Save in so far as this Order otherwise provides, pay and allowances, the rates of which are determined by Articles 12 to 14 of this Order, shall be paid only in respect of permanent or actual service and full-time training and in the manner in which, and subject to the conditions, restrictions and provisions under which, the like payments are made to officers, ratings and other ranks of the Royal Navy and the Royal Marines.

4. Where by virtue of this Order the rate of pay payable to a member of a reserve is increased after a specified period of service in a rank or rating, only permanent or actual service shall be taken into account in computing his period of service for the purpose of assessing entitlement to the increased rate.

5. Marriage allowance shall not be payable in respect of a period of full-time training which does not exceed 72 hours.

6. Where regulations governing any reserve prescribe a maximum period of full-time training on full pay, no pay or allowances shall be paid for any period of full-time training in excess of that maximum.

7. If a member of such a reserve shall be disabled by injury or sickness from any cause not within his control during a period of full-time training he shall continue to be paid the pay and allowances appropriate to his rank or rating until the expiration of that period, and thereafter a disablement allowance may be awarded at the discretion of the Secretary of State for sickness or injury attributable to service.

8. If a member of a reserve or a pensioner shall be disabled by injury or sickness while on permanent or actual service, pay and allowances shall be payable to him under the conditions and restrictions applying in like circumstances to an officer, rating or other rank of the Royal Navy or Royal Marines, of the same rank or rating.

9.—(1) The rate of additional pay payable to a rating or other rank of a reserve awarded a good conduct badge shall be that payable to a rating of the Royal Navy or other rank of the Royal Marines of the same rating or rank awarded such a badge.

(2) In assessing the eligibility of a rating or other rank of a reserve for the award of such a badge only full-time service shall be taken into account.

10. The Secretary of State may grant to members of the reserves and to pensioners Command Money, Surveying Pay, Specialist Allowances and extra pay for special qualifications, special responsibilities and special duty at the same rates, and under the same conditions as for officers, ratings and other ranks of the Royal Navy and Royal Marines, to be payable in respect of periods of permanent or actual service or full-time training.

11. On any of the reserves being ordered into permanent or actual service on general mobilisation
