MINISTRY OF DEFENCE

ARMY DEPARTMENT

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased on the advice of Her Majesty's Australian Ministers to approve the undermentioned awards in recognition of gallant conduct in Vietnam:

To be dated 23rd November 1967

Distinguished Service Order

Lieutenant-Colonel John Arnold WARR (3487),
Royal Australian Infantry Corps.

Lieutenant-Colonel John Warr was commissioned into the Australian Army in 1947. Since that time he has either served with the Royal Australian Regiment or held staff appointments in Australia or abroad.

When the 5th Battalion, The Royal Australian Regiment was formed, Lieutenant-Colonel Warr was Second in Command until 1st September 1965, when he was appointed Commanding Officer and the unit was warned for movement overseas. As Commanding Officer he was responsible for the training and welding together of both regular soldiers and national servicemen into an efficient combat unit in a short period of time.

During a year's service in Vietnam, the 5th Battalion, The Royal Australian Regiment, was in almost continual contact with the enemy whilst executing offensive patrol tasks, search and destroy missions, and cordon and search operations. The techniques for these latter operations were developed so successfully by Lieutenant-Colonel Warr that they have been accepted as standard procedures in the 1st Australian Task Force.

Lieutenant-Colonel Warr was responsible for the planning and execution in detail which is so necessary for successful operations by a battalion group in air mobile operations. His thorough preparation and orders, his sound tactical knowledge, his calmness and leadership under fire was largely responsible for the accomplishments of the 5th Battalion, The Royal Australian Regiment, in Vietnam.

Military Cross

Lieutenant Michael Geneste LANGLEY (61680),
Royal Australian Artillery.

Lieutenant Michael Langley, having previously served as an officer in the Royal Artillery, was commissioned into the Royal Australian Artillery on 28th June 1965, as a member of 1st Field Regiment.

On 21st February 1967, Lieutenant Langley was the forward observer with B Company, 5th Battalion, The Royal Australian Regiment, during Operation Remark. Near the village of Long My, at 1411 hours, the company headquarters group became caught in an enemy minefield and at least two mines were detonated. The whole of the command element of the company was included in the casualties, of whom nine died and a further twenty were wounded.

Placing his own party of men in a safe place, Lieutenant Langley immediately moved forward into the minefield. With complete disregard for his own safety, he rendered first aid to the injured and arranged their subsequent evacuation by helicopter. He then took command of the remnants of the company, organised the local defence of their position and successfully maintained morale and fighting spirit. He remained in command of B Company until 1107 hours on the following day when the company was able to rejoin battalion headquarters.

Lieutenant Langley, by his immediate action was able to steady the survivors at a critical moment and prevent further casualties occurring. His complete disregard for his own safety and his care for the wounded soldiers displayed a standard of calmness and bravery that reflects great credit upon himself, his Regiment, and the Australian Regular Army.

Military Medal

214838 Corporal Lionel Charles RENDALLS, Royal Australian Engineers.

Corporal Lionel Charles Rendalls enlisted in the Australian Regular Army on the 16th August 1962, and was allotted to the Royal Australian Engineers. After serving as an instructor at 1st Recruit Training Battalion he joined 1st Field Squadron in May 1963, served with the unit in Borneo and rejoined the Squadron in South Vietnam in September 1966.

On the 17th October 1966, during Operation Queanbeyan, he was in charge of an engineer combat team in support of an infantry company. The company, whilst moving into a village area, suffered seven casualties from booby traps.

Corporal Rendalls moved to the head of the company, and covered by only one scout to his rear, proceeded to clear forward. During the next two hours, working alone, he located and neutralised seventeen booby traps including a type previously unknown.

Corporal Rendalls, during this clearance operation, displayed considerable skill and unquestioned bravery. His efforts permitted the infantry to continue their operation without further casualties, and the calm manner in which he performed this arduous task reflects great credit upon himself and his squadron.

Military Medal

43755 Private Colin John COGSWELL Royal Australian Infantry Corps.

On the 8th of October 1966, during Operation Canberra in Phuoc Tuy Province, South Vietnam, B Company, Fifth Battalion, The Royal Australian Regiment, was directed to clear the Nui Thi Vai Hill, which was a large rocky, steep, densely covered feature. The area was known to be heavily booby trapped by the Viet Cong. Private Cogswell and another soldier as forward scouts located a booby trap, deloused it and a few minutes later heard voices of enemy close by. Private Cogswell advised his platoon commander by hand signal and, covered by the other scout, moved forward to investigate. Initially he sighted fifteen Viet Cong and later thirty Viet Cong. Private Cogswell and the other scout remained in a position of observation for approximately fifty minutes; at times the enemy came within five yards of their position but the scouts were not seen. Based on the information passed back by Private Cogswell and the other scout and other information it was concluded that the Viet Cong could be up to battalion strength and B Company was ordered to withdraw four hundred metres to allow artillery and air strikes to be made on enemy positions. Both scouts then skilfully extracted themselves without disclosing their presence to the Viet Cong and so alerting them. Artillery and air strikes were then made on the enemy base which was later successfully destroyed.

The skill, courage and determination displayed by Private Cogswell was of a very high order and enabled the area to be cleared without casualties to his platoon or company.

Military Medal

1731080 Private William Joseph WINTERFORD Royal Australian Infantry Corps.

Private Winterford has served as a National Serviceman since 30th June 1965, and with 6th Battalion, The Royal Australian Regiment in Vietnam since June 1966. He was a section machine gunner until he was wounded during operations in Phuoc Tuy Province in July 1966.

On 25th July 1966, during an action between C Company and a Company of Viet Cong, Private Winterford engaged two enemy machine guns which were accurately engaging the company, with his own machine gun. Exercising excellent fire control, he quickly succeeded in neutralising the enemy guns.

When an attack was mounted on the right flank of his platoon position, Private Winterford used his machine gun to such devastating effect that the enemy were forced to withdraw.

Shortly after, whilst still engaging enemy groups, Private Winterford was seriously wounded in the left arm and his machine gun destroyed.

Whilst obviously in great pain and suffering loss of blood, and though still under enemy fire, he conducted himself in such a courageous manner as to set an example and inspire those fighting with him.

This display of professional skill and of his personal courage throughout the action was in the highest tradition of service, and reflect great credit upon himself, his Regiment and the Australian Army.
