General. Your Electoral Highness having made the same Overture to the Prince and Duke of Marlborough, their High Mightinesses did not think fit we should return you an Answer before the said Prince and Duke had his Answer from England: This is the Reason why we have not done it sooner. At present their High Mightinesses have ordered us to acquaint your Electoral Highness, that they have received with great Pleasure the Assurances you give them of the sincere Desire of his most Christian Majesty to seek Means to attain as soon as may be to a solid and lasting Peace with all the Allies. 'Tis just such a Peace that they wish for and desire: All who know the Inclinations and Interests of their Republick will easily agree to this. Nor would this State ever have entered into the War, could they have maintained the Peace with some Security. Your Electoral Highness knows with how much Care and Sincerity their High Mightinesses have labour'd for that purpose; but as those Efforts proving uselss, they were constrained to take Arms together with their High Allies, for the Defense of their Liberty and the Publick Safety; so they will be very glad to lay them down as soon as possible, when they can do it to the Satisfaction of all their Allies, and on such Conditions as may give reasonable Grounds to hope they shall not be obliged to take them up again after a short Interval of Time, of which the Examples and short Continuance of former Treaties of Peace make them apprehensive. In the mean time their High Mightinesses are ready to enter jointly with their Allies into all just and necessary Ways that may lead to a General Peace: But that of the Conferences proposed without a more particular Declaration of his most Christian Majesty's Intentions, does not appear to them to be proper for the End proposed, nor has it appeared to be so to Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, no such sufficient Overture having yet been made to them as they could think ought to be communicated to their Allies, well knowing they would find no Satisfaction therein. Wherefore more proper Means must be thought of for attaining this great End, in which their High Mightinesses will concur when they shall see a better Prospect of it, the Sincerity of their Desires of Peace being sufficiently known. We have the Honour to acquaint your Electoral Highness with their Sentiments, and to assure you, that we are, with very much Respect,
My Lord,
Your Electoral Highness's most humble and most obedient Servants,
Signed, Ferdinand Van Colleen, Cuper.

Hague, 19
Nov. 1706.

A Letter from the Elector of Bavaria to the Prince and Duke of Marlborough.

THE most Christian King, Sir, finding that some Overtures of Peace, which he had caused to be made in a private manner, instead of producing the Effect of making known his Dispositions towards procuring a general Peace, have been looked upon by ill-designing Persons as an Artifice to dis-unite the Allies, and make an Advantage of the Misunderstanding that might be created among them; has resolved to shew the Sincerity of his Intentions, by renouncing all secret Negotiations, and openly proposing Conferences, in which Means may be found for re-establishing the Tranquillity of Europe.

The most Christian King is pleas'd to charge me to inform you of this, and to desire you to acquaint the Queen of England with it.

I give the like Notification, on the Part of the most Christian King, to the States General, by a Letter that I have written to their Field Deputies; and he would do the like with regard to the other Potentates that are at War with him, had they Ministers near at hand, as you are, to receive the like Intimation, he having no Design to exclude any of the said Potentates from the Negotiation that shall be begun in the Conference he proposes.

Moreover, for advancing a Good so great and necessary to Europe, which has too long suffered the inevitable Calamities of War, he consents that a Place may forthwith be chosen between the two Armies, and after their being separated, between Mons and Brussels in which, you, Sir, with whom the Interests of England are so justly entrusted, the Deputies which the States shall please to nominate, and the Persons whom the King of France shall empower, may begin to treat upon so important an Affair.

I am extremely pleas'd, Sir, to have such an Occasion to write you my Letter, being perswaded it will leave no room to doubt of the Sincerity of his most Christian Majesty, which may be so beneficial to all Europe.

You will be glad to give an Account of it to the Queen of England without Loss of Time, and to whomsoever else you shall think fit: I shall expect your Answer, Sir, to acquaint the most Christian King with it; and shall be always ready, Sir, to do you Service.

Mons, Oct. 21. 1706.

Signed.

M. Emanuel, Elector.

The Answer of the Prince and Duke of Marlborough to the Elector of Bavaria.

SIR,

HAVING communicated to the Queen my Mistress what your Electoral Highness did me the Honour to write to me in your Letter of the 21st of last Month, of the Intentions of the most Christian King to endeavour to re-establish the Tranquillity of Europe by Conferences to be held for that purpose between Deputies on both Sides; Her Majesty has commanded me to answer your Electoral Highness, that as She has received with Pleasure the Notice of the King's Inclination to agree to the making of a solid and lasting Peace with all the Allies, being the sole End that oblig'd Her Majesty to continue this War till now; so She will be very glad to conclude it, in concert with all Her Allies, on such Conditions as may secure them from all Apprehensions of being forc'd to take up Arms again after a short Interval, as has happened. Her Majesty is also willing I should declare, that She is ready to enter jointly with all Her Allies into just and necessary Measures for attaining to such a Peace, Her Majesty being resolv'd not to enter upon any Negotiation without the Participation of Her said Allies: But the Way of Conferences that is propos'd, without more particular Declarations on the Part of his most Christian Majesty, does not seem to Her to be proper for obtaining a truly solid and lasting Peace. The States General are of the same Opinion. Wherefore your Electoral Highness will righty judge, that other more solid Means must be thought on to attain so great an End, to which Her Majesty will contribute with all the Sincerity that can be wish'd, having nothing so much at Heart as the Relief of Her Subjects and the Tranquillity of Europe. Your Electoral Highness will always do me the Justice to be persuaded of the Respect with which I have the Honour to be,
