MINISTRY OF DEFENCE

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to approve the undermentioned awards in recognition of gallant conduct in Aden:

Military Cross

Major Glyn David Neil WILLIAMS (420960), The Duke of Edinburgh's Royal Regiment (Berkshire and Wiltshire).

Serving with Special Air Service Regiment

On the morning of 2nd February 1966, a troop of D Squadron, Special Air Service Regiment, who were operating in Haushabi Country West of Al Milah, reported a gang of 12 uniformed dissidents moving to the North West.

Since the enemy were not within range of the patrols Major Williams immediately gave orders for his reserve troop to be lifted by Scout helicopters into a cut-off position to the North of the enemy. This was done and a fire fight developed. The gang then scattered and would undoubtedly have escaped had not Major Williams with great initiative and determination repositioned his remaining three troops to encircle them using the flight of Scout helicopters supporting him. Contact was maintained with the enemy until the late afternoon by which time 4 had been killed and a further 4 wounded, including two important leaders, thus accounting for two thirds of the gang.

Throughout this highly successful operation Major Williams unhesitatingly exposed himself to enemy fire and his contribution was at all times outstanding. His personal courage, skill and resourcefulness was an inspiration to his Squadron and an example set in the highest traditions of the service.

Distinguished Flying Cross

Major Donald Christopher CROUCH (407795) Royal Tank Regiment Serving with Army Air Corps.

On the morning of 2nd February 1966, D Squadron, Special Air Service Regiment, who were operating South West of Al Milah reported a party of approximately twelve armed men moving away from their positions to the North. Since it was essential that this party be definitely identified as dissidents before fire could be opened, Major Crouch, whose flight of three aircraft was in direct support of D Squadron, was requested to carry out a reconnaissance of the area. He embarked additional Special Air Service men in the three helicopters, took off, and led them at low height, to the reported location. Upon rounding a bend in the Wadi, they sighted the armed party, who immediately scattered, and opened fire on the aircraft, hitting Major Crouch's machine. The fire was from rifles and a light machine gun. With this positive indication, the three helicopters, taking advantage of dead ground, deployed their Special Air Service lifts in cut-off positions very near, and to the North of the enemy. D Squadron was re-deployed by the flight to encircle the enemy, and additional troops were air-lifted from Habilayn to reinforce the position from 1st Battalion King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry. A running fight then continued for the rest of the morning and afternoon to eliminate the scattered dissidents.

Throughout the whole of this period Major Crouch was almost continually in the air over the battle area controlling his flight in the redeployment and reconnaissance necessary to track down the remnants of the gang. During this phase of the operation his aircraft was again holed. Later in the morning with complete disregard for his own safety he successfully evacuated a badly wounded Non Commissioned Officer of D Squadron from a very exposed position under enemy fire and his aircraft was hit for a third time. The action ended at dusk and was an outstanding success. Four dissidents were killed including two important gang leaders, and at this date it is known that a further four were wounded. Major Crouch's handling of his flight throughout the operation was outstanding and its success could not have been achieved without his aircraft. The example set by his own personal courage and initiative was an inspiration to all both in the air and on the ground and in the highest traditions of the service.

Military Medal

23887331 Trooper Brian Astor DODD, The Parachute Regiment.

Serving with Special Air Service Regiment

On the morning of 2nd February 1966, 12 armed dissidents were observed moving North up the Wadi Bilih. Because they were out of range Trooper Dodd's Troop, which was in reserve, was immediately air lifted by Scout to seal off the enemy's escape route. Trooper Dodd was one of a patrol of 4 dropped off in this manner.

During the initial engagement Trooper Dodd, despite being under heavy and accurate fire from the enemy, fearlessly exposed himself and knocked out two of the enemy by his own rifle fire. During this action Trooper Dodd and another soldier became separated from their patrol but throughout he continued to show exemplary coolness and determination and on his own initiative engaged a second party of enemy with his M 26 energa projector.

Later in the morning Trooper Dodd was a member of a patrol sent in to clear up a further pocket of enemy. His performance was again outstanding. He definitely killed one member of this enemy group and again showed great coolness and initiative when assisting in the recovery of the two enemy dead which resulted from the action.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to give orders for the publication of the name shown below as having received an expression of Commendation for Brave Conduct:

Warrant Officer Class II Martin MCGARRY, Corps of Royal Electrical and Mechanical Engineers.

In the Habilayn—Al Milah area of South Arabia Warrant Officer McGarry was with a Flight Workshops R.E.M.E. maintaining light aircraft of the Army Air Corps. On 2nd February 1966, four aircraft were supporting operations and flying at high intensity rates. These aircraft were hit by enemy fire which on several occasions caused severe damage necessitating immediate repair to make them air-worthy.

Throughout the day, by sheer ingenious resourceful improvisation determination and devotion to duty Warrant Officer McGarry kept his flight flying making a major contribution to the complete success of the operation.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to approve the undermentioned awards in recognition of gallant conduct in Aden:

Military Medal

22802945 Private Colin Winter WATSON late The Parachute Regiment.

On the night of 20th May 1965, Private Watson was a member of a patrol found from "C" Company, 1st Battalion, The Parachute Regiment, then operating at Ad Dimnah. The task of the patrol was to set up an ambush on a high feature approximately six hundred yards from the Company position. At about 2100 hours the patrol opened fire on a party of about twenty enemy approaching their position. Almost immediately the patrol came under heavy and accurate small arms and rocket launcher fire from the flank from two other enemy groups, each twelve to fifteen men strong. At this stage both wireless operators with the patrol became casualties. Private Watson on his own initiative immediately gave first-aid to one of them who had received a serious wound in his arm and was losing a great amount of blood. He also administered morphia as the man was in great pain. At this stage the patrol was still under heavy and accurate fire and Private Watson exposed himself in a most selfless fashion whilst giving this first-aid.

The Medical Officer attached to the Company at that time, who subsequently examined the wounded soldier on his evacuation to the Company Aid Post, is of the opinion that Private Watson's prompt and efficient action saved the wounded man's life. Private Watson then attended to the other wounded man whom he believed to be still alive. Again, with complete disregard for his own safety he gave the man artificial respiration including "the kiss of life" treatment for over an hour in an unsuccessful attempt to save his life. Throughout the action Private Watson, who had never before been under fire, conducted himself in an exemplary manner displaying a selfless dedication to his wounded comrades at considerable risk to himself.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to give orders for the publication of the names shown below as having received an expression of Commendation for Brave Conduct:—

2nd Lieutenant The Honourable Roland Thomas John HANDCOCK (477416) The Parachute Regiment.

In the Western Aden Protectorate on the 25th September 1965, 2nd Lieutenant Handcock was acting as a Forward Air Controller to a battalion of the Federal Regular Army. For some twelve hours the battalion came under sustained enemy fire, and throughout this prolonged engagement he called for and controlled nine separate air strikes against enemy positions. This involved several moves of himself and his wireless detachment whilst under enemy fire. On the evacuation of his wounded signaller, 2nd Lieutenant Handcock remained with the radio, and single handed directed pilots on to their targets. His persistence, skill as an Air Controller and complete lack of thought for his own safety ensured the success of the air strikes, without which casualties in the battalion would have been much heavier.

23882357 Corporal Peter John BARNES The Parachute Regiment.

On the night of 20th May 1965 at Ad Dimnah Western Aden Protectorate, Corporal Barnes was a member of an ambush patrol which engaged about twenty enemy approaching their position. The enemy reacted with heavy and accurate fire which caused casualties, killing the wireless operator and seriously incapacitating the other. Without hesitation Corporal Barnes took over the dead man's wireless maintaining and relaying accurate and comprehensive communications between his Company and Patrol Commanders. His calmness, self-control and exemplary conduct was an inspiration to all and undoubtedly helped his patrol repel the strong enemy attack.
