HONOURS AND AWARDS

CENTRAL CHANCERY OF THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

St. James's Palace, London S.W.1.
2nd July 1968.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased, on the advice of Her Majesty's Canadian Ministers, to give orders for the following appointment to the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire:

To be an Additional Member of the Military Division of the said Most Excellent Order, for Gallantry:

(To be dated 8th June 1968.)

NU 11011 Captain (Nursing Sister) Josephine Anthony CASHIN, Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps.

Captain (Nursing Sister) Cashin was called to give medical assistance at the crash scene of a Czechoslovakian aircraft near Gander International Airport. To reach the actual crash site she had to cross, in total darkness, some half-mile of muskeg bog containing water filled holes, some hip deep. Nevertheless she was one of the first on the scene. En route she intercepted some of the injured victims stumbling around in the bog in a dazed condition and gave what assistance was available from the limited resources at hand. In addition she gave valuable instructions for the care of the injured and their despatch to hospital. Her partial knowledge of the German language proved invaluable in that she was able to glean from these survivors that there were many more injured at and near the crash scene. Struggling through the littered and burning area with complete disregard for her own safety, Nursing Sister Cashin repeatedly answered screams for help from the injured. During some five hours at the crash scene, she was constantly in and around the burning wreckage searching for and giving aid to the many injured. Her cries for stretchers, blankets and lights could continually be heard above the crackling flames of the fires consuming the wreckage of the aircraft. Under the most adverse and confused conditions, Nursing Sister Cashin, working fearlessly and tirelessly, displayed bravery, initiative, resourcefulness and selfless devotion to duty without thought or regard for her own safety or well being. Only when the last survivor had been found did she leave the crash scene for the hospital where she continued to contribute her professional skill to the further care of the injured. The bravery and selfless devotion to duty displayed by Nursing Sister Cashin no doubt was responsible for the saving of many lives.

CENTRAL CHANCERY OF ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

St. James's Palace, London S.W.1.
2nd July 1968.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased, on the advice of Her Majesty's Canadian Ministers, to give orders for the following appointment to the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire:

To be an Additional Member of the Civil Division of the said Most Excellent Order, for Gallantry:

(To be dated 29th June 1968.)

Austin GARRETT, Helicopter Pilot, Gander, Newfoundland.

An aircraft crashed shortly after taking off from Gander International Airport. The wreckage came to a rest about 6,000 feet from the end of the runway and 1,980 feet from the nearest road and it was impossible to get rescue vehicles across the bog to the scene. It would have taken hours to carry all the injured out across the bog. It was agreed that a helicopter would cut down on the suffering and speed up the rescue operations, and one was therefore obtained with its pilot, Mr. Garrett. Between 4 a.m. when Mr. Garrett first had the helicopter airborne, and 5.50 a.m., he made 18 round trip flights from the crash site to the Airport Terminal where the injured were transferred to ambulances. By 5.50 a.m. all the injured had been removed from the scene. It was not daylight at this time. Mr. Garrett continued bringing out bodies and taking equipment to the scene and ended his efforts after completing 45 round trips to the crash scene. The rescue operations took place during a very dark night and the smoke from the burning wreckage blanketed the area. The only landing aids were the lights of the helicopter, flashlights held by rescue workers and fire from the crash. The combination of a very dark night, fire, smoke, wreckage and rescue workers trying to direct the helicopter with flashlights exposed Mr. Garrett to a high degree of risk to life and health.

Provided that—

(a) In any earthen grave now existing in the said Churchyard, the burial may be allowed of the body of any member of the family of the person or persons heretofore buried in such grave, subject to the condition that no part of the coffin containing the body shall be at a depth less than three feet below the level of the surface of the ground adjoining the grave.

(b) In the said Churchyard, in any grave space in which no interment has heretofore taken place, burial may be allowed, subject to the condition that no part of the coffin containing the body shall be at a depth less than three feet below the level of the surface of the ground adjoining the grave.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty in Council is pleased hereby to give Notice of such Representation and to order that the same be taken into consideration by a Committee of the Privy Council on the 26th day of August next.

And Her Majesty is further pleased to direct that this Order be forthwith published in the London Gazette, and that copies thereof be affixed on the doors of the Churches or Chapels of, or on some conspicuous places within, the Parish affected by such Representation one month before the said 26th day of August.

DEPARTMENT OF EMPLOYMENT AND PRODUCTIVITY

PRICES AND INCOMES ACT 1966

REFERENCE TO THE NATIONAL BOARD
FOR PRICES AND INCOMES

Top salaries in the private sector and nationalised industries

The salaries of Chairmen and other members of the Boards of nationalised industries are determined by the Government. These salaries have been revised twice since the end of the war, but are now thought to be substantially behind those of Board members and men with comparable responsibilities in private industry. A marked divergence of salaries between nationalised industries and private industry could be expected to have a serious effect on efficiency, by reducing the nationalised industries' ability to recruit and retain suitable people at Board level and also at senior managerial level, where salaries are held below Board levels.

The White Paper on productivity, prices and incomes policy in 1968 and 1969 (Command 3590) affirms that the principles of incomes policy should apply to individual salaries and other forms of remuneration, including that of company directors and executives, that are fixed outside the usual process of collective bargaining. The Government consider it desirable that the National Board for Prices and Incomes should examine the application of this general principle to remuneration at the highest levels in the private sector and nationalised industries, and in the light of this examination, should advise on the appropriate range of remuneration at senior managerial and Board levels in nationalised industries.

In pursuance of their powers under section 2 (1) of the Prices and Incomes Act 1966, the First Secretary of State and Secretary of State for Employment and Productivity and the Chancellor of the Exchequer hereby refer to the National Board for Prices and Incomes for examination the application of Command 3590 to remuneration at the highest levels in the private sector and nationalised industries, and the appropriate range of remuneration at senior managerial and Board levels in nationalised industries.
