

Minister, as to justify the continuance of the award; and

(b) at the weekly rate at which the allowance or allowances, other than an allowance under Article 14, for that child was or were payable to the member in respect of the 7 days next preceding the day of his death.

(6) Where the aggregate amount of any payments made to a person under this Article for any period is equal to or exceeds the aggregate amount of any pension, allowance (other than an allowance under this Article or Article 35) or grant which, apart from the provisions of this paragraph, might be awarded to that person for that period under this Part of this Order, no award of such pension, allowance or grant shall be made for that period; but where the aggregate amount of any such payments is less than the aggregate amount of any such pension, allowance or grant, the said pension, allowance or grant may be awarded for that period and the said payments shall be treated as paid on account thereof:

Provided that where a widow, who, but for the provisions of this paragraph, would have been eligible for a pension under Article 26 or 28, remarries, the provisions of paragraph (2) or (3) of Article 39 shall apply in her case as if that pension had been awarded to her.

(7) Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing provisions of this Article, the Minister may, if in his opinion the exceptional circumstances of any particular case so require, at his discretion—

(a) vary the conditions for the award of a personal allowance in so far as they relate to a period in respect of which an allowance under Article 15 or Article 17(2) is required to have been payable;

(b) award a personal allowance or an additional allowance for any week at a weekly rate other than that prescribed in sub-paragraph (b) of paragraph (2) or sub-paragraph (b) of paragraph (5) of this Article, as the case may be, but not exceeding the maximum rate which would have been payable in accordance with that sub-paragraph had the member died at any time not earlier than 13 weeks before the date of his death."

2. This Order shall be construed as one with the Order in Council of the 29th September 1949, as amended by any subsequent Order, and shall come into operation on the 2nd December 1963.

W. G. Agnew.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order, but is intended to indicate its general purport.)

1. This Order amends the Order of the 29th September 1949, as amended by subsequent Orders.

2. Provision is made for the award of a temporary personal allowance and temporary allowances in respect of children to the widow, or unmarried dependant who lived as the wife, of a pensioner to whom constant attendance allowance or unemployability supplement was payable before he died. The allowances are payable for 13 weeks following the pensioner's death at weekly rates related to the amount of disablement pension and allowances which were payable to him before death.

10th December 1963.
