SIR,

Crown Copyright

I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to refer to Treasury Circular No. 1/58 dated 9th January 1958, which contains in paragraphs 3-8 a statement of the policy to be followed in the exercise of Crown Copyright.

2. In view of questions which have been raised about the enforcement of the rights of the Crown in relation to papers falling within paragraph 4 of T.C. 1/58, My Lords have directed that the existing paragraph 5 be deleted and the following revised paragraph substituted for it.

"5. It is in the public interest that the information contained in publications falling in the first three classes should be diffused as widely as possible, and legal rights of the Crown in respect of copyright in them will not normally be enforced. But all Crown rights in respect of them are reserved, and will be asserted in cases considered by the Controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office as exceptional—for example, in the case of reproduction of any part of any publication in these classes in undesirable contexts, or reproduction of the whole or a substantial part of any such publication, either as a separate document or as a major part of another work, in such a way as to result in a significant loss to public funds. Copies of Acts of Parliament, Statutory Rules and Orders and Statutory Instruments, other than those reproduced by or by the order of the Stationery Office, must not purport to be published by Authority. Applicants desiring to make reproductions from the Official Report of Parliamentary Debates (Hansard) should be warned that any person or body publishing unofficial reports of proceedings in Parliament, even though they are verbatim reports of speeches as reported in the Official Report, may not enjoy, in proceedings for defamation, privilege as extensive as that enjoyed by the Official Report. Reproductions from the Official Report in connection with advertising are not permitted."

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

L. Petch.
