MINISTRY OF DEFENCE

ARMY DEPARTMENT

CENTRAL CHANCERY OF
THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

St. James's Palace, London S.W.1.
14th May 1968.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to give orders for the following appointment to the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire:

To be an Additional Member of the Military Division of the said Most Excellent Order, for Gallantry:

21125317 Warrant Officer Class I, Stanley Gordon WOODS, Royal Army Ordnance Corps.

From late July to 16th October 1967, Warrant Officer Class I Woods, Royal Army Ordnance Corps, was engaged in disposing of bombs which were planted in large numbers by Communist terrorists throughout Hong Kong, and particularly in the densely populated urban areas.

In the first two months of this period, he carried out more than twenty tours of this very arduous duty, none of less than 12 hours, during which he dealt with nearly 300 devices. Not all were true bombs, but hoax bombs, deliberately designed to give the appearance of true ones, had to be handled with equal care; and, in this initial phase of the campaign, all devices had to be dismantled and their potential assessed, in order that the most effective means of disposal could be devised.

As reinforcement technicians arrived, Warrant Officer Woods took them out into the streets, carefully instructing them in the methods and procedures to be used.

The work on which he was engaged was made even more dangerous by the terrorist tactic of using a device, true or hoax, to attract a target in the form of a bomb disposal team and then throwing down further bombs from nearby buildings.

A number of persons, military, police and civilian, were killed during this campaign, and a large number were injured. Despite this, Warrant Officer Woods repeatedly exposed himself to danger, until he himself was injured while dealing with a device on 16th October. His gallant and devoted conduct, which was in the highest traditions of the Service, was an inspiration to his colleagues and gained the admiration of all who were associated with him in this highly dangerous and demanding work.

THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

St. James's Palace, London S.W.1.
14th May 1968.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to approve the award of the British Empire Medal for Gallantry (Military Division) to the undermentioned:

23539466 Sergeant David Lawrence BIRCH, Royal Army Ordnance Corps.

From 28th July to 9th October 1967, Sergeant Birch, Royal Army Ordnance Corps, was engaged in disposing of bombs during the terrorist campaign of bomb-planting in Hong Kong. In this time he carried out no less than twenty periods of duty and dealt with more than 200 devices.

Although not all devices proved to be true bombs, all had to be dealt with most carefully and exhaustively investigated and dealt with. This dangerous work was made even more so by the terrorist stratagem of using a device, true or hoax, to attract a target in the form of a bomb disposal team, and then throwing further bombs down from nearby buildings. A number of persons were killed and injured in this campaign of terrorism; and Sergeant Birch was himself injured by a bomb, thrown during his investigation of a device. Despite these dangers, and his injury, Sergeant Birch continued coolly and fearlessly with his demanding task.

His calm courage was an example of gallantry of a high order which was an inspiration to his colleagues and in the highest tradition of the Service.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased on the advice of Her Majesty's Australian Ministers to approve the undermentioned awards in recognition of gallant conduct in Vietnam:

(To be dated 9th May 1968)

Military Cross

2nd Lieutenant Roger Leslie Mark TINGLEY (54702), Royal Australian Armoured Corps.

Second Lieutenant Roger Tingley enlisted in the Australian Regular Army on 2nd May 1963, was commissioned on 11th December 1965, and allotted to the Royal Australian Armoured Corps. He joined 3rd Cavalry Regiment in November 1966, and arrived in South Vietnam to join A Squadron in April 1967.

On 1st February 1968, as commander of 3rd Troop A Squadron 3rd Cavalry Regiment, Second Lieutenant

Tingley assisted in the defence of Sector Headquarters in Baria, Phuoc Tuy Province. His troop was in contact from approximately 0845 hours until 1910 hours, during which time they evacuated twenty-eight casualties as well as providing support to the infantry company and assisting in the defence of Sector Headquarters. While under sniper fire Second Lieutenant Tingley killed three snipers. Later when his armoured personnel carrier was struck by a rocket he continued to fire his machine gun and killed the enemy who engaged him. He changed vehicles and when another carrier near him was hit by a rocket he brought his own vehicle between it and the enemy. He engaged the enemy but his own vehicle was then hit. He was wounded and thrown from his vehicle.

Later he directed armed-helicopter fire which assisted the recovery of the two damaged vehicles.

In all these events, the high degree of personal bravery and initiative shown by Second Lieutenant Tingley reflects great credit upon himself, his Regiment and the Australian Regular Army.

Military Medal

5411313 Corporal John James DAVIS, Royal Australian Army Medical Corps.

Corporal John Davis enlisted in the Australian Regular Army on the 30th January 1963, and has served as a medical assistant with 101 Field Workshop, 2 Recruit Training Battalion; joining 3rd Battalion, The Royal Australian Regiment on 13th March 1966. He arrived in South Vietnam with the Battalion on 27th December 1967.

During the A Company operations in the defence of Baria on 1st and 2nd February 1968, Corporal Davis, the company medical assistant, on many occasions displayed outstanding courage and devotion to his comrades.

Throughout the morning of the 1st February 1968, he moved across roads being swept with automatic weapon and rocket fire with complete disregard for his own safety in order to treat wounded Australians and Americans.

Later that day, when the Australian Advisor, Warrant Officer Class 2 Parello was fatally wounded, he again braved enemy fire three times in an endeavour to treat him.

His complete disregard for his own safety, his devotion to duty, and his care for the wounded soldiers was undoubtedly an inspiration to all, and was in the highest traditions of the Royal Australian Army Medical Corps.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased to approve of the names shown below as having received an expression of Commendation for Brave Conduct:

Lieutenant Peter Christopher BICKMORE (470398), The Life Guards (now R.A.R.O.).

On the 8th July 1967, Lieutenant Bickmore was in command of the Armoured Car Troop which was supporting 1/10 Gurkha Rifles in their operations to restore the situation in Sha Tau Kok village where five Hong Kong Police officers had been killed and others seriously wounded. He had been warned of the importance of not escalating the situation.

During the course of the advance, Lieutenant Bickmore's troop came under accurate machine gun fire on a straight stretch of road on which there was no cover. In spite of machine gun bullets striking his own armoured car, Lieutenant Bickmore ordered his gunner and the other three cars in his troop to hold their fire. While still under fire Lieutenant Bickmore kept his troop advancing along the road towards the objective.

On arrival at the village, Lieutenant Bickmore's troop remained in an exposed position for three hours while the infantry dug in and the Police casualties were evacuated.

By remaining calm and continuing the advance under fire, Lieutenant Bickmore was an inspiration and example to his troop, and to the Gurkhas while they were digging in. The correct and brave action of this officer played a considerable part in the restoration of law and order in Sha Tau Kok.

Lieutenant (Actg. Captain) Douglas Ralph HUMPHREY (474375), Corps of Royal Engineers.

On 8th August 1967, Lieutenant Humphrey was ordered to dispose of a suspected bomb attached to an electric cable pole in Sha Tau Kok, on the international Sino-Hong Kong border.

Before the operation began all civilians were cleared from the area to avoid casualties, in the event of the suspected bomb exploding. This gave warning of the operation to the Chinese Militiamen who were in position in large numbers when Captain Humphrey, a Non Commissioned Officer and a small infantry escort party arrived.

As Captain Humphrey and the Non Commissioned Officer approached the suspected bomb, immediately the Militiamen started to hurl stones and bottles, but undeterred and with the help of the Non Commissioned Officer Captain Humphrey climbed upon a small wooden hut at the base of the pole and attached a pulling cable to the device. Still under a hail of missiles of various sorts, he pulled the cable and this detached what appeared to be the activating wire, but did not dislodge the bomb itself.

Completely disregarding his own safety, Captain Humphrey made a further attempt to remove the contraption from the pole, but it was now obvious that the device was a hoax and he was ordered to withdraw.

Captain Humphrey's great coolness, determination and utter contempt of the savage attack directed at him, was in the highest traditions of his Corps, and did much to enhance the good will of the residents on the Hong Kong side of the border.

23515929 Sergeant Mark Gregory RITCHIE, Royal Army Ordnance Corps.

Sergeant Ritchie, Royal Army Ordnance Corps, was employed on bomb disposal duties from the outset of the terrorist bomb-planting campaign in Hong Kong in July 1967.

On 5th August 1967, he arrived outside a bank, where a device was hanging from an iron grille door. He decided to cut this down but, while doing so, the device exploded, blinding him temporarily and causing painful injuries. Despite the pain and his fear of permanent blindness, Sergeant Ritchie had the presence of mind to instruct his assistant to collect, and hand in for investigation, all possible pieces of the device. On arrival at hospital, he insisted, before being treated, being taken to a telephone and on reporting the full technical details to Bomb Disposal Headquarters.

After some weeks of hospital treatment, Sergeant Ritchie returned to bomb disposal duties, which he carried out in an exemplary manner until his return to the United Kingdom in early October.

His gallant conduct, and his outstanding sense of duty at the time of his injury were of a very high order.

Lieutenant (Q.G.O.) DHANRAJ RAI (478393), 10th Princess Mary's Own Gurkha Rifles.

On 24th August 1967, Lieutenant Dhanraj Rai was commanding a platoon whose task it was to maintain intact a barbed wire obstacle erected on the British end of the Man Kam To road bridge on the Hong Kong border.

Some forty to fifty Chinese Communists attempted to remove this obstacle under cover of a barrage of stones and automatic weapons firing low over the heads of our troops. Lieutenant Dhanraj positioned himself some fifteen yards from the end of the bridge and, supplied with white phosphorus and tear gas grenades by men from his platoon, personally defied all initial efforts by the rioters to dismantle the obstacle. Finding that they could not stand up to the accurate barrage of grenades the rioters brought up trolleys of straw to provide cover. Lieutenant Dhanraj attacked these with grenades and set them alight. At each sally the rioters succeeded in cutting and removing a portion of the obstacle, attempting to drag the wire away with a grappling hook. On three separate occasions Lieutenant Dhanraj at point blank range with the rioters, grenade in one hand, Kukri in the other succeeded in cutting the grappling ropes.

Despite all efforts, the last strands of wire were removed, but with Lieutenant Dhanraj and his men standing guard at the open end of the bridge, no one dared advance onto British Territory.

The personal courage, leadership and determination of this young officer was the prime factor in repulsing a violent and aggressive mob.

21154128 Rifleman LAKHDHAN RAI, 10th Princess Mary's Own Gurkha Rifles.

On the 24th/25th August 1967, Rifleman Lakhghan was a member of the platoon sited in the sand-bagged Immigration Office Post at the border railway bridge Lo Wa, New Territories, Hong Kong.

Over the two days the post was attacked by a considerable number of Chinese Communists and subjected for over six hours to a sporadic hail of stones, bottles and Molotov cocktails from ten yards range, accompanied by bursts of light machine gun fire overhead from a military post on Chinese territory. Throughout the actions Rifleman Lakhadhan, with great determination and initiative, stood in the bomb bay and repulsed every attack throwing over fifty tear gas grenades with which the remainder of the platoon kept him supplied.

The courage and endurance of this young Rifleman in his self-imposed task during two days of severe strain and tension, were a fine example to all around him in circumstances calling for an unusual mixture of defiance and restraint in the face of provocation.

Captain Francis Michael Digby HOYAL (474611), Royal Army Medical Corps (attached 7th Duke of Edinburgh's Own Gurkha Rifles).

On 28th August 1967, Captain Hoyal, the Medical Officer of the 2/7 Gurkha Rifles was urgently despatched by helicopter to Unicorn Ridge overlooking Kowloon, where a Sergeant of a Bomb Disposal Unit had been blasted down a precipitous hillside and lay seriously injured some 200 feet below the ridge.

On arrival, and after a quick appreciation of the position, Captain Hoyal made his way down the dangerous slopes and found Sergeant Workman lodged in a position where any attempt to move him would have resulted in their both falling down a sheer drop of some 300 feet. Captain Hoyal secured his patient and proceeded to administer first aid and drugs to relieve him of the terrible pain, but despite all his efforts on this precipitous ledge Sergeant Workman succumbed and Captain Hoyal remained with his body until the arrival of the mountain rescue team, who were obliged to use a rope to reach the position.

Captain Hoyal's unselfish action on this errand of mercy, without any thought for his own safety, was an act of personal courage far beyond the call of duty.

14th May 1968.
