

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgesses of the Borough of Berwick upon Tweed, in Guild assembled; presented to Her Majesty by Samuel Ogle and Jonathan Hutchinson, Esqrs; their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary Boyle.

M A D A M,

THE Pretender to your Dominions, supported by a French Power, and encouraged by a wretched Set of Men at home, the implacable Opposers of the late King William of Glorious Memory, and your Majesty's Person and Government, having attempted a Descent on the North Part of your Majesty's Realm of Britain near to us, gives us the Occasion of expressing our just Detestation and utter Abhorrence of so execrable an Undertaking.

A Design in it self so pernicious to our Holy Religion, Civil Liberties, and the Succession in the Protestant Line, that strikes us with the utmost Horror and Amazement, to think that any of your Majesty's Subjects, under the Denomination of a Protestant, should be found abetting, or in the least countenancing it.

The grand Enemy of Europe's Liberties had promis'd himself infallible Success from a Design so closely laid, and manag'd with so great Expedition; but your Majesty's Vigilance and Conduct, in sending your Fleet in so seasonable a Conjunction, had (under God) prevented their putting it in Execution, and dissipated our Apprehensions.

As we esteem it one of the greatest Blessings to live under the benign Government of a Queen whose chief Study is the Happiness of her People, so we think our selves in Duty bound to assure your Majesty, That we will cheerfully and unanimously on all Occasions stand by your Majesty with all that is dear and valuable to us, in defence of your Majesty's Person and Government, against the Pretender, and all other your Majesty's Enemies whatsoever.

We witness whereof, we have hereunto affix'd our Common Seal, this 24th Day of March, in the 7th Year of your Majesty's most glorious Reign.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Common-Council, and Freemen, and also of the Clergy, Gentlemen, and Inhabitants of the City of Rochester, and the Places adjacent; presented by Sir Stafford Fairborne, one of their Representatives in Parliament.

Most Rightful and Lawful Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, having heard of the late wicked and desperate Design of an Invasion of your Majesty's Dominions, contriv'd and carry'd on by the Invererate Enemy of Christendom, the French King, and his Instrument the Pretender, think our selves in Duty bound to declare our utmost Abhorrence and Detestation of the same; and to assure your Majesty, in the most solemn manner, That as we esteem your Majesty's sacred Life, the Protestant Succession, our happy Constitution, and our most Holy Religion, as the most valuable Blessings of this World; so are we most firmly resolv'd to defend the same upon all Occasions, with the utmost Hazard of our Lives and Estates.

Altho' the mean and inconsiderable Preparations that have been made use of by the Enemy in this Enterprize, may make this Design appear rather like the impotent Efforts of an implacable Rage, than to have been founded upon any reasonable Hopes of Success; yet ought we nevertheless to return our devoutest Praises to Heaven, and our humblest Thanks to your Majesty, that such seasonable measures were concerted, as that this boasted Design seems already blasted and baffled with so very little Effusion of Christian Blood.

Your Majesty's Goodness, we are sure, will not fail to reward those, who have upon this Occasion distinguish'd their Zeal for your Service; and we hope your Justice will be no less Exemplary in punishing such of your Subjects, who shall be found to have been any ways concern'd in the abetting or encouraging this unnatural and hellish Design. May God Almighty continue to preserve your Majesty, and crown you with all Temporal and Eternal Felicities.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Burgesses, Borough-men, Gentlemen, and other substantial Inhabitants within the Borough of Thirsk, in the North-riding of the County of York; presented by Sir Thomas Frankland and Sir Godfrey Copley, Barons, their Representatives in Parliament; introduc'd by the Rt. Hon. the Lord Chamberlain.

May it please your Majesty,

AS the threaten'd Invasion of your Majesty's Dominions, by the pretended Prince of Wales, supported by a French Power, fills us with the utmost Concern and Abhorrence of their Attempt; so the early, and we hope effectual Care that your Majesty has taken to disappoint all their wicked Designs, fills us with Wonder, and justly calls for our lowliest Thanks and Praises.

Your Majesty's undoubted Title to the Crown of Great Britain, and other your Dominions, the Security of our true Religion, the Preservation of our Liberties, the Obligations we are under to secure the Succession in the Protestant Line, the Ballance of Power in Europe, are such indispensable Ties upon us, that we cannot discharge our selves from the Duty we owe your Majesty and our Country, without assuring your Majesty that we will, upon all Occasions, stand by and assist your Majesty against all Invasions from abroad, and traitorous Conspiracies at home.

May that Providence which has attended all your Majesty's Designs, and baffled those of your Enemies, still guard your sacred Person from all Treachery, and in your long Life and Health bless these Nations with a Series of successful Years; and that at last your Majesty may be crown'd with eternal Happiness, are, and shall be, the daily Prayers of your Majesty's most obedient, most humble, and most dutiful Subjects and Servants.

To the QUEEN's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Guild, Stewards and Burgesses of your Majesty's ancient Borough of Calne, in the County of Wilts; presented by George Duckett and Edward Baynton, Esqrs; their Representatives in Parliament.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

AS we are most deeply sensible of the many Blessings we enjoy under your most auspicious Reign (Secondary to the Divine Providence) and of your gracious Care for securing the Protestant Succession of the Crown, and preserving us in the quiet and peaceable Enjoyment of our Religion, Liberties and Properties, and of your mighty Endeavours to procure an advantageous, firm and lasting Peace to your Subjects and Allies; so we humbly beg Leave (with Hearts full of Duty and Zeal for your Royal Person and Government,) to assure your Majesty, that we shall be ready at all Times to serve your Majesty with our Lives and Fortunes in Vindication of your Sovereignty, not only against the present Pretender, but all other your Enemies whatsoever. And we humbly implore the Blessing and Protection of Almighty God over your Majesty's sacred Person now and at all times, that he will be always your Defence and Shield, and will bless your Arms, by giving you Victory over your Enemies, and a long, prosperous and happy Reign over us, and at length Crown you with Immortality.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Jurates, and Commonalty of your Majesty's Town and ancient Cinque-Port of Romney, in the County of Kent; presented by John Brewer and Walter Whitfield, Esqrs; their Representatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Chamberlain.

Most Dread Sovereign,

THE French King having trained up the Pretender to your Majesty's Realms, in the Jesuitical Politicks of his own Arbitrary Government, and the Bigotry of the Church of Rome, he now vainly pretends to depute him as his Viceroy to your Majesty's lawful and rightful Dominions. But your wise and righteous Administration hath so firmly engaged the Hearts, as well as Duty, of all your good Subjects, in their unshaken Loyalty to your Sacred Person and Government, that we no sooner hear of this insolent and wicked Attempt, but we congratulate your Majesty in the happy Disappointment of it.

And may God Almighty continue to confound the Devices of all your Enemies, and prosper the Conduct and Counsels of those whom your Majesty so justly honours with the

COSBY