State Intelligence

BY THE QUEEN

A PROCLAMATION

Declaring that the first Monday in August in the year 1965 shall not be a Bank Holiday or a Public Holiday in the Inland Revenue Offices or a Holiday in the Customs and Excise, in England and Wales or in Scotland, and appointing the last Monday in August in that year in its stead.

ELIZABETH R.

Whereas it has been made to appear to Us in Council that in the year 1965 it is inexpedient that the first Monday in August should be a bank holiday or a public holiday in the inland revenue offices or a holiday in the customs and excise, in England and Wales or in Scotland:

Now, therefore, We, in pursuance of section 5 of the Bank Holidays Act 1871, section 3 of the Holidays Extension Act 1875, section 1 of the Revenue Offices (Scotland) Holidays Act 1880, and section 3 (3) of the Customs and Excise Act 1952, do hereby, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council, and in exercise of the powers conferred by the enactments aforesaid, declare that the first Monday in August shall not in the year 1965 be a bank holiday or a public holiday in the inland revenue offices or a holiday in the customs and excise, in England and Wales or in Scotland, and We do hereby, by and with the advice and in exercise of the powers aforesaid, appoint the last Monday in August in the year 1965 to be observed as a bank holiday and a public holiday in the inland revenue offices and a holiday in the customs and excise, in England and Wales and in Scotland, under and in accordance with the said Acts, instead of the first Monday in August, and We do by this Our Royal Proclamation command the said day to be so observed and all Our loving subjects to order themselves accordingly.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham Palace, this twenty-sixth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty-four, and in the thirteenth year of Our Reign.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN

BY THE QUEEN

A PROCLAMATION

ELIZABETH R.

Whereas by Royal Proclamation made on the first day of January in the year one thousand eight hundred and one, His late Majesty King George III, with the advice of His Privy Council, inter alia, charged and commanded all His subjects not to wear in any of their ships or vessels His Majesty's Union

Jack or any pendants or colours usually borne by His Majesty's ships, or any flags, jacks, pendants or colours imitating or resembling those of His Majesty, or any ensign (other than the ensign appointed by the said Proclamation and required thereby to be worn by the masters of all merchant ships and vessels belonging to His Majesty's subjects) without particular warrant for their so doing from His Majesty, or His High Admiral of Great Britain or the Commissioners for executing the Office of High Admiral for the time being;

And whereas it is expedient to modify the said Proclamation in consequence of Our having revoked Our Letters Patent whereby We appointed Commissioners to exercise the Office of High Admiral, and having charged one of Our Principal Secretaries of State (hereafter referred to as "Our Principal Secretary of State for Defence") with general responsibility for the Defence of Our Realm;

Now, therefore, We do hereby declare that the said Proclamation shall have effect as if for any reference therein to Our High Admiral or to the Commissioners for executing the Office of High Admiral for the time being there were substituted a reference to Our Principal Secretary of State for Defence.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham Palace, this twenty-sixth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty-four, and in the thirteenth year of Our Reign.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN

1st April 1964.

The QUEEN this day was graciously pleased to assume the title of Lord High Admiral and to receive in audience the Commissioners for executing that Office when they took their leave of Her Majesty.
