HONOURS AND AWARDS

CENTRAL CHANCERY OF THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

St. James's Palace, London S.W.1.

20th April 1971.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased, on the advice of Her Majesty's Sierra Leone Ministers, to give orders for the following appointments to the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire:

To be Additional Members of the Civil Division of the said Most Excellent Order for Gallantry:

(To be dated 3rd April 1971)

Captain Malcolm CONNOLLY, Helicopter Pilot, Eastern Province, Sierra Leone.

Nine people, including a pregnant woman and one year old child, were saved from certain death in the deep foaming Sewa River, in the Eastern Province of Sierra Leone, on Tuesday, 8th September 1970, by the brave actions of helicopter pilot Malcolm Connolly and Police Chief Inspector Jaba.

The people had been travelling by launch late on Monday evening bound for Kono Kando, when suddenly the engine faltered. The frail craft soon went out of control in the swiftly flowing river and smashed into a rock 50 yards from the nearest land. Luckily, the launch did not break up immediately and the passengers were able to climb onto the small precipitous rock, where they hung on grimly.

All efforts at rescue throughout the night failed whilst heavy waves threatened to remove them from their perilous perch at any moment and doom them to a watery grave. One man in fact succumbed to the conditions and was swept away and drowned.

Realising the seriousness of the matter, early the next morning Chief Police Officer Coker asked Sierra Leone Selection Trust for assistance. The Company were eager to give aid and quickly provided a helicopter piloted by Capt. Malcolm Connolly.

A 15 yard length of rope with a loop at one end was tied to the helicopter and Connolly positioned his craft about 20 yards from the people whilst Chief Inspector Jaba, who had accompanied him, demonstrated to them that they were to put the loop of the rope under their arms (around their chests) and tighten it.

The helicopter was manoeuvred into position to enable the loop end of the rope to be thrown to one of the stranded people. Connolly then had to perform the most hazardous part of the operation by skilfully lowering the helicopter to a position just above the rock where one slip would have doomed them all. Jaba was then able, at great personal risk, to help the man into the helicopter and he was then whisked off to Dogboy, the nearest landing point, and safety.

For two hours this operation was carried out time and again until eventually the last of the nine survivors was safely taken off. Only then could everyone concerned breathe a sigh of relief.

The persons saved were Alhaji Abu, Bockarie Saidu, Alhaji Alusaine Jalloe, Demba Njai, Sulaiman Sesay, Santigie Jawarar, Amadu Kamara, Yeabu Kamara, Kaliatu Njai and one year old child Sow Musa Sankoh.

Chief Inspector Sahr Ansumana JABA, Sierra Leone Police Force.

Following a report made at Motema Police Station late on the evening of Monday, 7th September 1970, about the wrecking of a launch in the Sewa River near Dogboy in Jaiama Sewafe Chiefdom, Kono District, Chief Inspector S. A. Jaba was detailed by the Chief Police Officer to proceed to the scene to render whatever help could be given.

Jaba returned late in the night and reported that the lives of all the people, two women, one of whom was pregnant, a one year old child and seven men were in very grave danger since all efforts made to reach them were unsuccessful as the launch was wrecked and partly perched on a small rock about 50 yards from the nearest land with swiftly flowing water foaming around. The 10 people had to spend the whole night in the launch and in danger of being swept off at any time.

Very early the next day, 8th September, the Chief Police Officer, Kono, Eastern Province, requested the help of the Sierra Leone Selection Trust who quickly put one of their helicopters at the disposal of the Police. The Chief Police Officer and Chief Inspector Jaba were conveyed to the scene in the helicopter piloted by Capt. Connolly. A reconnaissance of the scene with the helicopter indicated more forcefully how grave the plight of the stranded people was.

The pilot then landed the helicopter at Dogboy. The Chief Police Officer, Chief Inspector Jaba and the pilot then had to walk through about 2 miles of thick jungle to reach the nearest place to the wrecked launch where by this time hundreds of people had assembled vainly trying to pass a rope to the people on the rock. The observations made here clearly confirmed beyond any doubt whatsoever that it was absolutely impossible to rescue the people from land as no one could approach the wrecked launch now perched precariously on rocks amidst the swiftly flowing river.

It was therefore decided that the only hope of rescuing the stranded people was to take a calculated risk with the small helicopter. With the Chief Police Officer remaining at the scene with the people who were trying to assist with the rescue, the pilot and Chief Inspector Jaba had to walk through the jungle swamp to Dogboy where a piece of strong rope was obtained. Chief Inspector Jaba was then conveyed to the scene again in the helicopter piloted by Capt. Connolly. With one end of the rope tied tightly around Jaba's waist, the other end with a loop was lowered down to the launch whilst the small helicopter was delicately manoeuvred into position hovering about 15 feet above the launch. With complete disregard for his own personal safety, Chief Inspector Jaba partly leaned out of the helicopter and, by signs demonstrated to the stranded people how they should put the loop around their chest one at a time. This was done and Jaba slowly and deliberately raised the pregnant women up to the side of the helicopter and finally heaved her on board on to the middle vacant seat amidst great shouts of applause from hundreds of people who were watching the dramatic rescue operation. The first woman was then conveyed to Dogboy where she was landed. The same process was repeated seven times for the rest of the stranded people. The one year old child was raised up strapped to the back of its mother.

Unfortunately one man was swept away a short while before the helicopter started the rescue operation.

All through this operation Chief Inspector Jaba showed extreme courage and cool-headedness. One false move by him whilst the helicopter was hovering over the launch and the helicopter would have crashed into the river resulting in everyone perishing.

Chief Inspector Jaba displayed gallantry of the highest order without which all the people would definitely have perished in the river.

CENTRAL CHANCERY OF THE ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

St. James's Palace, London S.W.1.

20th April 1971.

The QUEEN has been graciously pleased, on the advice of Her Majesty's Sierra Leone Ministers, to approve the award of the George Medal to the undermentioned:

(To be dated 3rd April 1971)

Sergeant Joseph SAMUELS, Sierra Leone Police Force.

On 22nd July 1970 at about 4.15 p.m. No. 374 Sergeant Samuels, Post Commander, Mano Police Post, Southern Province, had arrested a highway robber named Roy Benson alias Rogers, a Liberian of Bassa Tribe, for the theft of various articles valued at £211 from the house of Miss Jeane Shoemaker, a member of the U.S. Peace Corps.

Benson (alias Rogers) was being searched by the Post Commander (Samuels) when ex-Major M. M. Koroma arrived and interrupted with a report of a road accident in which he was involved along the Taiama/Freetown Road. Whilst ex-Major Koroma was being attended to, a Volkswagen car with false identification number EM 8265 drew up and parked about 100 yards opposite the Post facing Taiama direction. Two armed men alighted, one a Mulatto and the other, a short bulky black complexioned fellow with bushy hair and beard, who was believed to be James Conteh alias Jessie James, the leader of the highway robbers in this country. They entered the Police Post. The short statured bandit asked everybody out of the Post and then fired a pistol on the Charge Office wall.

The incident frightened the on-lookers in the Post who went to see Roy Benson and they ran out together with some Police personnel around. Sergeant Samuels was left alone. James Conteh then ordered the release of Benson. When Sergeant Samuels attempted to arrest him, he pointed the pistol at Samuels' forehead and fired. Samuels quickly ducked but the shot caught him at the back of his neck. Nonetheless he grappled with his assailants but one of them, Roy Benson, eventually ran out followed by the others and they jumped into the waiting car. Samuels made one more desperate chase with a view to arresting the bandits only to fall unconscious to the ground as a result of the gun shot wound he had sustained. One Abu Kamara a motor apprentice and friend of the Police at Mano together with the Station Master, Mr. Simbo, rushed at the windscreen of the car and grabbed one of the bandits; another bandit fired a shot at Kamara's thigh and they drove off leaving a pistol behind.

Sergeant Samuels and Abu Kamara were sent to Bo Government Hospital, where Samuels was admitted after an emergency operation and a bullet extracted from underneath the flesh near his esophagus. Abu Kamara was treated and discharged.

On 25th July 1970, at about 6 p.m., Saffa Samuels son of Sergeant Samuels was in Bo, when he saw suspect Roy Benson alighting from a taxi at Bo Clock Tower roundabout. He identified him and alerted by-standers who arrested him. The suspect admitted the theft and being rescued by his colleagues from Police at Mano on 22nd July 1970.

Sergeant Samuels at great risk to his life displayed conspicuous gallantry deserving of noteworthy recognition.
