REFERENCE TO THE NATIONAL BOARD FOR PRICES AND INCOMES

COSTS PRICES AND PROFITS IN THE BREWING INDUSTRY

Under the arrangements for "early warning" of price increases, the Government have received advance notification from a number of brewers of their intention shortly to increase the wholesale price of certain of their beers.

The brewers concerned have made available to the Government information about the increases in costs, including labour costs, which they have incurred. The Government note that, while, apart from increases following duty changes, the prices of a number of beers which it is now proposed to increase have not been raised for some time, the prices of others were increased in the course of 1965. They consider that before further price increases take place as now proposed it would be in the national interest that the structure of costs and prices in the brewing industry and also the level of profits should first be examined by the National Board for Prices and Incomes.

The Board are requested to put the necessary enquiries in hand with a view to making their report (before the end of March 1966).
