REFERENCE TO THE NATIONAL BOARD FOR PRICES AND INCOMES

Prices to Consumers of Coal, Coke and other solid fuels manufactured from Coal

In its Report No. 12 on Coal Prices (Cmnd. 2919) the National Board for Prices and Incomes drew attention to the relationship between the pithead price of coal and the ultimate price to the consumer. The Board recommended that the Government should consider the desirability of an investigation into distribution costs, particularly as they affect the domestic consumer.

The Government have decided that such an investigation is desirable. They accordingly request the Board to examine, in the light of the considerations set out in Part I of the White Paper on Prices and Incomes Policy (Cmnd. 2639), the prices charged to all classes of consumer for coal, coke, and other solid fuels manufactured from coal, having regard to the costs of distribution.
