PERFORMING RIGHT TRIBUNAL

REFERENCE OF PERFORMING RIGHT SOCIETY IN RELATION TO STANDARD TARIFF "LP"

The Performing Right Tribunal publish the following short particulars of the decision in a dispute arising out of a proposal by The Performing Right Society ("the P.R.S.", for short) to vary further a licence scheme which was previously varied by an Order of the Tribunal, dated February 6, 1964. The other party to the dispute was The Cinematograph Exhibitors Association of Great Britain and Ireland ("the C.E.A." for short). The P.R.S. originated this further reference.

The scheme in question provides a tariff of royalties payable for the public performance at entertainments, classified as concerts of light or "popular" music, of copyright music and any words or lyrics associated with it, for the time being in the repertoire of the P.R.S. ("controlled music", hereafter), where the performance takes place on premises not otherwise covered by an appropriate licence. The tariff is known as "Standard Tariff LP" ("Tariff LP", for short).

The P.R.S. proposed to increase the tariff by raising the rate from 2 per cent. of the gross receipts with an option to the licensee to pay 1½ per cent. on the total money-holding capacity of the place of performance of each entertainment, as fixed by the Tribunal, to 3 per cent. and 2½ per cent. respectively.

The justification for this proposal rested on the relationship which the Tribunal had previously indicated between the royalties appropriately payable under Tariff LP and those fixed for payment under the standard tariff applicable to entertainments classified as "Variety". An increase in the latter tariff was concurrently in dispute between the P.R.S. and the party affected by it, by which party it had also been referred to the Tribunal. Accordingly, at the request of all concerned, the Tribunal had ordered this further reference and the reference in respect of the related tariff to be heard together.

After hearing evidence applicable to both references, the Tribunal came to the conclusion that the differential which the P.R.S. sought to maintain between the two tariffs had not remained constant. The amount of controlled music now used in entertainments to which the related tariff applied had increased to an extent which had diminished the differential from 1½ per cent. to ½ per cent.

No increase in the use of controlled music subject to Tariff LP had been shown meanwhile to have occurred.

Accordingly, subject to a minor variation, applying Tariff LP by agreement between the parties, specifically to concerts and recitals of light and "popular" music (as to which application there had been some ambiguity before) the Tribunal confirmed the licence scheme under further reference.

The P.R.S. was ordered to pay the C.E.A. £150 towards their costs.

THE REFERENCE OF THE THEATRES NATIONAL COMMITTEE

SHORT PARTICULARS OF DECISION

The Performing Right Tribunal publish the following short particulars of the decision in a dispute with the Performing Right Society referred to it by the above-named Theatres National Committee ("the T.N.C.", for short).

The reference concerns a licence scheme operated by the Performing Right Society ("the P.R.S.", for short) as from the 6th January 1966, which replaced an earlier scheme, embodied in a tariff known as "Standard Tariff 'V'" ("Tariff V", hereafter) and agreed between the parties on the 1st July 1963.

The scope of Tariff V covered performances of copyright music in the repertoire of the P.R.S.

("controlled music", for short) in variety entertainments, revue, pantomime or concert party productions of every kind, at theatres, halls or like premises (except theatre clubs), where admittance is gained by payment at the door by buying a ticket or by subscription. The royalty was at a single rate of $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. based on estimated gross annual takings, to be arrived at by applying an agreed formula.

In the disputed scheme, three separate standard tariffs were embodied, "V", "VA" and "VB" respectively, to apply according to the particular type of entertainment in question. The object was to distinguish between entertainments consisting of unrelated acts, not all musical, with artistes frequently changed (for which the royalty was at the former rate) and entertainments designed for a "run" (for which the royalty was to be at two different higher rates, according to the amount of controlled music "featured"). The higher rates respectively provided were $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. and 2 per cent. on actual gross receipts.

The objections of the T.N.C. were (1) to any increase in the rate agreed in 1963, (2) to a distinction being made according to the amount of controlled music "featured" as well as to the type of entertainment in question, and (3) to the principle of a charge based on actual gross receipts, without at least an optional alternative.

The P.R.S., for its part, contended that Tariff V had been agreed in circumstances in which an exceptional concession was made to the T.N.C. in view of a plea of financial difficulties put forward by it at the time.

The Tribunal, while accepting that fact, still found the 1963 agreement to be an indication of what a willing seller was prepared to accept from a willing buyer at that time. They also found that circumstances had meanwhile changed sufficiently to increase the value to the T.N.C. of the desired licences. They further decided that there were in fact distinctions to be made between different entertainments, broadly according to the amount of controlled music actually used, whether as a main attraction or (unless quite minimally) as an incident to an act. They did not, however, approve of the introduction of three separate tariffs, but provided instead for two different discounts to meet the appropriate distinction. They also provided a formula for estimating gross takings, as an alternative, at the option of the T.N.C., to payment on the basis of actual gross takings.

In the result, the licence scheme was varied by fixing the basic royalty at the rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on actual gross takings or 70 per cent. of money-holding capacity for each performance in a licence year, less a discount of $66\frac{2}{3}$ per cent. to be allowed where three quarters or more of the performance has included no controlled music, or a discount of $33\frac{1}{3}$ per cent. where more than one half but less than three quarters of the performance has included no such music.

Since the P.R.S. voluntarily announced, in view of the national economic situation, its intention to continue to operate Tariff V until the 1st July, 1967, or until further Order, the scheme as varied by the Tribunal has come into effect meanwhile nominally only as from the 11th November 1966.

Notice is hereby given that

1. Applications are being made to the Kent River Authority by the Medway Water Board of 25 Railway Street, Chatham, Kent, for licences (a) to obstruct or impede the flow of the river Bewl for the purposes of forming a reservoir (hereinafter referred to as "Bewl Bridge Reservoir") by means of an earth dam at National Grid Reference TQ.682336 which is a point on the river Bewl on the boundaries of the parish of Ticehurst in the rural district of Battle in the County of East Sussex and the parish of Goudhurst in the rural district of Cranbrook in the County of Kent, and (b) to abstract water from the Bewl Bridge Reservoir and the rivers Bewl, Teise and Medway.

2. The capacity of the Bewl Bridge Reservoir at overflow level would be approximately 6,900 million gallons. The reservoir would form part of a comprehensive scheme to develop the river Medway as a source of water for public supply. Water would be abstracted from the river Teise near Goudhurst and pumped to storage in the reservoir. Water would be abstracted from the river Medway at Maidstone and directly from the reservoir for treatment and distribution to public supply. Abstraction of water at Maidstone would be related to the river flow at the Teston Gauging Station and in times of low flow appropriate quantities of water would be released from the Reservoir to augment the flow in the river Medway.

3. The applications which are being made for licences to abstract water are as follows:

(1) (a) from the river Medway: 5,200 million gallons per year at National Grid Reference TQ 753569 being a point on the right bank of the river Medway 70 yards or thereabouts upstream of Monckton's Lane in the parish and borough of Maidstone;

(b) from the proposed Bewl Bridge Reservoir: 365 million gallons per year at National Grid Reference TQ 683337 in the parish of Goudhurst in the rural district of Cranbrook.

These abstractions are required for public supply purposes by the Board and for supply to the Mid Kent Water Company.

(2) from the river Teise: 12,500 million gallons in any period of five years commencing 1st October; 24 million gallons in any one day at National Grid Reference TQ 712385 being a point on the left bank of the river Teise 30 yards or thereabouts downstream of Smallbridge in the parish of Horsmonden in the rural district of Tonbridge.

This abstraction is required for the purpose of pumping water to storage in the proposed Bewl Bridge Reservoir. The rate of abstraction would be related to the flow in the river Medway at Teston and to the flow in the river Teise at a gauge which would be constructed immediately downstream of the point of abstraction.

(3) from the river Medway: 1,100 million gallons per year at the same point as (1) (a) above.

This would be a temporary abstraction required for public supply purposes by the Board and for supply to the Mid-Kent Water Company until the construction of the proposed Bewl Bridge Reservoir is completed; the application contains safeguards relating the permissible rate of abstraction on any day to the flow in the river Medway.

(4) from the river Bewl: 12 million gallons per year at National Grid Reference TQ 680334 in the parish of Ticehurst in the rural district of Battle.

This would be a temporary abstraction required for use in the construction of the proposed Bewl Bridge Reservoir.

4. Copies of the applications and of any map, plan or other document submitted with them may be inspected free of charge at the offices of the

(i) Maidstone Waterworks Company, 74 King Street, Maidstone, Kent.

(ii) Cranbrook Rural District Council, Clerks Department, High Street, Cranbrook, Kent.

(iii) Tunbridge Wells Borough Council, Town Clerks Department, Town Hall, Tunbridge Wells, Kent.

(iv) Medway Water Board, 25 Railway Street, Chatham, Kent.

at all reasonable hours during the period beginning on 2nd December 1966 and ending on 30th December 1966.

Any person who wishes to make representations about the application should do so in writing to the Clerk, Kent River Authority, Rivers House, London Road, Maidstone, Kent, before the end of the said period.

P. Coppenthal, Clerk to the Medway Water Board.

The variation applied for is to increase the daily maximum, using two pumps, from 4,000 gallons to 10,000 gallons to be used for the purpose of agriculture, including spray irrigation, and also for a private water undertaking for domestic supplies.

A copy of the application and of any map, plan or other document submitted with it may be inspected, free of charge, at the Registered Office of Boulton Bros. (Moddershall) Ltd., at all reasonable hours during the period beginning on 2nd December 1966 and ending on 31st December 1966.
