CENTRAL CHANCERY OF THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

St. James's Palace, London S.W.1.
15th January 1965.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to give orders for the following appointment to the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire:

To be an Ordinary Member of the Military Division of the said Most Excellent Order:

(To be dated 1st January 1965)

Captain (local Major) David Guthrie ALEXANDER, Royal Marines.

CENTRAL CHANCERY OF THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

St. James's Palace, London S.W.1
15th January 1965

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to approve the award of the George Medal to the under-mentioned:

23929889 Guardsman Andrew Ian Colley NORTON,
Coldstream Guards.

On the afternoon of the 24th October 1964, Guardsman Norton was the driver of a Land Rover in which Captain Fazil was the only passenger. After passing the Arab Village of Gadir Khaysa the vehicle blew up on a mine. Captain Fazil had his left leg blown off above the knee and suffered other injuries. Guardsman Norton suffered from burns, bruises and shock and temporarily lost the sight of one eye from the blast. At first his legs were pinned inside the vehicle, but he managed to get out, and immediately set about helping Captain Fazil. He first applied a tourniquet with a towel, and then looked for help. Although several Arabs were about, none would help, and to make a better tourniquet he had to remove the belt from one of them. He then left Captain Fazil, having put him in what shade there was, under the vehicle, and found an Arab with a car. He would not lend it to him, but Guardsman Norton jumped into it and drove it off. As soon as he found another military vehicle—a Land Rover—he brought it back to the scene of the explosion, knowing well that there could be more mines about, he and the driver brought this vehicle as close as they could to where Captain Fazil lay. They secured him in the vehicle with sandbags to keep him still, and with his head down and his legs up to reduce the loss of blood. During a desperate drive of about 20 miles Guardsman Norton tended Captain Fazil, and kept the tourniquet in place. Not until he handed Captain Fazil over to the hospital staff would he accept any help for himself. Without any doubt Guardsman Norton saved Captain Fazil's life. He did so partly by his firm dealings with a surly crowd, and by his disregard for his own safety when he drove back into the mined area. But as well as this he showed the greatest possible presence of mind in every action he took to reduce the amount of blood that Captain Fazil was losing. His courage and cool thinking must indeed deserve reward.
